C. OF C. EXHIBITS NEW LIFE IN "PEPPY" MEET

Hundred Members Hear Topics Of Vital Interest Discussed Last Night.

Like the county recorder's office and the real estate men, the Commercial club has taken on a new life. The monthly meeting last evening was so full of ginger and pep and so many practical matters were discussed that the old timers with the perpetual grinch about the club, had he been present, would have found himself in the wrong meeting house.

With more than 100 representative business and professional men present, the session started out with the announcement by Robert C. Paulus, president of the club, that speeches would be limited to five minutes each. After this information, members began to show a keen interest in affairs and appeared more cheerful and hopeful.

W. M. Hamilton said the city was interested in bigger payrolls and that he was surprised to find any opposition among members of the city council to vacating the foot of Trade street to bring a $500,000 enterprise to the city.

Hamilton For Mill.
As to the claim that Minto island would be shut off if the street was given to the paper mill, Mr. Hamilton said that he had investigated and found that Mission street could be used just as well or even Bellevue, which had been used until two years ago. The farming lands that came from the island were now using Mission street.

As to the foot of Court street which will be given to the city in exchange for foot of Trade street, Mr. Hamilton said that during the ferry and bridge troubles of a few years ago, the city had recommended the foot of Court for a ferry. As to the current in the river at this point, and the dock washing away once upon a time, he said that was year ago and since then the current of the river has shifted to the Polk county side. Hence all this claim that Minto island would be made valueless, was without any truth whatever.

Edward Schunke, councilman from the fifth ward said: "You may rest assured that the council is for the paper mill. There is absolutely no need of alarm. This matter will go through the council all right when the time comes. It cannot be acted on for 30 days. The council has already voted in favor of giving what the paper mill wanted. There has been a lot of loud talk about the council not favoring the mill, but this is newspaper talk mostly. When two or three men make loud talks, it generally gets into the newspapers when nothing is said about the real work or intentions of the council. The majority of the council is in favor of the paper mill."

To Entertain I. O. O. F.
In the matter of the Strahorn railway projects for developing central Oregon, the club went on record as favoring such work. It was explained that the state Chamber of Commerce wanted an expression of opinion. Frederick Schmidt said the development of central Oregon was of local interest as the mineral deposits included soda ash which was needed for the manufacture of glass bottles. Good suitable for making glass could be found on the coast and with the proper minerals, there was a possibility of a glass factory being established in Salem.

Ben F. West brought up the proposition of entertaining the two or three thousand delegates to the grand lodge meeting of Odd Fellows to be held in Salem the third week in May. He asked that members of the Commercial club provide 200 automobiles for part of one afternoon to take the delegates out into the country and around the coast. The publicity and convention department of the club will handle the proposition.

In the discussion of giving the foot of Trade street to the paper mill, Gideon Stolz said this part of the street had not been used for hauling gravel for 15 years and that when the city did try it once the cost of gravel was $1 a cubic yard and would be $1.50 now. He thought there could be no damage to Minto island in giving this unused portion of Trade street to bring the mill here.

Kay Advocates Road Bonds.
T. B. Kay said that he was not very partial to road bonds. In 1918 he and generally been opposed to them. But now was the time for Marion county to get in and move along with the proposition. He said that the new roads proposed included seven or eight out of Salem for a distance of from three to 12 miles and this would all help in developing the city, making it a center for fruit interests. "With good roads, other institutions will follow," declared Mr. Kay. "We are on the verge of great prosperity and now is the logical time to build roads if we are to have a live community."

President Paulus remarked after Mr. Kay spoke: "We've got plenty of brains in town to do things if we will only do them."
As delegates to the state chamber of commerce meeting to be held in Portland, Mr. Paulus appointed T. B. Kay, W. S. Walton, Chas. K. Spaulding, Frederick Schmidt and Charles Vick. Alternates, Theodore Roth, W. G. Allen, I. Greenbaum, C. R. Archerd and W. M. Hamilton.

Instead of making a drive for memberships, Manager F. E. McCrosskey announced that a committee would be appointed each month to bring in new members. For the coming month President Paulus appointed J. P. Hutchinson, chairman; Theodore Roth, J. Baumgartner, W. M. Hamilton, E. C. Quins, G. H. Neimeyer, Gay Smith, Fred Thielsen, Ben F. West, E. Cooke Patton and Walter E. Keyes.

