DUTCH ULTIMATUM NOT INDICATORY OF PLANS TO SURRENDER KAISER

By Fred S. Ferguson
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, July 11.—Whatever remaining interest the French and others in Paris had in the proposed trial of Wilhelm Hohenzollern was practically ended today, following receipt of a note from Holland. This note declared that, regardless of the allies' warning, the Dutch would insist on exercising their sovereign rights as they saw fit.

In many quarters the tone of the reply was believed to be a clear indication of the non-surrender position Holland would take if a formal demand was made for the ex-kaiser. Each allied commissioner is frankly more interested in reparation than in the effort to try the former emperor.

None of the allied leaders appears to be interested in the staging of the trial except Lloyd-George. It is believed an actual plan to try Wilhelm is certain to have an effect in the minds of thousands of Germans and others which would establish him as another Napoleon.

AUMSVILLE BOY KILLED

Joseph William Eteinkamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Eteinkamp of Aumsville, was hit by an O. W. R. & N. passenger train at Millers, a short distance from The Dalles, on Monday morning.

When Steinkamp was picked up he was still breathing, but his skull was so badly crushed that he died on the way to the hospital at The Dalles.

According to trainmen Steinkamp was walking on the tracks carrying a suitcase. He stepped off one track to avoid being hit by a freight train but stepped directly in front of the passenger train which was passing the freight.

Joseph William Steinkamp was born at Sublimity twenty year ago and was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Steinkamp.—Sayton Mail.

SALE OF CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS AT DALLAS NEARLY COMPLETED

Dallas, July 12.—The sale of tickets for the Dallas chautauqua which opens in this city next Tuesday has about been completed according to a report issued by Mrs. Lillian P. Marshall, secretary of the Polk County Chautauqua association, who states that on the first day of the ticket selling campaign more than half of the number of tickets pledged the Ellison-White chautauqua system were disposed of. The plan as outlined by the association at a meeting Tuesday evening was for each of the 80 grantors to take eight tickets and dispose of them thus giving a much larger ticket selling committee than in years past when some little difficulty was experienced in selling admissions. The big day of the chautauqua this year is expected to be Sunday, July 14th when William Jennings Bryan will make the principal address.

OBITUARY

MRS. AGNES KILCOURSE.

Mrs. Agnes Kilecourse passed away July 9th, 1919, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Rich at Donald. Mrs. Kilecourse was born in Philadelphia and came to California at the age of six years, where she remained until fifteen years ago, when she came to her daughter in Oregon, where she has since made her home. She was 61 years, 5 months and 21 days old. Mrs. Kilecourse was paralyzed in her last illness. Funeral services were held at the St. Paul Catholic church on Saturday morning after which she was laid to rest in the cemetery at that place. Mrs. Kilecourse leaves to mourn her loss, a son and daughter in California and Mrs. A. J. Rich of Donald, five grandchildren. An aged aunt, Mrs. Malone of Astoria and two of her sisters, Mrs. A. B. and Mrs. W. E. Clarno of Bend, Oregon, were with her during her last illness. Mrs. Kreebter of Salem attended the funeral.

LAURA MAY FRYER.

Laura May Fryer, beloved wife of G. J. H. Fryer, died at her home in Stayton on Monday evening, July 7, at the age of 51 years. She was October 25, 1868, in Indiana, moved in her early childhood to Seaside, where she was united in marriage to G. J. H. Fryer, to which union was born a son Carl A. Fryer. She was a very nice woman with the M. E. church and always lived a true Christian. She died, as she had lived, with fervent hope of immortality beyond the vale of tears. Her life was filled with kindness and forbearance toward all. She was a kind and loving wife and mother, a true friend and always loyal to the higher and nobler things in life. Her daily walk in life was worthy our emulation. Her noble deeds live after her in the memory of those who knew her. She will be missed mourned by all, in the community which she lived and her place can never be filled. Mrs. Fryer was a faithful member of the Rebecca chapter of Aumsville. She is survived by husband G. J. H. Fryer and her son and daughter Carl and Mable.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our wife and mother, also for the beautiful floral offering.

Prune Growers, Take Notice

Salem possesses the oldest prune marketing association in the Northwest, organized in 1900, at a time when there existed a real need for its services, because prune growers then were failing and were destroying their plantations, for the want of a market.

The Willamette Valley Prune Association has operated consistently since 1900, and its records will show a higher average price per ton paid to its growers over a period of years than any like organization in the Northwest.

This Association has at the same time paid its stockholders satisfactory and regular dividends, due to its conservative business management.

It has never attempted to pull down any existing firm, association or Union, for the purpose of building itself up. It has not been ambitious to control all or any major part of the prune business of the Northwest, recognizing the fact that in recent years there has been developed men with marked ability who have established plants in many localities, who are equally capable of serving the growers by purchasing their product for cash at prices created by conditions of supply and demand.

The Willamette Valley Prune Association has a world-wide demand for its Pheasant and Hunter

Brand Oregon prunes, and it denies as false and misleading propaganda, any statement that Oregon prunes are not known in the world's markets as such.

It states without fear of successful contradiction that with the exception of pears and cherries, sometimes shipped in bulk to California manufacturers, practically no fruit now leaves Oregon without the Oregon mark.

Growers probably know what firms, associations or unions are shipping fruit out in that manner, and the growers themselves are therefore in position to control any who are guilty of shipping Oregon fruit without the Oregon label.

The Willamette Valley Prune Association suggests that prune growers will do well to consider carefully why California people are so much interested just now in a statewide effort to tie Oregon prune growers by an almost irrevocable contract for the next five years to an untried organization.

Why does a California Law firm, earning in retainers and fees, a vast sum annually, send their principal to travel throughout Oregon in an effort to talk growers into signing a tight and fast five-year contract, which contemplates turning over to the officers of an untried organization, the disposition of such a large sum as would be represented by any considerable part of Oregon's prune crop?

Supply and demand makes the market. Associations do not.

Oregon growers are especially fortunate in that the demands of the war have had the effect of a great world-wide, free, advertising campaign. There will be no over-production for many years, if ever.

Why should growers tax themselves now to build more plants and to create places for high salaried men when there is already ample plant investment, well placed throughout the state, sufficient to handle the entire crop?

Is it not questionable whether these untried men can serve the growers' interests so well as they are being served now?

Growers will be wise enough to submit the proposed plan and the contract for careful analysis to their bankers or their attorneys.
