In the case of the state against Mrs.
Catherine Rhodes, charged with threatening children on North Front street, Mrs. Rhodes was put under bond by Justice Urlich to keep the peace. It seems that a lot of children had been annoying her until she could stand it no longer and she then threatened to do them bodily harm.

In the divorce suit of Edith Eyre White against Dr. B. H. White, an amended complaint has been filed by Mrs. White. She alleges that at the time of their marriage in 1906, she had in her own name $50,000 worth of property and later inherited $10,000 from her mother. That in order to get possession of part of her estate, her husband induced her to let him have $5000 with which to invest in some South Dakota lands and later $3000 to invest in Idaho lands. That in each instance, he had the deed made out to them as tenants in entirety, instead of to herself. She also alleges that she bought a lot on Capitol street in Salem, paying $2300 and again her husband had the deed made out to them as tenants in entirety, instead of to herself. She alleges that she did not discover the deeds were so made out until about two months before the commencement of her suit for divorce.

Mrs. A. E. Field who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Patterson, 2115 South Cottage street May 28, 1919, was the widow of Julius J.
Field who died in 1887. She was the mother of eight children and is survived by two sons, three daughters, 29 grandchildren and 32 great grandchildren. At the time of her death she was 80 years old. Since 1914 Mrs. Field had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Patterson. Some after her arrival in Salem she united with the Free Methodist church, having been an earnest Christian since her early youth.

About a month ago there was a rumor that the canneries had contracted all strawberries grown in this vicinity and as a result, the retail grocers would have a limited supply and that the price would be pretty high. The prophecies were all wrong. Strawberries are retailing at two boxes for 25 cents, the quality is most excellent and the supply seems unlimited. But it is a fact that strawberries are being contracted for in large quantities at from 10 to 12 cents a pound, gooseberries at five cents a pound and cherries at seven and eight cents a pound. The lowly gooseberry, always quoted at 2 1/2 and 3 cents a pound, is now taking its place with its aristocratic neighbors and what was considered a high price for loganberries a year or so ago, is the today price of the gooseberry.

Every man in the automobile class in Salem—and especially those who are afflicted with the "speed bug"— will find something to stir their blood like getting away from a speed cap, in the big racing film—"The Boaring Road"—coming to the Oregon theater Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The popular star, Wallace Reid, plays the part of the young "speed devil" and in order to get the last touch of realism in the scenes he drove his own car at the rate of 110 miles an hour over the Santa Monica track, taking the perilous "death curve" without a tremor. The girl in the picture is Ann Little.

An expectant and appreciative audience greeted the two graduates of the Williamette school of music at the First Methodist church last evening, and were treated to a program of vocal and piano numbers of unusual excellence.
Miss Margaret Wible, vocalist, and Miss Florence Shirley, pianist, have been heard frequently in concert programs in this city, and one need say no more than that their renditions last night were up to their particular standard. Miss Wible shows a voice of remarkable range and volume, as well as flexibility and expressiveness as shown in Gounod's "Chanson, Ma Belle" and the aria from "Madame Butterfly." Miss Shirley, noted for her velvety touch as well as bold technique, displayed her genius to the best advantage in the Nocturne of Liszt, and in the Rondo of Mendelssohn.

Ray F. Richardson of San Luis Obispo, Calif., left for his home this morning after spending several days in the city visiting friends and attending to business matters. He says San Luis Obispo is a live town of about 2000 people, about 12 miles from the ocean and half way between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Also that he is well pleased with his location. Likes the people and pretty well satisfied with everything. He was formerly partner in the undertaking firm of Rigdon & Richardson.

Men who have served in the late war will be given memberships in the Salem Commercial club if they will take the trouble to apply for a card from manager T. E. McCroskey. This membership not only gives the full privileges of the club but will incur some of the obligations of the club in working for the welfare of the community.
That is, the soldier who is given a membership to the club for the remainder of the year will be expected to enjoy all the privileges of the club, attend meetings and become a real live citizen, willing to work on committees and to take an interest in the new life that has recently been instilled into the club work. The new deal now on in the Commercial club means that all must get in and work for the good of the community and not let a few do it.
