Charles E. Green has taken over the territory of the International Correspondence school, succeeding Benjamin H. Perkins. The territory to be handled by Mr. Green will extend from Albany to Oregon City and from Mill City to Newport, with Salem as headquarters. Announcement of this change was made today by S. P. Snyder, superintendent of Portland. Mr. Green is from Portland and was formerly northwest traveling salesman for the Armour Soap works and is well known in this territory.

Attorney W. C. Winslow, who is one of the hustlers after century subscriptions in the Methodist church, reports today that he has thus far secured 12 $1000 subscriptions, and he is on the trail of others.

President Doney of Willamette has just received a letter from Dr. Akin of Portland, reporting that Prof. Egge had passed through his second operation for cancer of the bowels, and was making a very good showing considering the very serious nature of the operation that it will be several weeks before the patient will be able to get about again. He believes there will be no recurrence of the trouble. In this connection it might be stated that when the matter of the fee was broached, the surgeon declined to accept any remuneration for the operation proper, under the ordinary schedule of charges for operations of this character, this case would have called for a charge of about $500. It should also be noted that as a token of the esteem in which he is held in the university, the faculty and student body recently made up a purse of about $240 to assist Prof. Egge in this crisis.

Tomorrow evening the Elks lodge has considerable business on hand and it will be the first meeting in which Charles R. Archer will officially serve during the whole evening as called ruler. About 20 members are to be initiated and after this important business there will be a Johnny Jones.

Pupils and high school students who hope to compete in writing a good liberty loan story are advised that the subject on which they are to write is "Victory—What Price?" It is suggested that the pupils might write on the sentimental side as well as the business view of the situation. Children in the first and second grades are barred out. Those in the third and fourth grades are limited to 200 words. Those in the fifth and sixth grades to 400 words and those of the seventh and eighth and even higher grades must confine their writing to 1000 words or less. Each teacher selects the best essay, then the principal of the school selects the best and then the county superintendent is to pick out two of the best in the county. These are forwarded to the state committee. To the pupil who writes the best essay in the state will be given a German helmet. The next best ten will each be given a silver pin. Essays must be written and handed to the teacher by April 21.

Thursday is award day at Willamette university. Besides giving the several awards there will be a program for the evening to include an address by A. F. Piegel of Portland, a trustee of the university and the presentation of the awards by President Carl Gregg Doney. The three awards of sweaters for basketball players will be to Paul Wapato, Walla Walla, Legle Sparks of Bendon, Or., and Bryan McKittick of Walla Walla. The tennis sweater award will be to Miss Hortense Harold. Certificates will be given to the following base ball players who have won their baseball letters: Harold Dimick, Henry Spies, John Meuler, Lawrence Davies, Bryan McKittick, Paul Wapato, Robert Storey, Gordon Hickman, Wallace Adams and Oscar Olson. Wallace Adams will also be awarded a blanket for his four years of service in the base ball team.

As delegates to attend the grand court, to be held in Portland in August, the Foresters have elected Leo Abbe and Emil Donaldson.

Suggestions continue to come to the Commercial club for a proper name to be used in advertising the Willamette valley prunes. The latest are: Primo Favorites, Superlative and Valley Dew Drops.

The Oregon branch of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society will be held at Dulles May 7-8, at the Evangelical church. This will be the 16th annual convention. Mrs. G. N. Thompson of this city is president and field secretary and Mrs. S. S. Mumby of North 14th street is treasurer.

Those who have not voted for two years but would like to express an opinion on the seven important questions to come before Oregon voters June 3, should take the trouble to register. The final day for registering for this special election is Saturday May 3. The last legislature passed a law requiring registration 30 days before a special election. It is a fact that a great number of people who are entitled to have something to say as to affairs and how the state's money is spent, have not voted for two years.
