AFRICAN "RUNABOUT" AT CELEBRATION

These smiles are not necessarily in contemplation of nationwide prohibition, but at the prospect of a little run around the exhibition grounds of the Methodist Centenary Celebration at Columbus, O., where this North African "roadster" demonstrates the transportation methods of biblical and modern days. This young woman never rode a camel before, and yet see how simple it looks! It was far from simple obtaining animals for the Celebration. For generators Germany had supplied the animal markets of the world and, when war blocked Holland, exhibition beasts became comparatively scarce. Traveling menageries either consolidated with others or went out of business. When the Centenary Celebration management requisitioned elephants, camels, dromedaries, reindeer and sacred cattle, water buffalo, bison, and monkeys to give realism to their demonstrations of life in Asia, Africa and the Philippines, the officials discovered that such animals apparently were not for sale or lease. In fact "there ain't no such animals!" Five years of war had shrunk the exhibition animal supply to a few exhibitors who would not part with a single beast.

Then the Celebration discovered an experienced animal stalker on its local Columbus citizens' committee, Hoesa F. Moyer, who had had seventeen years of traveling with menageries, went out on an animal stalk through the United States, covering 14,000 miles before he filled his game bag with the complete list of beasts required. While menagerie men were off the market, Moyer found the beasts hidden away in obscure animal farms of the Central States.

Anyone thinking that it is no trick at all to go out and buy or lease an aggregation of exhibition animals ought to try it—or easier still, consult some menagerie man. The great German animal firm which searched the jungles and shipped constantly has been shut off so long that men were beginning to believe that the exhibition animal industry also had been suppressed. The Centenary Celebration animal stalker's feat was the latest victory over Germany. The camels are in the North Africa demonstration, the water buffalo for Philippine section, while the elephant, sacred cattle and monkeys are for the India exhibit at the Celebration.

WILL RETURN THE LADY IN EXCHANGE FOR THE TREASURE

CRUELY printed in pencil on a piece of dirty brown paper, and stuck there with a sailor's rusty knife, was this message. And well they knew what it meant. The girl they had sought for days and believed to be lost—now they knew her to be worse than lost.

Calypto, with her pure, olive skin and black, silken hair—Calypto, the beautiful Spanish girl who had masked as a boy and begged to be allowed to go with the rest on their perilous journey—

Should he give up the treasure that he and his party—some of whom had paid the supreme price—had fought and repeatedly risked their lives for; should he give up this wealth of gold and jewels for the girl he adored, or trust to mercy of his enemies for her safety?

This is the situation created by Richard Le Gallienne—in his inimitable way of writing—in from the chapel of Webb & Clough. The pall bearers will be Dr. K. E. Lee Steiner, S. Willis, U. G. Buyer, A. F. Marcus, A. O. Coult and W. H. Daney. Burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

The 40 loganberry growers who met last Saturday to devise ways and means by which their berries shall reach the Phez company, have sold their crop to the Drange fruit company. The price paid, according to report, was 9 cents a pound. This is going one cent higher than the market price of the past few days.

This is not such a great season for strawberries, but the experience of a Salom resident well illustrates the possibilities of intensive cultivation in a backyard. An honest looking real estate dealer tells of a client who has a strawberry bed containing approximate 1250 square feet, set to a thrifty, ambitious breed of berry. From this bed he has already taken $26 worth of berries and still going strong. The fruit sold at the rate of $3 a crate, which indicates that they were unusually fine, and this accounts in part for the big returns. However, there is nothing to prevent any other citizen from making the same record. This figures out a production rate of over $900 an acre.

Supr. W. M. Smith has just sent three happy Marion county boys to the summer training school at Corvallis. These are Nichol Brinsley, Oliver Font and Elmer Roth, all residing near Bethel. They were prize winners among the entrants from the industrial clubs at the state fair last fall, taking honors for work with pigs and sheep. Evs Benjamin of Woodburn, is another club member who goes from this county to the summer school, where they will receive two weeks of valuable training.

The band concert in Wilson park will begin as usual this evening at 8 o'clock and will continue for one and one-half hours. From now on until there has been 15 concerts in all, there will be a program Tuesday and Friday evenings at the park, weather conditions permitting. In case of stormy weather, the concerts will be postponed.

The Turner road on which work has been going on in the construction of a viaduct will be opened by next Saturday, Walt S. Low, city street commissioner says. The city force will soon begin work on a block of Church street as it leads off of D street.

Mrs. Hang Ok Nan, a Korean woman, died yesterday at her home north of Salem. The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the chapel of Webb & Clough and burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery. She was a member of the Methodist church, and was 29 years old at the time of her death. Her father was Hang Chang Nan and her mother, Chai Sin Hang. She had been in this country about one year.

Washington, June 24.—The house committee investigating war department expenditures late today asked the department for a statement covering contracts it had with the Packard and Ford Motor companies. Representative Bland, Indiana, on whose motion the request was made, declared he wanted to ascertain what disposition had been made of "heavy and unreasonable" claims filed by those two companies on contract settlements.

Washington, June 24.—A bill granting Japan permission to send two students to West Point was favorably reported today by the house military committee.

Strikers Charge Western Union Is Violating Laws

San Francisco, June 24.—(United Press.)—Charges that the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies are sending their telegrams between here and Los Angeles by messengers on trains were made in federal authorities today by P. C. O'Connor and T. J. Coffey, officials of the striking telegraphers.
The union heads also alleged that all telegrams between New York and San Francisco are being sent via Los Angeles and brought here by train in violation of the federal law.

Washington, June 24.—A permanent railroad policy is to be presented to congress within a month or six weeks, Senator Cummins chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee announced today. The committee authorized Cummins to name a sub-committee of five, with himself as chairman to draft a bill embodying such a policy.

CITY NEWS.

A. W. Schunk, groceryman of North Commercial street has made an assignment to the adjustment bureau of the Portland association of Credit men. T. W. Kendall, of the adjustment bureau, is now in charge and is inviting the stock. Mr. Schunk was formerly in business in Astoria. He opened for business in Salem July 5, 1917.

The U. S. labor bureau reports finding work in the saw mills for 10 men last Saturday. Yesterday 13 were found employment, mostly in cherry picking. It just happens that no children are wanted for picking cherries but folks from 16 years and up in age. Several cherry orchards have refused to take children, claiming the youngsters are a little careless in breaking limbs.

There seems to be no complaint in regard to securing pickers for loganberries. The U. S. labor bureau reports satisfactory conditions. A few yards will be given the use over this week with the actual picking to begin next Monday.

The suit of school district No. 21—Salem—against Carolyn Meyer and others will not be called until next Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The directors of the Salem school district bought the Holman property just south of the high school building some time ago for $2250 and to clear title and straighten out all claims against the property, the district has brought condemnation proceedings by which the court and jury may properly estimate the claims of all.

The poppies planted in the court house yard two or three weeks ago are just coming up. It was thought at the time they were planted that the poppies would be in full bloom for the big homecoming celebration, July 3, 4 and 5.

The funeral services for Dr. John Reynolds, pioneer physician, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock
