to be built and will probably be under construction within 90 days. Besides this outlay of timber this company has railroad and grade construction for 70,000,000 feet which they expect to log during 1919 before using any of the timber on the pond. A crew is building more railroad while 17 men are repairing the roads which are already built. The camp has Clarence Powell as superintendent. He also has charge of building the dam. There are 32 family houses, 25 bunkhouses, two ware offices, two bathhouses, two dining rooms, a reception hall, cook house, blacksmith shop and oil house, all portable. There is also one fully equipped schoolhouse with 20 pupils, the teacher of which is Glean Brown of Salem.—Dallas Observer.

Two Dallas Boys Given Commissions As Second Lieutenants With A. E. F.

(Capital Journal Special Service.)

Dallas, Or., May 10—Relatives of Ray Scott and Forest Martin, two Dallas high school boys who enlisted in the war with Germany at its breaking out, received commissions as second lieutenants and have been assigned to units of the American forces still in France. Both young men were also with company L on the Mexican border and left this city with the local company as sergeants. In the communications sent home the youthful soldiers stated that they expected to remain in France some time to come.

Dallas Boy Arrives in New York.
Mrs. Alice L. Dempsey received a telegram from her son, Sergeant Claud Dempsey, Tuesday evening stating that he had arrived in New York and that he would be discharged and sent home at an early date. Sergeant Dempsey went to France with Colorado troops having enlisted with a cavalry unit at the breaking out of the war with Mexico and served several months on the border. His regiment returned from France several weeks ago but he was kept behind owing to a slight attack of influenza.

"Friendship Campaign" Plans Nearly Completed

The committee in charge of the "Friendship Campaign" to be put on by the "Y" club of the Salem high school have set the date for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 14-16, and have enlisted the services of the following citizens: Mr. Newmyer, of the state Y. M. C. A. work; Secretary Compton, of the local Y. M. C. A.; Conch Matthews and Prof. Matthews, of Willamette University; Jos. Albert, of the Capital National bank; W. I. Staley, of the Capital Business College, and Dr. F. E. Brown.

On the dates stated these gentlemen will be "at home" to any high school lad who wishes to call upon him and will devote at least fifteen minutes of his time to a discussion of any one of the following questions:

- "Shall I go to college, and where?"
 - "What shall I choose as a vocation in life?"
 - "What stand shall I take in religious matters?"
 - "What course should I take in selecting amusements?"
- These are four of the most important questions that any boy could consider, and it is hoped that a large number of the students will take advantage of the opportunity to discuss them with men who have a broad outlook upon life and who have "been through the mill." Aside from conveying information and counsel, these interviews may be of the utmost influence in awakening the "big brother" spirit on the part of our prominent citizens and establishing a bond between them and the student body.
- The committee in charge of the campaign are President Ralph Wilson, of the high school student body, Donald Ryan, Milton Grallon, Earl Shaffer and Ralph Hamilton.

Lumber Company Builds Big Dam On Siletz

The logging camp of the Valley & Siletz Lumber and Logging company, located in the Siletz Basin, is one of the busy places in Polk county, extensive preparations being made for lumbering on a scale unprecedented in this section. Among other improvements is a huge dam across the Big Luckiamute river, the construction of which has already occupied several months and which will be completed by May 20 if present plans do not miscarry. A crew of fifteen workmen and a donkey engine have been engaged in building this structure which has a height of 41 feet a base 120 feet wide and a length of 200 feet. The purpose of the dam is to create a pond covering 400 acres.

Following closely upon the big batch of road contracts recently let by the highway commission will be another group, which according to estimates will call for $1,500,000. In this group will be included 44 miles of paving. The proposed projects are as follows:
Hood River to Cascade Locks, paving, 22 miles.
Hood River to top of Wilson hill, grading, two miles.
Rainier to Glendale, paving, 12 miles.
From Polk and Benton county line, paving, 1 1/2 miles north in Polk county
Yamhill to McMinnville, paving, 9 miles.
Arlington to Morrow county line, grading, 12 miles.
Roseburg to Winchester, grading, 6 miles.
Roseburg to Dillard, grading and macadam, 7 miles.
Leona to Drain, grading and macadam, 3 miles.
Newberg to West Dayton, grading and macadam, 6 miles.

Governor Olcott is receiving many communications from over the state with regard to the matter of retaining the battleship Oregon, a number of them opposing the proposition on the ground that the amount said to be needed for upkeep—$20,000—is exorbitant, while others take the ground that it is something that should not be put up to the school children of Oregon. Within a few days both the governor and Supt. Church will have a public statement with regard to this proposition.

Announcement was made yesterday by Deputy Secretary of State Sam Morar that the mailing of the copies of the proposed constitutional amendments and measures submitted to the voters of Oregon at the special election to be held June 3, has been completed. Notwithstanding the law providing for the holding of such special election requires that pamphlet copies of the amendments and measures shall be mailed to the voters of the state ten days prior to such election, these pamphlets will be in the hands of the electors nearly a month before such election, which will give them a greater time within which to arrive at a conclusion regarding the important measures upon which they are to give their approval or dissent. The bill for mailing these pamphlets amounts to $3108.50, one cent postage being required for each separate pamphlet mailed.

The weekly report from the industrial accident commission shows that during the seven day period there were 499 accidents reported throughout the state. Only one of these resulted fatally, that of Harry B. White, lumberman, of Kerry. Of the whole number 475 were subject to the provisions of the compensation act.
