Book Agents With Hard Luck Stories And Pretty Volumes Appear Here

Right here in Salem, book agents are sprouting up like young onions. Within the past week or so, the agent has been abroad in the land and soliciting from house to house and working on the sympathies of the good housekeeper.

Just a few days ago there appeared in Salem one with an air of piety and an orphan to be provided for. The orphan was to be given an encyclopaedia and all that was necessary was for a person prominent in educational circles of the state to sign a nice little endorsement of the work. Also to accept a set free, but to pay for about $35 worth of inserts as they might be issued from time to time.

Other agents have been working Salem, selling a set of books on Bible stories, five volumes, for the small sum of $29.75, or thereabouts, according to the prospective customer. Sometimes these agents have recommendations from church people who are really but little informed on the actual value of the set. In such expensive sets the actual value is possibly one-fourth of that asked. But it sometimes happens that a desire to please a child and the church recommendations overcome financial considerations and the sale is made with the good housekeeper paying a nice monthly installment for several months.

Recently an encyclopaedia was sold in Oregon for $38.50, mostly attractive binding, for which the publishers price was only $9 the set.

One interested in books and education and also interested in having people spend their money judiciously for good books, put the situation this way: The problem is, why will a woman economize, even to the extent of using a rag to stop a hole in a wash boiler because she doesn't care to spend 25 cents to have it soldered, and yet will sign up for a $35 set of books she really doesn't want?

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Sale, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion

So called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach ache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisaturated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as bisaturated magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisaturated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.

Estate Of Mrs. Hearst Is Estimated Between Five And Ten Million Dollars

San Francisco, April 18.—The estate of the late Mrs. Phoebe Hearst is today estimated at from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, following the filing of the will for probate. Value of vast realty holdings causes the variance in estimates.

William Randolph Hearst inherits the greater part of the estate, the will naming him residuary legatee. Bequests of from $25,000 to $250,000 are made to the brother, cousins and nieces of Mrs. Hearst. The University of California receives $60,000 to maintain Mrs. Hearst's scholarship fund and her art collection, and the five sons of William Randolph Hearst are bequeathed the Hearst building here and other realty. Servants and friends receive bequests of from $1000 to $5,000.

A net advance of 50 per cent in assessed valuations of Doernbecher county property will be in effect when the 1919 appraisal is completed. This will make a total valuation of approximately $4,800,000.

BANKS TO SELL

next week, there will still continue an advertising campaign to acquaint the people in general with the value of the bonds of this fifth loan. Although the banks have taken over the Salem quota, it is felt there will be a liberal subscription from those who had already made up their minds to invest, as the long term in which to pay on the subscription makes the investment especially desirable.

Of the victory liberty loan, the situation in Salem is briefly as follows: There will be no campaign or solicitations. No one will be asked to subscribe for the fifth liberty loan. Those who want them as a desirable investment and those who want them from patriotic motives, will find the bonds at any of the city banks. Payments on the subscription extend from the day the subscription is taken out with a first payment of 10 per cent, until the final payment of 20 per cent on November 11. You may buy a $50 bond, or a $100 one or a $500 bond. After $500, the issues are in $1000 bonds or multiples of 1000.

Food Prices Drop Slowly Government Figures Show

Washington, April 18.—(United Press).—Food prices are dropping, but very slowly, department of labor figures show today. Retail prices of twenty-two articles of food in March decreased two per cent as compared with February. March, 1919, compared with March, 1918, however, shows an increase of 14 per cent in the total cost of these twenty-two articles.

Why Dentistry is Costly

"A Small Shingle"

Chapter II.

Why is dentistry so costly in this country? Because dentists are unbusiness-like. We are brought up on strange notions as to the proper way to conduct our business.

We are told at colleges, it is unprofessional to put up a large sign-board outside our office. We shouldn't advertise our goods and services the way merchants do.

So, dentists hang a "small shingle" few people can see.

Why shouldn't dentists give wide publicity to their work? A small sign-board doesn't make a dentist efficient in his art or science. But it often keeps him poor.

What's behind this prejudice against frank and open publicity? Dentists think they can lure "swell" patients by making a show of modesty.

A small sign is regarded as a mark of class distinction. It appears as the mark of exclusive service. It may flatter the vanity of some snobs among the rich.

But it insults the vast majority of people. The dentist, so to say, tells the public—"I'm not running after you. If you need me, seek me out."

No wonder his chair remains empty most of the time. There aren't enough rich people to keep all of us dentists busy. The average dentist gets patients who are not wealthy. They come in small numbers, because the dentist doesn't know how to attract them. The methods he employs to advertise his business appeal only to the few rich people.

So the average dentist has poor practice. He is obliged to charge high fees. That's one reason why dentistry is costly. I have always thought of the needs of the vast majority of our people. I have carried on a large campaign of information and education among them.

I have told them how to prevent diseases of the mouth and teeth. I have spoken to the people at large. I have served them. They made me prosperous.

A large practice enables the dentist to reduce the cost of dentistry. Under the E. R. Parker System efficient dentistry is performed at most reasonable prices.

Naval Report Discounts Tale Of German Treachery

Washington, April 18.—(United Press).—A navy report of the arrival of the former, German liner Patricia, which arrived yesterday at Boston, made no mention of the attempt by Second Officer Hans Fischer, a German, to set the vessel afire.

Fischer, one of seven Germans aboard, is insane and has been transferred to the naval hospital at Chelsea, Mass., the report stated.

STATE HOUSE NEWS

The weekly report of the industrial accident commission shows that there have been a total of 516 accidents throughout the state during the week, of which none have proved fatal—a very rare report. Of this number 477 were subject to the provisions of the compensation act, while 15 were from public utility corporations not subject to the provisions of the act.

Attorney General Brown has just handed down a decision with regard to the question as to whether the full inheritance tax should be paid on a property that had radically depreciated in value. The case in point was one in which an inherited property, appraised at $21,000 was subsequently sold for $12,000, and the inheritor expected to pay tax only on the reduced valuation.

The attorney general calls attention to the statute in Lord's Oregon Laws which provides that all inherited property must pay tax on the valuation at the death of the donor, and that such tax takes effect immediately after the death of the decedent.

Clerk of the land board, G. G. Brown, has been confronted with the questions as whether a tract of state tidelands in Tillamook county could be included in a certain drainage district. The attorney general points out the fact that the law provides only for the sale of such lands, and not for drainage or other improvements.

In addition, there is the uncommon satisfaction you get in eating the foods you've grown yourself.
