BROOKS NAMED VICE CONSUL TO HOLLAND

Salem Man, Graduate Of Willette, Granted Government Post.

Russell Brooks received a wire this morning offering him the appointment as vice consul at Rotterdam, Holland. He has accepted. The offer of this most advantageous position was secured through the efforts of Senator McNary.

Mr. Brooks is now awaiting orders for his overseas duty. As vice consul at Rotterdam, it will be his duty to care for all Americans who have interests in Holland and to have charge of all matters pertaining to commerce and the untangling of personal matters such as securing passports, having them properly vised and to aid the traveling public from America who will through the continent next summer.

As vice consul, he will rank next to the consul for the Netherlands. Rotterdam has been assuming much importance in American affairs and is now headquarters for the service of supplies.

Mr. Brooks went into the service March 26, 1917, and soon after his arrival overseas, was transferred to the intelligence service. He received his discharge June 11, at Camp Devers, Mass. He is a graduate of Willette University and passed his examination for admittance to the bar just previous to his volunteering into the service. He is the son of Mrs. Mildred Brooks, county recorder.

COUNTER TO SUIT OF PRODUCTS CO. FILED

Clyde Harris Seeks To Prevent Restraining Order On Berries.

Anticipating the suit to be brought against him and other loganberry growers by the Salem King's Products company, Clyde Harris has brought suit before Judge George O. Bingham, asking that the Salem King's Products company be restrained from securing an injunction against him and other growers by which they would be obliged to deliver their loganberries to the Salem King's Products company for 5 1/2 cents while the market price is nine cents.

He alleges that he and the other growers signed a contract with the Kings Products company wherein the company promised to buy the berries, not only by its promises but by substituting and attaching a contract slip on the original contract which was contrary to the promises of the company.

He also alleges that he with others signed the Kings Products company contract on the protest from they supplied with the express understanding that the company would attach a contract slip providing that the company would always pay the market price for loganberries, and never less than 4 cents a pound.

That the Kings Products company had no intention of carrying out its promise of enlarging its plant in Salem, nor of paying for berries on the open market. That instead of attaching a slip to the contract to pay on the open market, the company did attach an agreement, after the growers had signed, as follows: "If the Salem Kings Products company raises their buying price to other growers in 1918 or thereafter, this contract will automatically conform with that price."

That this contract attached was procured by fraud as all the growers had the assurance the Kings Products would pay the market price and not a price they established.

Hence Mr. Harris through the legal firm of McCannant, Brough and Thomson of Portland, asks the court to restrain the Kings Products company from any proceedings to restrain or prevent any person from delivering berries at option. Also that the contract which Mr. Harris alleges was procured by fraud, shall be made to conform to one wherein the company pays the market price, or that the contract be cancelled by order of court.

nothing but the most pleasant recollections as to the surroundings and the hospitality of her citizens. He spoke briefly of the state institutions, pointing with special pride to the state hospital which he commended as one of the finest in the nation. He invited the visitors to visit and inspect the buildings, criticize them if they wished but hoped that none of them would be detained within the walls. Closing, he paid a just tribute to the veterans and the part they had played in American history.

Comrade Elmer Lundberg of Portland responded to the governor's address heartily and with a vein of humor, assuring him that the association was appreciating in the highest degree the hospitality of Salem's citizens. He referred briefly to the past of the Spanish war veterans, assuring the governor that with the same spirit in which they went into the Spanish-American war, they would enter with the boys of the German-made war in the work of reconstruction.

In behalf of the ladies, Mrs. Estella Reed, president of the department auxiliary, spoke entertainingly of the part the women had taken in the two last wars, and would take in the work that was to come.

The afternoon sessions have been devoted largely to reports of committees, appointments and routine business. The big event of the day comes at 8 o'clock, this evening when the Salem ladies will spread a feast in the assembly for the visiting veterans, to be followed by a ball at 9 o'clock.

AVIATOR AND PLANE ARRIVE HERE TODAY

First Flights With Passengers To Be Made Thursday Morning.

The aviator, Lieutenant Browne arrived in the city this morning and is getting acquainted with the finest country in the world after spending a couple of years along the desert. He says it looks wonderfully fine after his experiences of the past two years in southern California.

And with the lieutenant, came the JNAD airplane with which the people of Salem and vicinity will be given an opportunity to see things from above. The airplane has not been taken to the aviation field at the fair grounds as yet, but will be assembled early tomorrow morning and the commercial flying will begin at about 10 o'clock.

The aviator says he can accommodate about 10 flyers tomorrow morning and these, according to the order in which they applied for accommodations are John H. Albert, John Krebs, Walter A. Denton, J. P. Reed, Theodore Roth, Earl McDonough, Joseph H. Albert, Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, R. H. Goodin, D. W. Kyle and Will S. Walker.

These all will be given rides, mostly over the city, as while some rides will be taken to Silverton, there is no aviation field there for landing. Hence those who ride during the next two or three days will circle mostly over Salem and vicinity.

For Thursday afternoon, the air flights will continue from 1 o'clock until about 3:30 and according to the entries made, those who will ride tomorrow afternoon will be: E. P. Smith, R. W. Hartman, O. A. Hartman, Richard O. Hansen, William Mettler, Jr., W. W. Moore, Mrs. C. W. Niemyer, C. W. Niemyer, Miss. Kathryn (Gunnell), Dr. O. A. Olson, C. B. McGuire, M. M. Bette-Morrison, Luther J. Chapin and J. L. Van Doren.

Lieutenant Brown owns two airplanes, which he will use this fall and winter while flying for a moving picture concern at Long Beach, Calif.

This morning the aviator's father and mother and to sisters came from Silverton to greet him. His wife, who is now in Long Beach, is expected here the latter part of the week. Lieutenant Browne says he will spend the summer in this part of the state and visiting his folks at Silverton.

COUNCIL MAY SELECT FOUR NEW ALDERMEN TO FILL BERTHS SOON

City politics which were at a boiling point a few weeks ago may begin to settle again next Monday at the meeting of the city council. This heated situation is due to the fact that several members of the council have resigned, one has moved out of his ward and then a successor must be chosen to Mayor Otto Wilson, who was serving from the third ward when elected mayor.

Fred S. Smith is alderman from the first ward but it is understood he is likely to move to another ward within a short time. Ralph Thompson has already resigned from the seventh ward and a successor must be chosen to represent that ward with Dr. O. L. Scott.

The fifth ward will need another alderman as C. M. Roberts resigned before starting on his vacation a few weeks ago. As alderman from that ward, Mr. Schunkle will probably suggest a congenial running mate.

The third ward may have new alderman. Otto Wilson is now mayor and J. N. Austin is in California for an extended visit. Anyhow, when the council is called to order next Monday evening by Mayor Wilson, there will be no one on duty to care for ward three, and wards one, seven and five will each have but one alderman on the job.
