 A. E. Watson, age about 63, whose home is in Fairmount, was seriously injured at Oregon City last Sunday, when crossing the street an automobile coming up from behind struck him violently, throwing him several feet. He struck the pavement with such force that he was unconscious for several hours. He was brought to the city and is now at his home in Fairmount. He is under the constant care of a physician and it is thought that he will recover with proper care and rest. For the past few months Mr. Watson has been working at Oregon City. tf

Fearing that his wife might kidnap the two children pending divorce proceedings, Dr. B. H. White changed the locks on several doors of their home on Capitol street in order that his wife might not gain access. Yesterday when Mrs. Edith Eyra White attempted to enter the house to visit her children, the key she had been carrying to her home would not unlock the doors and it was found necessary to call Dr. White to his home to unlock the doors. Officer Thompson who accompanied Mrs. White made no attempt to enter the house, but remained on the outside for an hour or so while Mrs. White was in the house and while she went to a neighbor's house where one of the children was playing. According to injunction proceedings neither Mrs. White nor the doctor are to remove the children from the jurisdiction of the court, pending the divorce trial or until further orders of the court. tf

 R. W. Corey, of South 14th street, reports the wanton destruction of some of his finest flowers on a recent evening by a group of vandals, reported by neighbors who saw them at a distance to be two boys and a girl. He is righteously indignant over the matter, especially as similar destruction is reported from other people in that neighborhood. There is likely to be a good deal of this sort of vandalism as flowers come into bloom and steps should be taken by the police department or by a self constituted committee of "vigilantes" to discourage it. tf

At an assembly meeting in the high school auditorium this morning the Hi Y club took the first steps toward the annual "Friendship Campaign"—a movement that may be of deep significance to the boys in school. Cards were distributed bearing a list of four questions or topics, one of which is to be selected by each student as a subject for a possible interview with some business or professional man of Salem. The idea is to enlist a number of prominent men who will volunteer to give their time to any boy who wishes a brief interview—men who have had broad educational advantages, who have seen much of life or have had business experience, so that out of their own life and observation they will be in position to give sound advice to boys along the line of religion, business activity or the choice of an advanced course of study. Last year these interviews proved very helpful to boys who took advantage of them, as was brought out in a number of speeches before the assembly this morning. tf

 Fred C. Baker, editor of the Tillamook Headlight, is in the city boosting for the Roosevelt highway. He says the people on the coast are strong for the proposed military highway as it will do much for the dairy and cheese business. Besides boosting for the military highway along the coast, Mr. Baker has the pleasure of being alive after the postal authorities had him listed as dead, and on his letters the following notation, "One F. C. Baker, dead, wife lives at Hotel Athens 13th and Morrison streets, Portland."

John W. Todd, conductor of the Apollo club announces that the second concert will be given at the opera house Friday evening, June 6. As at the first concert, admission will be only to honorary members and their guests.
 Among the multitudinous public affairs and attractions coming before the people of Salem in the next few weeks, one that should be kept in memory and provided for in advance is the semi-annual concert of the Apollo club, to be given in the Grand Opera house on Friday, June 6th. Nothing more would be necessary in this connection than to say that it will be up to the standard of past appearances; but it is the policy of the club to make each concert a little more attractive than the past; and they have been at work for months past with this aim in view.

At a recent meeting of the Websterian Society of Willamette Oscar Olson, a prominent junior from Woodburn, was elected as president. Olson is at present manager of the Three Squares Club and president of the Junior Club. The Men's Glee club of Willamette University, which has been working hard on their annual concert program, have arranged to give their concert in Salem on Friday, May 23rd. Their program as usual will be a varied one, vocal numbers being interspersed with readings and comedy stunts. The chief feature will be the work of the quartet which is doing some excellent work, as shown by their reception on the recent tour south. The organization now has 15 members, with Miss Florence Shirley as accompanist. They expect to

U. S. National Standard Pig Club Holds Rousing Meeting Here Saturday

The U. S. National Standard Pig club which met 100 strong at the Commercial club rooms in Salem on Saturday, May 3, was brim full of enthusiasm. Elmer Roth is president of this organization, Francis Smith, secretary-treasurer, and Frank Egger in vice-president. John W. L. Smith is emergency assistant county club leader, while G. W. Byre is "daddy" of the Pig club.

Superintendent Smith is also a bright star in Pig club circles. La Moine Clark was present as well as many other many friends with her gracious personality. W. C. Hoppes, industrial field worker for the state department of education, gave a rapid-fire speech, full of epigrams and also of solid good sense.

Mr. Hoppes said the business partnership existing between the boy and pig is ideal—only if the boy forgives the pig at meal time he can expect "the pig will equal on him!"

Mr. Todd of Fruitland, in a clever well-told tale, related his experiences with experience with razor back hogs in the swamps of Arkansas.

J. W. L. Smith stated that the United States National bank Pig club was the largest in Oregon and from present indications bids fair to be the largest in the United States.
