Owing to the absence of Mr. Barnes and Mr. Bishop, the school board found itself minus a quorum at the regular meeting last night, and it was adjourned until Thursday night, when Mr. Bishop will have returned from Pendleton. There are a number of very important matters coming before the meeting, including the election of teachers, the vexed problem of the salary schedule and the matter of new buildings for the junior high schools.

As previously intimated, the citizens who are interested in the matter of gymnasium buildings have been busy during the past two days and have secured a large number of signatures on petitions calling for the submitting of the question to the taxpayers. From the reports brought in by those who circulated the petitions, there seems to be a general sentiment in favor of the new buildings, although they mean the addition of at least $18,000 to the budget of 1919.

DIED

UNRUH—At her home 1595 North Fifth street, at 11 o'clock Tuesday evening May 13, 1919, Mrs. Alice B. Unruh, wife of J. B. Unruh.

Her death was very sudden. She spent Tuesday evening working in her garden and in talking with friends, apparently in good health. Death is thought to be due to heart failure, as Mrs. Unruh had several times experienced dizzy and fainting spells.

Besides her husband, she is survived by four sons, Lee, Earl, Charles and Lowell Unruh, and a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Smith. She was an aunt of Glen E. Unruh, justice of the peace.

The funeral services will be held from the home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be conducted by the Rev. Thomas Acheson, pastor of the Jason Lee Memorial church. Burial will be in the City View cemetery.

Mrs. Unruh was born in Morgan county, Ohio, in 1866, moving to Nebraska in her early childhood. She came to Oregon 25 years ago and for the past 29 years has been a resident of Salem. She was a member of the Jason Lee Memorial church.

Officer Morlock, whose duty it is to arrest speeders and even those who forget what the speed limitations are, suggests that more care should be taken when drivers enter the fire limits of the city. Within the fire limits, the limit of speed is just as in the past—15 miles an hour. The fire limit includes that part of the city north and south between Center and Trade streets and east and west between Church and Front streets. Outside of this limit, the legal limit is 25 miles and 30 miles beyond the city limits. The 10 miles an hour ordinance while passing school houses while school is in session still holds good. It generally cuts $5 or more to break the ordinance—that is, if caught by the speed cop.

E. T. Barnes, who is in the east with his wife and daughter, writes friends here that he has visited his birthplace near Columbia, Mo. With the help of old family acquaintances, he found the house in which he was born. At the age of six months Mr. Barnes changed his residence from Missouri to Kansas but he had a desire to see the house in which he first saw the light.

The monthly report of the Salem public library for the month of April was issued last evening, showing that during the month a total of 135 new volumes were placed upon the shelves, of which number 46 were gift books, a set of thirty volumes being donated by Dr. D. F. Lane. These additions bring the total number of library books up to 14,680. During the month the Salem public took out for reading 4898 books, 1511 of which were children's books. This record has only been surpassed for the month of April by the same period in 1916, when there were circulated 4871 books. There has been an addition of 111 to the list of patrons, making a total of 8330 borrowers. Of the total circulation for the month fiction books took the lead with a total of 2322 volumes. The financial statement shows a balance on hand April 1st of $447.55; received from the city appropriation $500; collected in fines $41.18; while the expenditures amounted to $553.34.

For the benefit of soldiers who would like to enter on some homestead land, it may be said that information may be had from Wm. H. Crawford, secretary and manager of the Oregon land settlement commission, 605 Oregon building, Portland. It costs nothing to make application. The Oregon land settlement commission has just been organized. It is understood that soldiers, sailors and marines will be given preference in the work of the land settlement commission, but as yet, nothing has been done.
