O H aye! was the wandering pleasure... In that land from whence you came...

O, I loved the ancient highways... And the simple kindly folk...

And, say, were the white nights whiter... The days more filled with gold...

O, 'twas passing fair of an evening... In the gardens of old chateaux...

The Indian pantomime work of Mrs. Oscar Gingrich is becoming more and more a popular favorite at social and club gatherings...

with yellow and white daffodils and narcissi. An exceedingly delightful time was had by those present...

An event of interest in the social calendar of the past week was the delightful dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glover and Mr. and Mrs. John Brophy entertained a coterie of friends last Monday night...

skin with a wide ash of woven bead work. Her accompanist, Miss Ruth Bedford, wore an Indian gown of khaki and leather...

Additional guests of the club were Miss Harriett La Rue, Mrs. Lynn Purvine and Mrs. Milo Mathews.

Mrs. W. S. Thompson was charming hostess at a line party at Ye Liberty theater Tuesday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Miss Aline Thompson...

The woman's building fund committee of the State Federation of Women's clubs has seized the psychological moment in the short lull between war drives and the renewal of an anti-bellum quietude in which to speed to a finish the campaign for the remaining $45,000 for the woman's building...

Mrs. O. A. Olson and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Perry were hosts for the delightful affair, which was in the form of a "middy and shirt waist" party.

A yellow decorative note was achieved in the adornments of the rooms. Yellow shades subdued the lights and a perfect galaxy of Scotch broom transformed the place into an elfin bower.

Members of the club present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. George Elgin, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. W. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Imman, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Barnes are entertaining at their guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Maxwell of Kansas. Mr. Maxwell, who is engaged in the wheat industry in his native state, is an old schoolmate of Mr. Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Barnes were hosts at a delightful dinner party in their honor having as additional guests

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baker of Portland. Sunday they will motor to Portland and entertain Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Baker on a trip on the Columbia highway.

Children's hour at the public library gains in popularity at every meeting. This morning, Miss Flora Case, city librarian, delighted the little ones with the two happy fairy tales entitled, "The Selfish Giant," and "The Green Dwarf."

Mrs. Harry Wenderoth, who has been planning a trip to San Antonio, Texas, in the near future, has been obliged to postpone it indefinitely because of the recent accident that befell her little son.

Capital Assembly No. 84 United Artisans, met for a social gathering at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening. After a short business session a lovely musical program was presented consisting of:

Violin duet—Robert Ramsden and Walter Fleming, pupils of Miss Joy Turner. Vocal solo—Mable Brassfield. Piano solo—Helen Ramsden.

Dancing and games filled the remainder of the evening. The committee for the affair consisted of Mrs. Bernardi, Mrs. Reader and Mrs. Day.

State, county and local unions of the W. C. T. U. are engrossed with preparations for the big "Million Dollar and Million Member" drive instituted by the national union as their jubilee celebration for the triumph of national prohibition.

The money for which the unions are now preparing will not be undertaken until after the victory loan campaign is over, but many preparatory meetings and functions will be necessary to launch the drive successfully.

At a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting held in Portland last Wednesday Mrs. Gilbert, Multnomah county president, stated that because of the numerous army posts in Washington and the proximity of Vancouver barracks to Portland, the Washington W. C. T. U. had asked Portland to take over the hospital work there, and that a part of Oregon's share of the money raised would be spent for that purpose.

Mrs. Patterson was appointed flower mission superintendent and Mrs. Taylor "key woman" for the drive. "Lessons from the war," a patriotic song written and composed by Mr. and Mrs. Allen of the Oregon Conservatory of Music, was sung by Mrs. Barzee.

Mrs. L. W. Pantell, in a carefully prepared paper, gave her thought as to the most valuable lessons the war had taught us. Miss Burns, in a few well chosen words, put emphasis on the lesson that "in union there is strength."

The legislative superintendent, Mrs. Newell, offered the following resolution which is to be sent to congress when endorsed by a sufficient number of prominent women's organizations: "Whereas, the effort to Americanize the foreign born residents of our country had received great impetus as a result of war conditions, and

"Whereas, any American born woman who marries a foreigner, whether a declared or not immediately and automatically loses her citizenship, and

"Whereas, it seems incredible that we should continue this double process of naturalizing foreigners on the one hand and denaturalizing native born citizens on the other.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we ask congress to enact such legislation as will insure to every native born woman her birthright as an American citizen regardless of the political status of her husband.

This resolution was unanimously adopted. Mrs. Armin Steiner and son, Karl, are spending a brief visit in Woodburn as the guests of Mrs. E. G. Emmett. GROWING SORGHUM Albert Stone, one of our progressive farmers of the Union district east of this city, has a new one. Last year he planted some sorghum seed and the crop matured well.

to extract the juice from the cane if enough farmers can be induced to grow it. Though only in an experimental stage it looks like a very good proposition if it can be raised successfully here. Mr. Stone wants other farmers to try it and see if it can be made a success.—Woodburn Independent.

