

Have him wear cool silk shirts all summer long

How to launder them beautifully, easily—yourself!

WHO thinks of sending men's silk shirts to the laundry nowadays? To have them come back faded, pulled out of shape, the lustre of the silk half gone! There's a better way—and much less expensive!

Just whip up some delicate Lux suds and plunge in the silk shirts. No need to have a great many, for you can have one fresh and clean again for him the very same day!

Wash them in the rich Lux suds, repeatedly. The delicate Lux lather cannot wear away the fabric. They will look just as soft and fine and silky, fit just as comfortably at the end of the summer as the first time he put them on. Lux comes in pure transparent flakes that dissolve instantly in hot water and whisk up into a wonderful lather.

Your grocer, druggist or department store has Lux. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Lux will not harm any material that pure water alone won't injure.

To wash men's silk shirts

Use one tablespoonful of Lux to a gallon of water. Dissolve in boiling or very hot water; whisk up into a thick lather and add cold water to make the suds lukewarm. Put the garment in, work it up and down, and squeeze the suds through it. Do not rub. Rinse three times in water the same temperature as the water in which you washed it. Roll in a towel to dry. While still damp, press with a warm iron, on a well-padded board. Pongee should be ironed when entirely dry.

No suds so wonderful as Lux for all fine laundering

THE Goddess of Liberty contest is now on, and with the names of four pretty and popular young misses leading, it promises to be as close and exciting as could be desired. Misses Lynda Baker, Margaret White, Rhea Wilson and Marie Breitenstein, all with hosts of friends to back them, are at present the chief contestants, although new names are being entered hourly. Ballot boxes are to be found at the Spa, Grey-Belle, Patton's Commercial book store, Hartman's and Smith cigar store.

The committee in charge is composed of Oliver Myers, chairman; Joseph McAllister, R. F. Smith, Arthur Montgomery and Otto A. Hartman.

Undoubtedly the biggest social affair of the week will be the silver tea, which will be given Friday afternoon from 3 to 6 on the east section of the state house grounds. The tea will be sponsored by the Salem Women's club the most influential body of women in the city, and every means is being taken to make it as enjoyable as possible. The purpose of the affair is to raise money for the woman's building at Eugene and this in itself should be inducement enough for anyone to attend. Everyone in the city is invited to be present, and emphasis is laid on the fact that it is not exclusively for women.

One of the pretty weddings of June was the marriage of Miss Beulah Hill to Samuel Tyler, which occurred June 24 at two p. m. at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hill on State and 24th streets. This date was chosen because of the coincidence of their birthday anniversaries being on the same day.

The bride and groom, unattended, marched to a bower of blossoms and greenery, while Miss Lois Tyler, sister of the groom, played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. James H. Irvine of Portland, who is a particular friend of the groom's family. The ring was taken from the white rosebud nearly.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white georgette crepe over satin and a wreath of white and pink rosebuds on her hair. She carried a bouquet of pink Canterbury bells. Members of both families were the only guests present. Mrs. James E. Lucas, sister of the bride, came from Corvallis, to attend the wedding. A sumptuous wedding lunch was served from a table beautifully decorated with pink and white.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler left in the afternoon for a honeymoon, part of which will be a trip to eastern Oregon to visit relatives. The bride's going away suit was of blue Jersey cloth with a hat of georgette to match. Mrs. Tyler has lived here with her parents since they moved to Salem from Texas a few years ago. Mr. Tyler has been on the Statesman mechanical force during the past few years. He received his discharge from the army last January. They will make their home in Portland.

Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson and her son, Lieutenant Carl Gabrielson, returned to Salem Monday after a short visit in Pendleton. They were accompanied by Mrs. Gabrielson's grandchild, Charles Kay Bishop, Chancery Bishop, C. D. Gabrielson and Master Robert Bishop are still in the eastern Oregon city but expect to be home in time to witness the big homecoming celebration on the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Delano, 1330 State street, are entertaining as their guest Lieutenant W. A. Pearson of the Oregon Aircraft and Transportation company of Portland who arrived in

TRIAL OF NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE HEAD OPENS TODAY

Jackson, Minn., June 25.—Taking of testimony in the trial of A. C. Townley, president of the National Non-Partisan League, and Joseph Gilbert, state organizer, was begun today. They are charged with conspiracy in violation of the Minnesota espionage act. The jury is made up of farmers. Townley was expected to reach Jackson at noon today. Despondent over his falling health George W. Brinnon, aged 82, shot himself through the heart Saturday at the home of his daughter, near Ontario, Ore.

Monday evening at 8:30 Miss Greta Witzel and Charles Parent were quietly married at the home of Mrs. E. T. Cutler. Dr. G. P. Holt performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends. Caroline Testout roses furnished pretty decorations for the affair and after the customary wedding luncheon was served. After a honeymoon in California the couple will make their home in Salem.

Salem women may be interested in learning that Miss Fern Hobbs, who became so well known as the secretary of Governor Oswald West, is expected to arrive in Oregon from France in the near future. Miss Hobbs has spent nearly a year in France as chief of the home communication section of the Red Cross. Word has been received from her recently that the office of this section of the organization had been closed and that she would leave for the states as soon as transportation could be arranged. Miss Hobbs is a practicing attorney.

C. D. Butler is a guest at the Imperial hotel in Portland.

Allies Demand Germans Name New Envoys At Once

Paris, June 25.—(United Press)—The big four this afternoon was reported to have dispatched to Germany a peremptory demand for her to name the delegation which will sign the peace treaty.

Dispatches from Versailles yesterday said that Foreign Minister Mueller had been appointed to head the German delegation but did not disclose the remainder of the commission's personnel.
