POLK COUNTY STARTS MOVEMENT FOR ROADS

Meeting To Be Held In Dallas Soon To Arrange For Bond Issue.

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Dallas, Or., April 3.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Polk county commissioners court held in Dallas, Wednesday, a committee of prominent farmers from various parts of the county and especially the northwestern district, appeared before that body and petitioned the court for help in road matters. The sentiment in this county at present is for hard surface roads and the petitioners were emphatic in their demands for this kind of a highway. The county court told the committee that they "are without funds at the present time to build any roads of the kind specified, but that if the people of the county as a whole petitioned the court for a special election for the purpose of voting bonds the court would stand behind the movement." Later in the evening a meeting was held at the Commercial club rooms, the farmers meeting with the club and it was decided to have a big mass meeting in Dallas within the near future and at that time decide on the amount of the bonds to be voted on and the persons of roads to be improved with the money so voted. Polk county's limited indebtedness according to law is something like $200,000 and it was the opinion of those present at the meeting that the limit on bonds for road building.

Dallas Has New Grocery. Dallas, Or., April 3.—The Farmers' Grocery is the name of a new business establishment which opened its doors on Main street in this city this morning in the building formerly occupied by the Dallas Grocery company. The new establishment is under the management of P. H. Berg, a former school teacher in the Salt Creek school district. Dallas now has six grocery stores and it is rumored that another store is to be established in the near future.

New Rural Route Asked. Dallas, Or., April 3.—A petition is being circulated by farmers living adjacent to this city who are compelled to get their mail through the Ricksdale postoffice asking the postoffice department to establish a new rural mail route out of Dallas. Every farmer living east of the city who are at present served through Ricksdale are anxious for the change and a number of others living just south of town want the route established as it would give them service also. Several patrons of the Ricksdale office live but a mile east of this city and in order for mail to reach them it has to go a considerable way, which takes all the way from two to three days to reach them. It is stated that the department is willing to establish a new route if a few improvements in roads are made and this has been promised by the county court.

Mrs. L. D. Brown and little daughter have returned from an extended visit with relatives at Baker. Miss Maude Robertson returned the first of the week from a short visit with her sister, Mrs. George Gohrke at Ashland. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thellson of Ricksdale were Dallas business visitors Wednesday. W. Y. Morrison of Portland was a Dallas business visitor this week. Mr. Morrison was formerly proprietor of the Dallas Iron Works. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Talbot of Hoskins are in the city for a short visit with relatives and friends. Hollis Smith and Wilbur Hamilton were Smith visitors the first of the week. Mrs. F. J. Craven was a guest at the home of her parents in Sheridan Wednesday afternoon.
