DECISION IN SUIT OF PHEZ COMPANY IS DUE

Three Theories Advanced On Death Of Ruth Cruger Are Puzzling.

The application for a preliminary injunction brought by the Phez company against the Salem Fruit Union, to prevent the Union from disposing of its loganberry pool on the open market is being argued today before Judge Geo. G. Bingham of department No. 2 and Judge Percy Kelly of department No. 1.

The morning hours were taken up by the attorney for the plaintiff and it is thought that the attorneys for the Salem Fruit Union will require the entire afternoon to present their side of the case.

As the points of law in the case were thoroughly argued before both of the judges Saturday, June 14, it is thought that the application for the preliminary injunction will be decided immediately at the close of the arguments, and if not, will be withheld until Friday of this week when Judge Kelly comes from Albany to hear a special case set for that day.

On June 14 Judge Bingham denied the application of the Phez company for a preliminary injunction preventing the Salem Fruit Union from disposing of its 1200 tons of loganberries in the pool, but permitted the company to file an amended complaint.

TRIAL OF COCCHI FOR MURDER IS SUSPENDED

Defense In Injunction Case Expected To Close Arguments Today.

Bologna, Italy, June 24.—Confronted by three versions of the murder of Ruth Cruger, New York school girl, Judge Bagnoli today suspended trial of Alfredo Cocchi, charged with the crime, until the conflicting stories could be investigated. Prosecutor Pranchini told the United Press he did not expect the investigation to be completed before next spring.

Today's session of the trial, which opened only yesterday, brought out these versions:

1.—The prosecution charged that Cocchi killed the girl after assaulting her in his repair shop at 542 West 127th street, New York, February 13, 1917.

2.—Cocchi refuted former alleged confessions and declared his wife killed Miss Cruger because of jealousy, saying he confessed to shield her and his children.

3.—A letter was introduced, said to have been written by J. J. Lynch, 890 municipal building, New York, stating that Miss Cruger died from a criminal operation and was buried by white slavers in Cocchi's shop.

Tells Story of Crime

Cocchi's examination began this morning. He created a sensation, when he began calmly to tell how Miss Cruger visited his shop to have her skates sharpened and how his wife entered and attacked the girl from behind, killing with a blow from a tool.

Cocchi emphatically denied he assaulted the girl. Sobbing loudly, he described how he proceeded to conceal the body to shield his wife. He said he was forced to cut it to make it fit in the grave he excavated under the floor of the shop. Then he decided to flee, he said, and informed his father he had committed the murder, hoping thus to save his wife.

Judge Bagnoli remarked that Cocchi's charge against his wife was made after Mrs. Cocchi had denounced him, which according to the court, she would not have done had he really been shielding her. When confronted with his former detailed confessions, Cocchi stoutly clung to his new version of the crime.

Third Version Advanced

After Cocchi's retraction, the prosecutor asked for time to investigate this version. The judge refused. A letter was then introduced, purporting to have been written to Attorney Venturini, Cocchi's counsel, by J. J. Lynch of New York, giving a third version. Lynch it was said, wrote that Miss Cruger died as the result of a criminal operation and was removed to Cocchi's shop by white slavers, where she was buried.

The jurors were frankly puzzled by the three versions. Judge Bagnoli retired to his chambers to consider the situation and finally announced that the trial was suspended until further investigation could be made.

Lynch Admits Letter

New York, June 25.—J. J. Lynch, a bookkeeper in the city chamberlain's office, today admitted that he had written letters to Signor Venturini, attorney defending Alfredo Cocchi at Bologna.

Lynch said that he had sent letters to Baron Sonnino, then the Italian foreign minister and to Cocchi's attorney, but refused to divulge their contents. He declared that he would expose the entire case to any accredited official of the Italian government.

Why Itch and Scratch With Burning Eczema?

Genuine Relief If You Resort to Sand and Sensible Treatment

There is a very common misunderstanding of Eczema and the various other forms of skin eruptions and irritations that cause so much pain and discomfort. Because the surface of the skin is the scene of the attack, and seems almost ablaze with fiery, burning and itching, these disorders are mis-named skin diseases.

The truth is that they are not really skin diseases, and that is why nothing but disappointment follows their treatment with salves and lotions applied to the surface of the skin.

These irritations, eruptions, boils, pimples, etc., are caused by a disease germ in the blood, which breaks out through the skin, and as long as the germ is in the blood, no cure can come from ointments and lotions, even if you apply them to the surface by the ton.

The rational and sensible treatment is S. S. S., the reliable blood purifier, which promptly eradicates all disease germs from the blood. When you cleanse your blood of disease germs, the skin is promptly restored to its normal condition.

For more than half a century S. S. S. has been used with the greatest satisfaction for all manner of blood and skin disorders. This fine old remedy was first made by the Indians from medicinal roots and herbs of the forests. S. S. S. is still made from the original formula, and it is guaranteed purely vegetable. It is one blood remedy that contains not a particle of potash, mercury or other mineral. There is no sugar tonic or system-builder, and a thorough course of S. S. S. will build up the general health and give new vigor to the entire body.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. from your druggist, and begin the sensible, rational treatment today, and you will experience genuine relief, as thousands of others have. Many Pay Last Respects To Prominent Physician

The many sorrowing friends of Dr. John Reynolds who died Sunday paid their respects to the Oregon pioneer physician at the funeral services held yesterday from the chapel of Webb & Clough. The casket was banked with floral offerings in mute testimony of the high esteem in which he was held by those who knew him best.

The Rev. M. C. Wire of Newberg, an old time friend of the family, conducted most impressive services, speaking highly of the life and work of Dr. Reynolds and of his intimate acquaintance with him. Two songs were sung by a friend of the family, J. Benson Starr of Pasadena.

The pall bearers were Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, U. G. Bayer, A. O. Condit, S. Willis, A. F. Marcus and W. H. Daney. Burial was in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

Friends from out of town attending the services were General W. H. Odell of Portland, A. F. Plegel of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thompson of Portland, J. Benson Starr of Pasadena and W. H. Galtra of Albany.

PROPER THING NOW IS TO PEEH OFF SOILED SKIN

Those who abhor sticky, greasy, shiny, streaked complexions should religiously avoid creams, powders and rouges during the heated days. There's no need for them, anyway, since the virtues of mescalized wax have become known. No amount of perspiration will produce any evidence that you've been using the wax. As it is applied at bedtime and washed off in the morning, the complexion never looks like a make-up. Mescalized wax gradually takes off a bad complexion, instead of adding anything to make it worse. It has none of the disadvantages of cosmetics and accomplishes more in keeping the complexion beautifully white, satiny and youthful, free from freckles and other blemishes. Just get an ounce of it at your druggist and see what a few days' treatment will do. Use like cold cream.
