TELEPHONE COMPANY

The majority of telephone business is not desirable," said Phillips. In Seattle, Bellingham, Tacoma and Los Angeles the independent plants all failed and it would be a mistake to put one in Salem.
In the discussion it developed that in Salem there are 2795 telephones, and including those into the country, the plant here serves 3784 customers.
Thinks Patrons Will Stick.
Alderman Wiest asked Mr. Phillips what his company would do, if the public service commission refused to allow the increase asked for and whether under such circumstances, the company would sell. Mr. Phillips said he did not know what would be done as the telephones were now all under government control. As to whether people would order out their telephones if there was an increase in rates, Mr. Phillips claims that not even one per cent of the subscribers would quit. They might kick in advance, but when the raise comes, there would be no ordering out of phones. Experience, he said, had taught the company this.

The telephone committee of the council is after more information as to municipal telephones and at the meeting next Monday night, it will ask for an appropriation to carry on a correspondence with independent companies and to get general information as to the figures presented by Mr. Buehler. It was thought that the June 3 special election was too early a date to submit the question of issuing bonds for a municipal telephone, especially as so many bonding propositions are to be found on the ballot.
As the matter stands, the municipal telephone proposition is not dead, but the committee is after information. Later, if things look all right and the council favors bonding the city for $200,000, a special election will be called to allow the voters to express their opinion.

WHETHER the author was of the wisest or of the wisest epigram "There is nothing new under the sun" (must have been a mathematician—sounds like one) one thing is certain: his knowledge of women was pathetically limited. Else he never would have uttered such a far reaching statement. We have heard of, and read about dancing since our bible-story days when we listened with open mouths to the story of the Exodus and the account of Miriam's dance before the Ark. Later on there was Salome and her much censured "seven veils" performance; later still, when we graduated from bible stories to Greek and Roman mythology, there were tales of the nymphs and fauns, and the pretty dancing girls in the public markets of the old pagan cities. There are histories of course, that would tell one of the gradual development of the "light fantastic" but histories as a rule, are dry reading, so very few persons know how a mad saturnal finally summed down to a demure stiltion or demerol polka. Grandmother, perhaps, can tell you of the old square dances and sedate "Baltimore" great grandmother, if you have one, can tell you the pleasures of the graceful minuet, shaking her head the while, over the modern one-step and fox trot. But what will grandmother say when she hears of the latest fad of the "smart sets" in the east. They call it the "Morning dance." It begins just before midnight and continues all through the wee hours, until dawn. Breakfast follows, a hearty infernal affair of ham and eggs or sausage and waffles, winding up the festivities in true "smart set" style. Needless to say the "morning dance" is meeting with unrivalled favor, the younger set declaring that it is "the best sport ever."

It may interest or amuse the club women of Salem to know that the federation of women's clubs in Salt Lake city has become aroused at the fact that butter in that city is 75c a pound and have started a drastic boycott of the article. The women of Portland, if we remember rightly, started a boycott on eggs once, and remember what happened!

The Daughters of the American Revolution in Marshfield have started a campaign for the erection of a monument for the men of Coos county who have served in the great war.

At a meeting of the entertainment committee of the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Joseph's church last evening, plans were furthered for the dance to be given after Easter. During the Lenten season, with the exception of the St. Patrick's day program, there have been no social events of any nature in the parish and the young ladies are planning to put on a dance and "500" party that will usher the Easter season in with appropriate honors. The exact date for the event has not been set but it is scheduled to take place during Easter week or the one immediately following.

The following communication from Washington, D. C., throws some light on the progress of the national congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, in which so many Salem women are keenly interested.

"Backed by a solid delegation from Oregon and the Oregon state conference Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson of Salem arrived Saturday to start her campaign for vice president general of the national society Daughters of the American Revolution, holding its annual congress in Washington from April 14 to 19. Mrs. Patterson, wife of State Senator Isaac Lee Patterson, is honorary state regent of the Oregon society D. A. R. and is well known in the national organization, having served for a number of years on various important committees. Oregon will be represented also by Mrs. Walter P. Burwell, state vice regent, Mrs. Ellen D. Baldwin, representing Quinsett chapter of The Dales and Mrs. Esther Alan Jones of Portland.

"Because a vice president general is ex-officio a member of the governing council of the national society and so has the task of attending the frequent meetings of the council, eastern members feel that all these officers should be from states convenient to Washington, D. C., where the meetings are held. The Oregon delegates, however, are advancing the argument that the far west is entitled to one of the big positions and are already encouraged by the friendly attitude of some of the influential officials of the national society and support promised from the District of Columbia, and Massachusetts delegations, two of the big determining factors in the result of any D. A. R. election. From present indications there will be plenty of politics at the coming congress, more than for several years.

"Oregon also has the unique coincidence of having a mother and son representing the state at the meetings of the great patriotic societies this year. Edwin D. Baldwin secretary to Representative Sinnott, son of Mrs. Baldwin who represents Quinsett chapter D. A. R. of The Dales, has been selected as a delegate to represent Oregon society, Sons of the American Revolution, at its annual congress to be held in Detroit on May 19."

Sergeant Best Pratt of Camp Lewis was a recent visitor at the U. H. Wiedmer residence on Cottage street. Sergeant Pratt was en route to Camp Lewis from the east where he had been sent on official business and where, incidentally, he secured a pass to visit his mother in Virginia.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Brush This Through Faded, Streaked Locks And They Become Dark, Glossy, Youthful.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.
