"Tropes" (Handel); offertory, "Berceuse in A" (Debussé); communion, "Abide With Me"; postlude (Smart). Evening service: "Berceuse" (McCollin); offertory, "From the Land of the Sky-blue Water" (Caldwell-Eddy); "Postlude in G" (Hosmer). The new pipe organ will be heard for the first time in church music. Critics who heard the organ last Wednesday were unanimous in their praises of its tonal qualities and flexibility of volume. Professor Roberts won the hearts of the audience in the splendid arrangement of classics. Frank Churchhill, the church organist, has had years of training at the organ, aside from his work as professor of piano with the extension department and he and Chorister Epley have prepared the day's program with great care and forethought. Dedicatory services will occur at a later time, but in the meantime an urgent request and invitation is extended to all who will share in the services of the church as augmented by the new instrument.

Court Street Christian Church.

Corner of Court and North Nineteenth streets, R. L. Putnam, pastor. Bible school at 10 a. m. sharp. Our contest against "Summer Slump" is on. Let every member of the school in the city be present. Which class going to have the largest average attendance for the summer? Hear "Convention Echoes" by the pastor. Dallas Says Chautauqua This Year Best Yet Held

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Dallas, Or., July 19.—The Ellison-White Chautauqua system's program this year for the Dallas chautauqua is the best ever brought to this city the program so far exceeding that of former years and the biggest and best numbers are yet to appear. The lecture by Dr. Joseph Clark on the "Riddle of the Russian Revolution" Tuesday evening was interesting and instructive to both old and young alike and was greatly enjoyed by all. W. J. Hindley of Spokane, Washington, spoke Wednesday evening of "America at the Parting of the Ways," a lecture particularly interesting. Mr. Hindley is well known to a number of Dallas people and received a warm welcome while in the city. The singing Thursday by the Lewis Quartet was exceptionally good, the ex-soldiers making a "hit" with the Dallas people. In the evening the dramatic reading "Turn to the Right" by Edwin M. Whitney was one of the most clever performances ever put on a stage in this city and Mr. Whitney held the audience which packed the big tent in an attentive mood for more than two hours. Today Ida M. Tarbell, noted journalist will speak and tomorrow will be one of the biggest days with the Czech-Slovak band and William Jennings Bryan as the drawing cards. Private Peat will appear Sunday evening and the chautauqua will close Monday with an illustrated lecture on "The Closing Days of the War" by Henry Warren Poor. The chautauqua association were more than successful in posting of season tickets this year, more than $400 worth of tickets above the guarantee being sold. A committee of business men are now at work among the citizens signing up guarantors for the chautauqua for next year and late Thursday afternoon after but a few hours work had practically as many signers as went on the guarantee last year.

DEATH OF ONE OF STATE'S OLDEST PIONEERS SUNDAY

One of our oldest pioneers Mrs. Monica Paquette, widow of Pascal Paquette died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Holt, at Scotts Mills, at nine o'clock Sunday evening, in her 82nd year. The funeral was Tuesday morning, services being held at the Mt. Angel Catholic church and largely attended, Rev. Fr. Berthel being the celebrant. Interment was in the Mt. Angel Catholic cemetery beside her late husband. All of the children were present but two, John Paquette who is somewhere in Alaska, and Mrs. Cecelia Howard of Centralia, who is ill. The life of Mrs. Paquette is closely identified with this section and she is remembered with esteem and for her many acts of kindness by all of the old timers. She was born in 1828 in Canada and crossed the plains with her parents, Francis and Susan Pluard, in 1851. They arrived first at Cowitz Prairie, then later came to Vancouver, Washington, then to Champoug, Oregon. Here the Hudson Bay company of which Mr. Pluard was a member, dissolved and Mr. Pluard took up a homestead, pre-emption and donation land claim. At one time he owned the old Lemery, Dodge and Chase places, Susan Pluard died at the age of 88 years and Francis Pluard passed away at the age of 108 years. They are buried at Highland. Monica Paquette married Pascal Paquette at St. Louis in 1851, when she was 13 years of age. They had twelve children, eight of whom survive her, the husband and father having passed away 26 years ago. The surviving children are: Pascal Paquette, Mission Bottom; John Paquette, Alaska; Mrs. Cecelia Howard, Centralia, Wash.; Albert Paquette, with the Bohemia Lumber company, Dorcas, Ore., near Cottage Grove; James Paquette, Scotts Mills; Mrs. Rosie Holt, Scotts Mills; Mrs. Adelaide Eason, Boyd, Ore., also a large number of grand-children and great grand-children. In her girlhood days deceased had only little Indian girls to play with. Her husband was the first shoemaker on French Prairie and at first put soles on moccasins before he got tools. He made the first pair of boots the late James Casey ever wore. His shop was the first built at St. Louis, but he afterward traveled around and did work at the different ranches. In those days the slough road through Woodburn was called Deer creek and there were lots of deer, cougar and some elk.—Woodburn Independent.

Everything In Readiness For Chautauqua Opening

Everything is opening up fine for the annual chautauqua to begin this year next Sunday, July 20, with a lecture by Dr. Joseph Clark, speaking on the "Riddle of the Russian Revolution." As this is a subject of special interest to soldiers and sailors and marines, the chautauqua management announces free admission to the boys who are either in uniform or who present the card issued by the Salem Commercial Club. Dr. H. C. Epley, president of the local chautauqua announces a special community sing for Sunday evening. This will include the singing of several of the old time songs such as "Rock of Ages." Guy G. Emery, director and platform manager of the chautauqua, is already in the city. He will have charge of the program next week. He says the program for this year has been giving the greatest satisfaction, according to reports received from the south.

