

PUBLIC NOW TOLD ALL ABOUT TANLAC

Authorities Now Show Just What This Medicine Really Is.

In a recent issue of this paper an announcement was made that Tanlac was the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world, and that more than twelve million bottles had been sold during the past four years.

These are unusual figures, and the question naturally arises in the mind of the reader why this phenomenal success and why has this preparation so far outstripped all other medicines of its kind. It is only natural therefore that the manufacturers should offer some explanation to satisfy public interest.

In the first place, Tanlac is manufactured in one of the largest and most modernly equipped laboratories in this country. Its formula is purely scientific and complies with all national and state pure food and drug laws. Altogether there are ten ingredients in Tanlac, each of which is of recognized therapeutic value.

Many of these ingredients have been individually known and used since civilization first began, and some of them have been used and prescribed by leading physicians everywhere, but until they were brought together in proper proportion and association as in the Tanlac formula, humanity had not before realized their full value and effect.

In referring to one of the more important ingredients of Tanlac, the Encyclopedia Britannica says: "It has long been the source of the most valuable tonic medicines that have ever been discovered." In referring to others of the general tonic drugs contained in Tanlac the 13th Edition of Potter's Therapeutics, a standard medical text book, states that: "they impart energy, tone and strength to the entire system, including all organs and tissues."

This name well known authority in describing the physiological action of all another of the ingredients of Tanlac which is of value in treating what is commonly known as "a run down condition" uses the following expression: "It is highly esteemed in loss of appetite during convalescence from acute diseases." There are certain other elements in Tanlac which because of their influence upon the appetite, digestion, assimilation and elimination improve the nutrition and vital activity of all the tissues and organs of the body, and produce that state of general tonicity which is called health.

In discussing another ingredient of the Encyclopedia Britannica says: "It is one of the most efficient of that class of substances which act upon the stomach so as to invigorate digestion and thereby increase the general nutrition." It is used in dyspepsia, chlorosis, anemia and various other diseases in which the tone of the stomach and alimentary canal is deficient. Concerning another ingredient this same standard authority says: "It causes dilation of the gastric blood vessels, increases secretion of the gastric juice, and causes motor activity in the movements of the muscular layers in the walls of the stomach. It also tends to lessen the sensibility of the stomach, and so may relieve gastric pain."

The United States Dispensary places the following comment regarding another ingredient: "It may be used in all cases of pure debility of the digestive organs or where a general tonic impression is required. Dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency, and intermittent fever are among the many affections in which it has proven useful."

There are certain other ingredients mentioned in the Dispensary and in other standard medical text books as having a beneficial action upon the organs of secretion, whose proper functioning results in the purification of the blood streams passing through them, in a manner objectionable and poisonous ingredients of the blood are removed, and the entire system is invigorated and vitalized.

Tanlac was designed primarily for the correction of disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. At the same time, however, it is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body builder, for it naturally follows that any medicine that brings about proper assimilation of the food and the thorough elimination of the waste products must therefore have a far reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system. Although Tanlac's claims for supremacy are abundantly supported by the world's leading authorities, it is the people themselves who have really made Tanlac what it is. Millions upon millions have used it, and have told their millions what it has done for them. That is why Tanlac has become the real sensation of the drug trade in this country, and that is also why it is the most widely talked of medicine in the world today.

DEMPSEY IN BETTER SHAPE THAN WILLARD

Champion Is Having Difficulty In Removing Fat That Slows Him Up.

By H. C. Hamilton, (United Press staff correspondent) Toledo, Ohio, June 19.—It is hardly expected that Jack Dempsey will resume his boxing tomorrow, but preparations are being made to again speed up the training of the challenger of the world's heavyweight title. When he does start again it will be with a surprising vigor. The lay off put him on edge for a resumption of stiff work.

The result of yesterday's workout in the Willard camp was a replica of what had taken place the day before. He slugged with the heavier fellows and had his face mugged up to some extent by the sippy work of the 161 pound Joe Chip.

Willard looks to be in excellent condition, following a week of uncertainty regarding his fitness. His color is mounting to the brownness attained by Dempsey, one thing that makes the challenger appear to such good effect. The muscles across Willard's back, especially at the shoulders, are drawing down. He is going to have a lot of trouble, however, in erasing the roll of flesh that persists in hanging about his middle. What methods he will employ to reduce this slowing roll is hard to determine. His work so far has had an effect whatever on that spot and he has cut out road work for a few days, maintaining that he was reducing too fast to suit him.

Just now the two battlers are pointing themselves for each other's size. Dempsey's work consists of building up, while Willard, hoping to reach the best of condition, must reduce.

When the champion won his title at Havana he weighed about 247 pounds. He declares he will weigh less when he steps into the ring with Dempsey, for he is training to better shape now. If he does succeed in whittling away more of the flesh it will be to a decided advantage, for this bulk always has made him a slow mover. Every pound he cuts off will help immensely when he steps into the ring with the fast moving challenger. Dempsey has been able to build up his weight without adding fat. The weight is pure sinew, condition to a wonderful degree. It is not noticeable if the lay off forced by the injury to his eye has added pounds to his frame. Due to the stiff road work he is doing each day, and the strenuous period of shadow boxing and other stunts in the ring at his training camp he is keeping his muscles keyed to the necessary pitch.

Dempsey is yearning, however, for a renewal of boxing. Undoubtedly he could pick up again tomorrow, but he probably will wait until Sunday. The cut on Dempsey's eye followed the line of the bone under the brow and a difficult facelash to heal after a slash in this particular place. The sparring partner will be instructed to have a care with that particular portion of Dempsey's face. It should be very easy for them to place their blows that the injured part will get none of the effect.

The heat here has tempered off some. A cool breeze off the lake swept over the camp yesterday and again early today. The respite is relieving. The boxers are showing improvement under the lessened heat.

SENATE'S VIEWS ON COVENANT ARE SOUGHT

Spencer Introduces Bill Interpreting Provisions Of League.

Washington, June 19. (United Press)—A resolution setting forth definite interpretations of provisions of the league of nations covenant was introduced in the senate today by Senator Spencer of Missouri.

Adoption of the resolution, Spencer said, would make clear to the world just what the senate's understanding is with reference to certain clauses over whose meaning league supporters and opponents have been disputing. Spencer's resolution, if passed, would put the senate on record as declaring: "That the Monroe doctrine is an essential American policy to be interpreted and applied solely by the United States."

That all internal questions such as immigration and tariff, even though they should have some international significance, shall be dealt with wholly by the senate concerned and not by the league.

That the war making power of congress shall in no way be interfered with and that the United States will not be bound to engage in war on the order of the league without the specific approval of congress.

Following presentation of Spencer's resolution, Senator Thomas, Colorado, spoke against the Knox resolution on

The Joy of Motherhood Told

Women Tell How They Made Event One of Great Happiness.

In every part of the land there are women who tell how, through the application of Mother's Friend, they entirely avoided the suffering usually incident to motherhood. They relate in no uncertain terms how from the use the days were made bright and cheerful and the nights calm and restful, how the crisis was passed without the usual suffering experienced when nature is unaided, and how they preserved their health and strength to devote it to the rearing of their children and to the things life holds for them.

Mother's Friend is a most penetrating remedy, prepared especially for expectant mothers from a formula of a noted physician. Strain upon the ligaments is avoided, and instead of a period of discomfort and constant dread it is a season of calm repose. The hours of the crisis are less, and Mother's Friend enables the mother to retain her natural grace, and her skin is not cracked and does not become hard or discolored.
