

News for the Housewife at Preserving Time

Here is a recipe for preserving syrup that will give you finer jams, jellies and preserves—and save you about one-half your trouble.

Instead of all sugar use only one-half sugar and one-half Karo (Red Label).

You will find this means clear, firm jelly; rich preserves with heavy syrup; and delicious jams, mellow and "fruity". Karo is a fine, clear syrup, with a natural affinity for the juices of the fruit.

It blends the sugar with the fruit juice—brings out all the "fruity" flavor.

Furthermore, it prevents even the richest jam or jelly from "candyng".

It does away with all the uncertainty of preserving, and just about cuts the work in half.

For cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

THE exodus of Salem folk to the various beach resorts and California and Washington points continues steadily. The exceedingly hot weather lends added impetus to the emigration. The draws shades or closed shutters in the different residential districts of the city speak eloquently of the quiet interiors, and summer villas of level beaches and shining sands and the cool wet wind blowing in from the Pacific. Or they bring pictures of smooth California roads running on and on between rows of branching palms and beautiful aeneas; of lakes and little rivers where the sapphire sky is reflected in the sapphire water; of high mountains in blue gauzy gowns and lace white bandolier caps, standing on tiptoe at the edges of the world. They speak—those closed shutters and drawn shades, of empty little nurseries where the painted buntings and puss-in-boots look down from their panels in real disgust at the unnatural order of the room. They tell, too, of darkened libraries where the friends who never fail wait silently in their glass cases for the prodigals' return. Autumn and the early frosts will be quite welcome to the deserted homes in the city, I'm sure.

tal tour, the president is expected to have a long conference with Secretary Lansing—en route home from Paris—to learn from him the present feeling in Europe and bring up to date the information he will use in his speeches appealing for support for the covenant and treaty.

An early reply is anticipated from the white house to Senator Lodge's resolution asking for the alleged secret treaty between Japan and Germany. Government officials say they have no knowledge of it.

There was much discussion today over whether the president, on his tour, would invade Idaho, home state of Senator Borah, chief opponent of the League. It was considered likely the president would make a speech, probably at Boise, to explain to Borah's own townspeople and constituents his reasons for urging the United States to join the league.

The president plans today to keep open house for members of congress from 10 a. m. until noon. He will devote those hours to meeting senators and representatives whether they have appointments or not.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS

Woman's power in America is well illustrated by the thousands of women who entered almost every line of business to replace men who were drafted during the war. Health proved their strongest asset. Many women, however, developed weak, nervous conditions and could not stand the strain of a business life. Such women should remember there is one tried and true remedy in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for forty five years has been restoring health and strength to the women of America.
