Wednesday evening of this week all of the Fourth of July committees are called to meet at the Commercial club with the finance committee of the celebration, with Joseph Baumgartner as chairman. Reports will be made by the finance committee as to how the Salem parties are coming through with the money to put on the celebration. Each committee will be asked to submit a report of what it expects to do on the Fourth and how much money each will require.

Pres. Doney of Willamette, leaves this afternoon for Portland where he will attend the annual meeting of the alumni of the university, to be held at the First Methodist church. Prof. Matthews, of the department of mathematics, will also attend, both gentlemen having a place on the program of speeches. James Crawford, president of the alumni association, will preside as toastmaster. Other speakers are R.

A. Booth, who is a member of the board of trustees, Edgar Piper, of the Oregonian, Frank Irwin, of the Oregon Journal and Superintendent W. W. Youngson, of the Portland conference.

Claude E. Stanton left recently for New York after spending a furlough of several weeks with relatives and friends here. He has been serving with the 31st aero squadron as first class mechanic, but has just been transferred to the 625th aero squadron, located at Mitchell field, Long Island.

Stanton has seen two years of strenuous service along the fighting fronts of France, in his capacity as mechanic in the testing and repairing of airplanes. While he took no active part in the fighting, he was frequently up in the air with the planes, and often had gruelling experiences in salvaging and repairing wrecked machines. More than once he was called upon to overhaul machines which had fallen from an immense height and in which the pilot was mangled beyond recognition and his body scattered through the wreck. He will continue in the service at Long Island for another year.

Coach Mathews of Willamette, has arranged for a track meet, with the McMinnville team on the university field next Saturday afternoon, when they will put on the same series of events scheduled in the May day celebration, the same men participating.

President Doney will go to Seattle Friday where he will be the guest at a big meeting of business men and will deliver an address. Sunday night he will go to Dallas to deliver an address on the occasion of the 30th anniversary of the Epworth League of that city.

The Rev. Carl H. Elliott, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Salem, is now with the army of occupation at Coblenz, Germany. He is acting as secretary for the Y. M. C. A. and is one of a group of speakers selected to talk to the boys in the army of occupation.

C. W. Niemyer, real estate. Although their names were spelled different, curiosity led him into the real estate office. Then the real estate Niemyer asked druggist Niemyer what he was doing here. He said he was looking for a location. The real estate man took the matter up and in a day or so reported he had found a drug store that could be bought. And so it happened that even when waiting in the Oregon Electric depot to go to Corvallis, thinking over the name that appeared so much like his own, he took a walk of half a block and now instead of being elsewhere, Mr. Niemyer is established in Salem. He came from Hastings, Nebraska, where he was in the drug line for 20 years. His family includes his wife, a boy 17 years old and a daughter 12 years of age. Mr. Niemyer bought the Frank S. Ward drug store.