SURPRISE AT TOLNER Mrs. F. A. Wood was guest at a surprise party Sunday, the occasion being her 43rd birthday. A scrumptious dinner was served and a delightful afternoon was spent.

These ladies were: Edna Cora Sevastianoff, Mrs. Robinson and son, Mrs. M. and Mrs. Brand, Fred and Willie Ireland, Mrs. Mrs. Mrs. Howes all of Astoria, Mrs. Mrs. Miles an elderly, Mrs. Mrs. Frederick, J. W. Wood, Carl Wood Mrs. Ireland, F. A. Wood and wife, Everett and Emery Wood.—Tribune.

CLUB MEETS AT SHAW The Goleta club of Shaw met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. William Howd, quite a number of members were present, also guests. After a social hour, a miscellaneous program was given by the ladies, followed by a dainty luncheon served by the hostess. This organization has been well attended for over five years; no lack of interest in evidence at any time, the next meeting will be April 21st, Thursday, with Mrs. Chamberlain.

Miss Helen Phillips, as a feature of her gymnasium class which has met regularly thru the winter at the high school gymnasium. The club consists of all instructors of physical training in the city schools and all teachers who wish to join them. Thus far the club has had three picnics and has arranged a schedule for the remainder of the school year, which includes several week end trips of special interest, among them being a trip to Lanch Mountain and one to Silver Creek Falls.

Those who have enjoyed the hikes so far are Misses Helen Phillips, Margaret Casper, Anna Fischer, Mona Green, Marion Richmond, Merle Nimmo, Lucile Watson, Laura Chute, Orpha bell Etta White, Adona Cochrane, Mable Temple, Christabel Jewett, Evelyn Brown, Oyle Brown, Ploy Norton, Dollie Smith, Lucie Murray, Margaret Power Vera Perkins, Irene Ringheim, Confred Hurd, Fredrika Kopf, Grace Lick, Lua Smith, George Ellis, Mildred Cox and Florion Linklater.

The meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps aid society Thursday afternoon was one of the most elaborate affairs of the week. Mrs. E. W. Cook entertained the members at her home on South Winter street. The assistant hostesses being Mrs. P. E. Ackerman, Mrs. J. J. Ackerman, Mrs. W. G. Ackerman, Mrs. J. T. Adams, Mrs. L. W. Acheson and Mrs. E. T. Adair. The hall and reception room were decorated with art baskets filled with wild lamb tongues and red currant blossoms for which an array of graceful ferns formed an artistic background. The ladies worked diligently for the Red Cross, the pleasant hours being interspersed with music and song. A special feature of the afternoon's entertainment was the reading of an original war poem by Harold L. Cook.

During the refreshment hour the hostess was further assisted by her three daughters. The guests were seated around a table, beautifully centered with a miniature lake on which tiny ducklings floated, giving a proper suggestion of Easter-tide, and which was gayly berdered with Japanese quince blossoms and greenery. The lights were subdued with red, white and blue shades, and were prettily decked with spring blossoms.

About fifty members enjoyed the hospitality of the charming hostess. Friends of Mrs. Herbert Nunn will be delighted to hear that she has been discharged from the hospital and is on her way home from her recent illness at home.

The Chautauque Reading circle met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. B. Goodin. The regular order of business was covered and an enjoyable and profitable time had by all.

Monday evening Miss Lulu Heist entertained the Standard Bearers of the church at her home on North Commercial street. An invitation was issued to all girls over fourteen years of age and a merry time was experienced by all who attended. Tuesday evening the department of public speaking of Willamette university, under the direction of Professor Della Crowder Miller presented Horace Bushkoff in a dramatic recital at Walter hall. He was assisted by Miss Myrtle Mason and Miss Winifred Ayre. Members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society were the guests of Mrs. M. G. Findley Wednesday afternoon at her home, 225 North 20th street. Devotions were led by Mrs. H. D. Smith and the lesson entitled, "Isabella Thoburn," was given by Mrs. A. A. Underhill. Friday morning the annual W. P. M. S. district meeting began. Miss Louise Godfrey of India and Miss Ary J. Holland of Malaysia were present and addressed the assembly Friday evening. The social side of the celebration came to a close this afternoon when Mrs. Lee entertained the senior King's Heav'nly girls at a delightful Easter party. Corinne "Riely" Barker, popular screen and stage star, has returned to Salem for a brief visit with friends

EASTER and Its HATS are of paramount interest right now—for the Easter parade is made or marred by its "Easter bonnets." We have never before featured such variety in styles, colors and models.
