Funeral services for Mrs. Helen Power of Portland were held this morning at the Leslie M. E. church. They were conducted by the Rev. H. N. Aldrich and burial was in the Odd Fellows cemetery. Mrs. Power was the mother of Mrs. S. C. Kightlinger of this city.
President Doney of Willamette is scheduled to speak on the subject of the victory loan at a banquet meeting today at the Hotel Benson in Portland. Tomorrow morning he delivers an address at the First Methodist church in Portland in connection with the Easter exercises, and on the following Sunday he speaks in one of the churches in Seattle.

The Glee club quartet of Willamette university expects to leave Monday on its annual tour through southern Oregon. Its itinerary had not been made up completely at last reports.

sift out its best material for the events and regular work will be done in training during the next two weeks. The northwest championship meet is to be held at the O. A. C. grounds on May 23, and it is believed that the tryouts next week will bring out five men with the qualities to make a good showing on the track. There are a dozen or more husky lads in the school who have the marks of athletes.
Exalted Ruler Charles E. Archer of the Salem Elks lodge, has appointed a committee to have charge of the dancing affairs of the lodge. On this committee are J. C. Perry, J. L. Van Dorn and Lee Canfield. It is understood that the next dance will be given on ladies' night.

Ben Berringer had both legs broken and Mrs. Berringer sustained a fractured skull in an accident Thursday evening east of Molalla. The team which Mr. Berringer was driving ran away, throwing the buggy over the bank.
A series of evangelical meetings will begin next Tuesday evening at the Jason Lee Memorial church. The music will be under the leadership of Evangelist Troy of Chicago, who sang at the recent Baptist meetings. The public is invited to attend these meetings.

A luncheon attended by a large group of business and professional men was held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday, at which State Secretary Rhodes of Portland was the principal speaker. Mr. Rhodes has recently returned from the association work in France, where he had opportunity to observe the methods of the field men and hut workers, and he spoke at some length of the criticisms that had found their way into the press. He pointed out that while there were thousands of soldiers who had been benefited by the presence of the Y. M. C. A. workers and were ready to give them the hearty commendation, there were some who saw fit to express bitter criticisms of the men and methods. There were undoubtedly cases where there was cause, if not real reason for criticism, but these were magnified and distorted in passing from month to month. It was admitted that many men got into the Y. M. C. A. work who were temperamentally unfit for the work and their failure to get on with the boys was largely a matter of personality.

Mrs. Isaac L. Patterson of Polk county was elected as one of the seven vice presidents of the national society of Daughters of the American Revolution, according to dispatches from Washington, D. C. Mrs. Patterson has always taken an active part in the estate as well as national affairs of the Daughters of the American Revolution and was one of the western members that had much to do with electing national officers a few years ago.
The base ball game which was scheduled for this afternoon on the local grounds, with the Eugene high school team, was called off on account of the bad weather which has prevented regular practice. Another attempt will be made in the near future. The game which was to have been played by the Willamette university and penitentiary teams today was called off for the same reason.

The government is disposing of its artillery horses according to placards posted in the city today. The sale April 29 is on 16 artillery horses and 207 cavalry riding horses. The government sells for cash.
If any one happens to have some fine pictures of the finest roses in Salem and would like to have them shown in the West, they should be sent to J. W. Maroney, florist, at 211 Miller street. Today Mr. Maroney received the following letter from Edward M. Mills of Syracuse, N. Y.: "I am president of the largest amateur rose society in the country (the Syracuse Rose society) and first honorary vice president of the American Rose society. The federated floral clubs of New York state have requested me to conduct a campaign to establish amateur rose societies in as many communities of the state as possible. I am preparing an address on 'Some Rose gardens, Rosarians and Rose bushes of the Pacific coast.' If you have any photographs to spare that will show what Salem is doing in rose growing, I will be grateful to receive them. Also, if you have any photographs of swimming or swimmers, I could use them as I incidentally speak of the sports of the Pacific coast. I was in Salem some 11 years ago and remember what fine roses you grow there. Any help you can give me to show what Salem is doing in rose growing will be gratefully received."

FOR FREE SPEECH
Salem, Or., April 18.—(Editor Capital Journal.)—Your editorial advocating the passing of the bond issue by voters at the approaching election has been read with interest.
We trust that arming your paper on the side favoring the bonds will not close its columns against a free and fair discussion of the issues involved in presented by those holding opposite views.
We believe that you have enough red-blooded Americanism to continue to conduct The Capital Journal on that high plane of patriotism and real democracy that has characterized it in the past even though others holding different views might protest.

W. M. Hamilton, manager of the Portland Railway Light & Power company in Salem, has compiled a list of business customers in the city according to their occupations. Grocery stores head the list with 25 and second comes the garages and auto repair men, with 19 establishments in the city. Confectionery stores number 11, just one more than clothing stores. Dry goods, restaurants and drug stores all number nine each in the city. Butchers and printers run even, with seven each. There are six fruit juice companies, six barber shops and six laundries in the city. Under the list of five each come plumbers, shoe repair shops, furniture dealers, and food and flour mills. Ten occupations in the city are represented by four each. These are implement dealers, blacksmiths, harness shops, theaters, banks, druggists, cigar dealers, millinery, hardware and bakeries. Transfer companies are three, music dealers three, cleaning works three, photographers three, tinsmiths three, and oil companies three. Thirty-two occupations are represented in the city by only two firms each. These are canneries, paint shops, lumber and framing mills, rug works, shoe stores, hotels, daily newspapers, book stores, gravel companies, is indicated by the above diagrams. The field of clearly defined vision through an ordinary lens of average power is represented by an angle of 32 degrees, while the scientific correction of PUNKTALS increases this angle to 60 degrees IN ALL POWERS. This means that ordinary lenses give truly clear vision through the central portions only, while with PUNKTALS such results are obtained from margin to margin.

THE COMPARATIVE VALUE OF ORDINARY EYE LENSES AND BAUSCH & LOMB PUNKTAL NORMAL VISION

These new lenses are worth investigating. Ask for booklet "The Eye and the Lens."
