At the Elks headquarters for the Salvation army fund campaign the fact is made apparent that Salem is still short of its quota by a considerable amount. Manager Walter Toose states emphatically that the campaign will be continued through next week if necessary, as there are hundreds of citizens who have not been solicited thus far. The amount set for the city is $15,000, and $20,000 for the county. It is highly desirable that this figure be reached, for if the city succeeds in raising enough for the proposed building here they will be entitled to an additional fund of $8000 from the state Salvation army fund. In this connection the manager states that all captains and workers are expected to report at headquarters with all receipts, checks and reports by 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.
