

THE now-a-day world judges tires from a business standpoint.

Each layer and each individual cord is impregnated with live, springy rubber.

For after all, buying tires is merely buying miles at so much a mile.

The result is a lively tire. One that takes the bumps with greatest ease. One that wears many and many a mile beyond any rational expectation.

That's exactly the basis on which we sell 'Royal Cords'.

Let us put 'Royal Cords' under your car. You'll find them one of the wisest investments you ever made.

These famous good tires are built of many layers of small but exceedingly tough cords.

fort by the president to wear away opposition.

Opponents of the league of nations in the senate were ready today to resume hostilities after one day of rest.

Senator Sherman, Illinois, prepared to take the floor with an attack on the Shantung settlement in the peace treaty.

Resolutions Are Many.

League foes also had a number of resolutions ready; that of LaFollette wanting to know why Costa Rica was not allowed to sign the treaty, and that of Borah demanding that the senate be given the protest alleged to have been written by American peace delegates against Shantung settlement.

The opposition was understood to favor passage of resolutions expressing the senate's disapproval of the Shantung settlement.

There was much interest at the capital in Wilson's move to weaken the ranks of his political opponents by calling leading senators to the White House for personal talks. It was not expected that any senator would refuse such an invitation.

STATE HOUSE NEWS

Representative Eugene K. Smith is one member of the Oregon legislature who is in favor of the ratification by this state of the national women suffrage amendment. In a recent letter to Governor Olesit he urged that a special one day session of the Oregon legislature be called for the purpose of ratifying the proposed amendment. He proposes that each legislator donate the time for this purpose, and offers to set an example by proffering his own service.

The lead of the Standard Oil company over all its competitors in the west is indicated by the statement of the company just filed with the secretary of state. This shows that during the month of June they dispensed 2,337,308 gallons of gasoline and 282,807 gallons of distillate. The total tax return on both products amounted to $28,789.12.

Governor Olesit has today received a letter from Secretary Tamm, at Washington, D. C., thanking him for the invitation extended to President Wilson to stop in Salem in the course of his trip through the country, and assuring him that it would be kept in mind in making up his itinerary.

The first soldier of the world war to take advantage of the government provisions for incapacitated soldiers, under the war risk insurance act, was recently received at the state hospital. The government has provided for the payment of a maximum of $2.50 a day for the care of such patients, but Superintendent Griffith has set as a reasonable charge for the service a rate of $40 a month. The institution may receive several more such cases in the near future, as a number of inquiries have come in.

The Shell Oil company has made its statement to the secretary of state for the month of June, showing that there were sales of gasoline amounting to 170,765 gallons, along with 6197 gallons of distillate. The total tax contributed by the company was $178,82 for the month.

Attorney General Brown has received an inquiry from the Bradley Trust company as to whether it can dispose of its trust certificates in Oregon without qualifying as a regular corporation, and as to whether such sales of trust certificates would bring it under the "Blue Sky" law. The attorney holds that the persons named in the company as trustees virtually constitute an association acting in similar capacity as a corporation, and that their sales of trust certificates would constitute the transactions of a trust business. Hence they would be called upon to comply with all regulations applying to such organizations.

Five thousand auto mechanics in Oregon will be interested in the outcome of a test of the constitutionality of the act of the last legislature creating the state board of auto mechanic examiners. M. J. Dewey of Portland has entered suit in the federal court against District Attorney Walter E. Evans and the examining board in the effort to prove that the act is in violation of the 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution, and further is void in that it vests arbitrary and unlimited power in the board without prescribing a measure of efficiency to serve as a basis for examinations. In other words, the act appears to leave the way open to the board to fix a standard of efficiency that would bar everything but the best mechanical genius, or to make the examinations so lax that any old tinker could squeeze through and be permitted to work in an automobile shop.

State Engineer Cupper returned yesterday from an extended tour of irrigation districts in southern and eastern Oregon, reporting good progress in all the projects. At Grants Pass where there has been a pathetic struggle with the problem for the past 15 years they have made arrangements to pump water enough from Rogon River to water 3000 acres of bottom land, and looking toward a gravity system later. The Gold Hill project is practically completed and the district will apply to the Land Board for the certification of $25,000 worth of bonds. At Klamath Falls and other points in Klamath county he found work under way, particularly in the Langell Valley where there is a project to take water from Lost river under the U. S. Reclamation Service. At the Silver Lake project he found the engineering work about completed with a view to watering 7000 acres, and the district will apply for the certification of $300,000 in bonds. At LaPine there is a Carey Act project under way for the irrigation of 37,000 acres. This has recently been taken over by the Walker Basin Irrigation company, who will store water from the Deschutes in Crescent Lake. Mr. Cupper's last stop was at Bend where he visited the Tumalo project one of the most important in eastern Oregon.

attitude of the Reds. In the belief of members of the former Hungarian government, now exiled in Switzerland, "occupation of Budapest by American and British forces as a strategic base—in conformity with the conditions of the armistice—would not meet with real opposition from the bolsheviks and would render an offensive unnecessary. But this is problematical."

But there appears, however, to be an actual need for allied occupation of Vienna, since the bolsheviks are reported to be planning another coup here for July 21.

ROCKWELL FIELD FLYER KILLED WHEN MACHINE CRASHES AND BURNS UP

Los Angeles, Cal., July 17.—Lieutenant Mauser, said to be an aviator from Rockwell Field, San Diego, fell 300 feet in his airplane at Hollywood late yesterday and was killed. Mauser was taking the air bound for San Diego. After attaining a high altitude, apparently he started to do a trail spin as a sort of a farewell stunt for the aviators at De Mille field. It is believed he lost control of the machine. When the plane reached an altitude of about 300 feet watchers were shocked to see that it did not come out of the spin, and in a moment it crashed to earth, blazing into a mass of flames.

INTERNATIONAL FLAG

A flag of all nations which is being designed in my office right now. I don't believe in preparedness; working men will upset wars."

Ford gave way as a witness to Kirkland D. Alexander, Detroit publicity man, and was an interested listener to quotations regarding war and war makers which Alexander said were culled from conversations with the automobile manufacturer. Alexander said Ford remarked that "if the prime ministers, presidents, kings and emperors were put in the trenches they could find a way to end the war."

Ford added, he said, "yes, there is no hate in the trenches as usually the men who make money out of the wars are men who start them and we finish them."

"Do you not think Germany has insulted Belgium?" Alexander said he asked Ford. "No," was Ford's reply, the witness said. "If Germany had not done so England or France would have beaten them to it."

Alexander said Ford expressed the belief that Germany was ready for peace about the time the peace ship idea was discussed with him and for that reason he launched his famous "out of the trenches by Christmas" project.

"We would have been in the Franco-Prussian war if we had not had a war on with England," Ford said, according to Alexander.

Alexander said Ford told him his peace trip, "had shown him the German people and emperor were for peace, but the people who started the war prevented peace." He said Ford told him the nation could not accept the pope's terms because that "would leave the pope too high."

Fate Of Phone Strike Agreement Depends On Working Of Document

San Francisco, July 17.—What action striking Pacific coast telephone workers will take on the agreement in Washington between the wire control board and union representatives depends entirely upon the wording of the full text of the agreement, members of the central strike committee stated today. Request has been wired to Washington for further particulars.

Operators in Sacramento and other cities are asking if the agreement provides for recognition of the union. They state they will not return to work unless this is specified. The central strike committee issued a statement to the local unions reminding them that no agreement is binding until accepted by a referendum vote of the coast operators and electricians.

The Washington agreement, as outlined in telegrams received provides for an increased wage for operators, and
