The cattle market dropped $1.50 a hundred yesterday in Portland, perhaps the greatest sudden drop ever known in the market in the northwest. It seems that prices were being pushed too high and as a result they just toppled over. There is a prediction that the hog market may do likewise after the unseen powers have pushed it up to a notch that cannot hold. At east, this is the opinion of a buyer who has been in the business for 20 years.

Mrs. Helen Cowgill, assistant state club leader, of Corvallis, is visiting the schools in Marion county this week. She gives demonstrations in canning and brings her own canning outfit with her. Friday of this week she will demonstrate at the Ketcher school.

Prof. H. F. Barrows of the O. A. C. is in the city today conferring with educators. He is a member of the board of vocational training and has charge of the vocational work in the state under the Smith-Hughes act.

A paving plant to cost about $15,000 was purchased by the county several weeks ago and today the engine and plant is being unloaded. It will be set up at the gravel pit just north of the Salem Kings Products company. It is thought that the rest of the plant will arrive within a week or so. The county has never owned its own paving plant but has been obliged to rent of the city of Salem. Last year it paid to the city the sum of $223.98, based on a royalty of 7 1/2 cents a square yard and $1 a day for the use of the big rollers. The work last fall and winter was on the Silverton and river road, on the new Willamette river bridge.

Astille Menconi of Silverton, rural route 3, has decided to become a real American citizen and has filed his declaration of intention. He renounces allegiance to Victor Emmanuel III, king of Italy. He came to this country April 6, 1908, but showed no signs of desiring to become an American citizen until yesterday. The public libraries will furnish him some books on civil government and lay out a line of study by which he may hope to pass the examination two years from now. Frank Fisher, a farmer of Shaw, also wishes to be an American, as he has filed his declaration of intention. By the time he gets to be an American he will have had three citizenships. He was born in Austria, then in Canada became a subject of King George and is now willing to try the U. S. A.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Joseph A. Kuther age 24 of Ferdinand, Idaho, and Antoinette M. Weis, of Mt. Angel.

From all parts of the United States the Phex company has called in its salesmen numbering 25 and will hold a general conference in Salem beginning tomorrow. Wednesday will be given to going through the plants and business, discussions in the evening at the Commercial club. Thursday the program will include business talks and practical demonstrations of salesmanship. For the Friday evening entertainment, the traveling men will be initiated into the "Ancient Order of Purple Phex." In order that the initiations may be long remembered, the Cherrian third degree team and other Cherrians have consented to take charge of the evening's program. A banquet will be served also Friday evening and the Salem Kings Products Co. will demonstrate to the surviving Phex salesmen just what the Salem Kings Products are. A special chef will be brought from Portland to serve.

One of the prettiest collections of trout thus far brought into Salem has been on exhibition today in the show window of Hauser Bros. store. There are eight of them measuring from 12 to 16 inches in length. They were caught in Lake Creek and belong to the cut-throat and salmon-trout varieties.

Patrons of the public schools will find a program of exceptional interest before them at the high school tomorrow evening when the seniors and juniors will give a play.

The estate of George Faber, deceased, has been appraised at $1400. The appraisers were P. J. McDonald, John Davison and E. C. Davidson.

In the matter of the estate of James Neil, of which T. K. Ford is executor, the county court allowed Mr. Ford to expend the sum of $5 for improving some of the estate's property on North 20th street. This is the estate for which a man who claims to be a brother of James Neil is contending.

PERSONALS.

C. J. McPherson is registered at the Bligh, from Berlin, Oregon. Berlin is not so very far from Salem as it is in Lincoln county about ten miles east of Lebanon, with no railroad.

William Ferguson is in the city from Los Angeles. He is a retired railroad man and is here looking for a desirable place to locate.

J. M. Zeis of Silverton was in the city yesterday.

T. G. Bligh went to Seattle yesterday on theatrical business.

T. J. Goussinough returned in the city yesterday after a year's absence.

DIED

BRESSLER—At her home four miles east of Salem Tuesday morning April 29, 1919 Mrs. Belle Bressler, wife of H. C. Bressler. Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Albert.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the United Evangelical church. Burial will be at Monmouth. The body is at the undertaking parlors of the Bligh company.

boys hold their dramatic contest. There will be a variety of selections, both humorous and dramatic, and these will be interspersed with musical selections. The public is cordially invited to be on hand at eight o'clock.

Music lovers of Salem should bear in mind that there is an evening of rare entertainment before those who succeed in getting a seat at the public library tonight, when Prof. John E. Siles, of the music department of Willamette university will give his lecture on the music in France. Accompanying the address will be a number of fine musical selections. Program begins at eight, and is free to all.

Frank S. Ward, druggist and former candidate for mayor, sold his business this afternoon to Mr. Niemeyer of Nebraska. Mr. Ward has not as yet made any definite plans for the future, but he has no intentions whatever of leaving Salem.

Those who visit Champeog next Saturday for the 76th anniversary, will have the pleasure of seeing a painting, showing the famous meeting of May 2, 1843, when a majority of two votes out of 102, the pioneers declared for a provisional government until the United States should formally take over the territory. The painting is by a French artist by the name of Theodore Gogoux and was done under the direction of the Oregon historical society. It is 20 by 40 feet and shows the well known faces of a number of Oregon pioneers. The painting is temporarily placed in the memorial building at Champeog.

Erixon & Jones, contractors, are rebuilding for Rollin K. Page a bungalow on 194 South 24th street. The house will be made modern in every respect. The lot is most favorably located, having Mill creek for its north boundary.

Private Secretary Upjohn, of the governor's office, who was called to Kalamazoo, Mich., last week by the serious illness of his mother, wired Governor Olcott Monday that she had rallied slightly and there was a possibility of her recovery. Incidentally he stated that his four brothers were at her bedside, and this was the first meeting of the five boys in 18 years.

Joshua Vogel, traveling over Oregon in the interest of the Seabeck Y. M. C. A. conference to be held at Seabeck, Wash., this summer, was a visitor among the students at Willamette university Monday. He has been connected with the national war work council during the past winter, but is now temporarily relieved from duty and is working in the interest of the Y. M. C. A.

At the county recorder's office, 18 deeds were filed for record Saturday, another evidence that real estate is moving in Marion county.

There is a rumor that the prune market looks pretty good and that growers are being offered all the way from one and one eighth cents to two cents a pound in advance of last year's prices.