After the business session there was dancing by Myrtle Shipp, Roberta Hansen and Lovetta Varley for which a vote of thanks was tendered these ladies. The session closed with a luncheon and general heart to heart talks.

The cable follows:
"Your considerate cablegram in relation to the proposed land legislation in the state of California and in regard to the landing of so-called 'picture brides' has been received. I wish to express to you on behalf of the president and myself our appreciation for your informing us of the bills which will be introduced in the state senate. In view of the present situation in international affairs here in Paris it would be particularly unfortunate to have these bills introduced or passed at the present time. There are other problems which would make such action very embarrassing. I sincerely hope that you will inform the senate of the contents of this cablegram and the earnest plea on the part of the president that no legislation such as that proposed will be introduced or considered at this time. Expressing my thanks to you for this opportunity to consider the advisability of legislation affecting our foreign relations, I am, with respect, yours very truly,

Big Questions Settled.
Four important questions—Finne, the Saar valley reparation and responsibility which have contributed largely to the delay in arranging a peace settlement, have thus been virtually disposed of. Many observers are disposed to attach considerable significance to the fact that this sudden increase of speed developed immediately after the president summoned the George Washington to Brest, giving the impression that he was prepared to leave Paris at once unless the conference submerged their individual claims in favor of world interests.

The president and Mrs. Wilson called on Queen Marie of Rumania at the Ritz hotel at 9:40 o'clock this morning, remaining a quarter of an hour.

In Olcott Versus Hoff Attorney General Files Brief

In connection with the friendly suit of Olcott vs Hoff, Attorney General Brown filed a brief with the supreme court just prior to the argument this morning.

"The governor of the state of Oregon has requested this court to define his powers and duties, and states that the welfare of the state demands that each of the three chief officers, namely governor, secretary of state and state treasurer, be filled. He asserts that the public welfare can be better served with three members on each of the important boards of the state," says the brief.

"He has asserted that he wishes to resign as secretary of state and appoint his successor unless, by so doing he automatically resigns as governor. "I have gathered together a few of the leading cases supporting the advice that I have heretofore given the governor, that in a proper proceeding this court can define his powers and duties as governor."

"That it is the duty of this court to settle this question definitely, I am submitting some cases from the leading courts of this country, including the supreme court of the United States."

In a large number of leading cases cited he points out where the courts have universally held that when matters of great governmental policy are involved that the courts may properly decide all questions which are so involved even though it be not absolutely essential to the result that all shall be decided.

Johnson Says Yankees In Russia Freezing Because Council Keeps Them There

Washington, April 10.—American troops are freezing to death in Russia because the allied council, "the existing league of nations," decries their presence there, Senator Johnson, California, said today.

"This league governed by the allied council decried the Russian adventure. The United States objected and for six months resisted," said Johnson, in a statement issued today.

"The United States was outvoted and finally its opposition was broken down and the decree of foreign nations against the wishes of those in command of our government was carried out.

"American boys were sent to North Russia under British command and American soldiers went to Siberia under Japanese command. American boys are fight in north Russia under British command against overwhelming odds and to the agonized appeal of their fathers and mothers and wives the master of the government is the matter is in control of the allied council—the existing league of nations."

YANKES IN RUSSIA REBEL

word received at the capitol today. The airplanes, if procured, would be used only during the summer months and would serve the purpose of giving notice in case of forest fires.

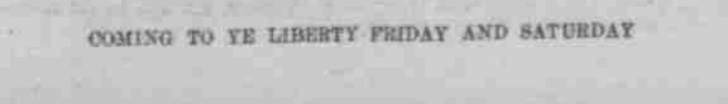

It is understood that tentative landing sites for the planes are now under consideration in the event that the war department grants the forester's request. The district forester would not national forests in Oregon, according to attempt to secure landing space in the mountain regions, but would have the planes start upon their scout duty in the mountain ranges from the nearest possible locality where the planes could be landed and started. According to state forestry officials, an airplane patrol of the forests during the summer months would be far more satisfactory and safer than any yet devised. They point to the fact that the airplanes of the allies saved thousands of lives during the recent war and if they can be procured for this new purpose they would be the means of saving thousands of dollars of valuable timber in the forests of this and other states.

Among the visitors at the governor's office today were W. E. Schimpf and Mr. Setter of Astoria, Joe Hinkle and Mr. Spinner of Hermiston. The two latter were here in conference with the irrigation securities commission with regard to the Teel irrigation project near Echo. Mr. Hinkle is attorney for the district.