PARR-WOODRUFF WEDDING.

Miss Mildred Woodruff and Lynn Parr were married last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Woodruff, 1291 Mallory street. Rev. Arthur L. Hutchins performed the ceremony. Elvira Thurlow was maid of honor and Fred Parkwood was best man. Only relatives and a few close friends of the bride couple were present. The bride was gowned in white georgette with lace overdrapes. Leah Perkins Wyatt sang "At Dawning." Mr. and Mrs. Parr will spend their honeymoon at Mount Hood and will go to Elma, Wash the first of September where Mr. Parr will be principal of the high school. Both are University of Oregon graduates, the bride in the class of 1918 and her husband in the class of 1917. Mrs. Parr is a member of Phi Beta Phi and Mr. Parr of Delta Tau Delta.—Portland Oregonian, July 10.

Mr. Parr is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Parr of Woodburn and has many friends here who join the Independent in congratulations.—Woodburn Independent.

DEATH OF JOSEPH LAVINE.

Joseph Lavine, after a protracted illness died at his home east of Woodburn, at 9 o'clock Friday evening, July 11 1919.

Mr. Lavine was born at Burlington, Wis., on December 12, 1857, and was the son of Frank and Olive Lavine. With his wife and family he came to Woodburn several years ago. He leaves a widow Ella Lavine, two daughters, Pearl of Woodburn and Della of Beaverton, and two sons, Willis and Hector, of Woodburn, also grandchildren.

Mr. Lavine was a good man, hard working, of a kindly disposition to all, and his last thoughts were for the comfort of his wife and children. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America and joined the camp here in 1898. His policy of $2,000 was for the benefit of his wife.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home. On account of the number of friends present services were held outside under a tree, Rev. Arthur A. Harriman of Eugene officiating. Interment was at Belle Pass.

HIS NARROW ESCAPE.

Sergeant George Adams arrived home yesterday from San Antonio, Texas, on a 30-day furlough. Sgt. Adams has had some very remarkable experiences and narrow escapes. He is a member of the 4th balloon company and was in the same convoy to France as Company I.

He landed in France about the first of January, 1918, and was in nearly all the drives after that. His dangerous duty was to go up in observation balloons, take photographs and make maps of the enemy's positions. His balloon was the constant target of the Germans and at one time machine gun fire hit it and he came down in a parachute, slightly hurting himself but not permanently being disabled. Sgt. Adams brought back many souvenirs and is enjoying his visit home. His term of enlistment in the regulars in the above company, does not expire until next March, when he will probably re-enlist. He holds a pilot's license for balloon work.—Woodburn Independent.

DEATH OF MRS. N. S. SOOLLARD

The death of Mrs. N. S. Soollard at 12:30 Friday afternoon caused a wave of sincere sorrow to pass over the community, where she was held in such high esteem by all.

Catherine I. Fitzgerald was born on the Fitzgerald land claim, just southeast of Woodburn, on October 12, 1869. She was the daughter of Thomas and Mary Fitzgerald. She received her education in Portland public schools and at St. Mary's academy. In 1884 she married N. S. Soollard and to this ideal union were born five children, all of whom with her husband are living at home—Mary, Margaret, Stephen, Cecil and Edward. Mrs. Soollard also leaves two brothers, Dr. Henry Fitzgerald of Portland and Judge Thomas Fitzgerald of Pendleton, also two half sisters, Mrs. Honora Murphy and Miss Mary Hershberger of Portland, beside other relatives.

Too much cannot be said in extolling the deceased. As stated in the funeral sermon, she was a woman in ten thousand. She was a faithful and devoted wife, a loving mother who was proud of and thought much of her children, was a woman with a beautiful character, a devout Christian and very hospitable.

The funeral as Sunday morning last, requiem high mass being held at the St. Luke's Catholic church at 10:15, the church being filled with sorrowing relatives and friends. The celebrant was Fr. Bernard Murphy of Mt. Angel, a nephew of deceased. There were flowers and beautiful floral emblems in profusion. Relatives and friends present from a distance were Dr. and Mrs. Henry Fitzgerald of Pendleton, Judge and Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald of Pendleton, Mrs. Honora Murphy and Miss Mary Hershberger of Portland, Miss Cora Masie of Portland, Milton Fitzgerald of Portland, J. B. Kennedy and family of Portland, Vinton Murphy and son of Portland, Mrs. Beatrice Holden of Portland, H. O. Hodapp and family of Portland and Benj. Smith and family of Newberg. The pall bearers were Joe Aicher, Theo. Nebl, J. B. Hunt, George Miller, Henry Hall and M. J. McCormick.

CLANCY-BOSCOE WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Mabel Isabelle Boscoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boscoe of East Woodburn, and William John Clancy of Portland, was solemnized at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at St. Mary's Episcopal church in this city. The Rev. Archdeacon H. D. Chambers of Portland officiated. Preceding the entrance of the bridal couple, Mrs. Beulah Barlow of Portland sang "I Love You True," Mrs. T. C. Poorman accompanying on the organ. The bride was attired in a simple frock of white crepe de chine headed in pearls, her tulle veil being held in place by an orange blossom wreath previously worn by her mother. She was attended by Mrs. Frank Wolfe as matron of honor. The best man was
