CITY NEWS.

Two Portland men, who claimed to be brothers, bearing the names of J. W. Smith and Chas. Smith were picked up on the street last evening by an officer. Both were drunk, and this charge was filed against them. They were fined $10 each this morning.

George E. Halvorsen of Salem with George P. Griffith and Chas. Miller of Jefferson, have formed a company and have taken over the Marion garage in the Ryan building. The company will handle Franklin and Oldsmobile cars. It will do a general garage business including a full line of auto accessories. Mr. Halvorsen is well known in the city in automobile circles, having been owner of a garage at Perry and High streets before enlisting in the war.

There has been such an awakening interest in dance circles lately that Claire A. Vibbert, who was president of the former Salem canoe club, announces that at an early date a call will be made for the organization of a permanent canoe club. There is already about 15 canoes owned in Salem and with those who have recently become interested in canoeing, it is thought an active club can be maintained here. Word has been received from Forest Grove of the death of Miss Mary L. Hetrick. About four years ago she was a resident of Salem and had charge of the post card department of Patton Bros.

C. W. Niemyer, who was a personal friend of Private Peat in Edmonton, Canada, before both enlisted in the war says that the famous soldier and writer has taken a 90 day option on property in Salem. With his wife Private Peat will go to Canada as soon as he fills his engagement with the Ellison-White chalet, and then return to Salem to make a decision as to whether he will make this city his home. The property on which he took an option is valued at about $7000. It is the climate and beauty of this part of the valley around Salem that so especially attracted Private Peat and his wife.

Long Tom, a Chinaman who has lived in Salem for the past thirty years died yesterday in a local hospital at the age of 70 years. He has of recent years been making his home on Perry street, near High. He was buried this afternoon in the Odd Fellows cemetery according to the Chinese custom.

It is now farewell to slot machines in Salem, even the one cent chewing gum kind. Chief of Police Varney has issued an order, acting under the state law, that slot machines in Salem are now tabs and all who have been renting the machines on a 30-50 basis, have been notified that such are not in accordance with the law. Dealers in the suburbs have also been notified to pull in the slot machine.

Two building permits were issued late Saturday. H. R. Curtis will spend $1000 in putting up a frame dwelling at 250 North 18th street in Queen Anne's addition to the city of Salem. Joseph Thiel who recently purchased the house at 742 State street a two story frame dwelling, will spend $1000 in repairing the building and making it modern in every respect.

J. W. Rowland left this morning for Portland to meet his son, Tracy D. Rowland, who arrives there today from France. He has been in France about a year serving with base regiment No. 1.

Rev. T. S. Anderson and wife leave today for an outing of two weeks, and from there will go to northern points. Mr. Anderson takes a vacation during the month of August and in his absence there will be no preaching services in the First Presbyterian church. However arrangements have been made for a substitution service at the regular Sunday school hour, and the prayer services will be continued.

FOREST FIRES MENACE RAILROAD LINE TODAY

High Winds Sweep Flames Toward Montana Power System Lines.

Missoula, Mont., July 28.—Power lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad's electrification system were menaced today by the Gold Creek fire which was fanned by high winds during the night. This fire is sweeping over the entire Couer D'Alene district.

St. Regis is again in serious danger. The Gold Creek fire destroyed a camp at Dry Creek and is threatening other lumber camps.

Souden and Stark are threatened by the fire in Nigger Gulch. Dry land farmers in eastern Montana are being recruited to fight the fires. Good progress has been made by fire fighters in the Missoula forest. The Hamilton water supply was saved when the Skalkaho fire was controlled.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES ON AID BILL

Opinions On Educational Assistance Measure Are Issued Today.

Both educators and returned soldiers will be interested in an opinion issued today from the office of Attorney General Brown with regard to the soldiers' and sailors' aid bill. As recently stated, a conference of educators and heads of institutions have agreed upon the matter of standards and methods of administration under the act; but there came up the question as to how the immediate claims of institutions could be met, since the legislature made no other provision than the two-tenths levy to be collected next year. This question was placed before the attorney general, and Assistant Van Winkle, who writes the opinion, shows that under the act no funds can be used for the aid of soldiers and sailors aside from those derived from the special levy. He points out, however, that under the amended act of 1917 such a levy as this becomes available January 1, 1920, notwithstanding that it is not collected until later in the year.

Dputy Kosar further asks what course shall be taken with the claims that may be presented before the first of January, 1920, and whether he will have authority to audit them and issue certificates of audit and allowance. Replying to this, Mr. Van Winkle holds that no warrants may be issued for this purpose until funds are available; but he shows that the language of this act brings the matter under the jurisdiction of the emergency board, and upon the authority of this board, the secretary of state may issue certificates of audit and allowance to cover claims until funds are available.

This opinion would seem to open the way for institutions to accept applications under the educational aid law. Within a few weeks there will be another meeting of the conferees when a definite announcement will be made as to available institutions and requirements.

Among other opinions issued from the office is one in reply to a query from the industrial accident commission as to how long the minor dependent children of a man accidentally killed in occupation will be entitled to receive aid from the commission. It is shown that according to the statute, a dependent child, if a boy, is entitled to a maximum of $15 a month until he reaches the age of 16 years, while a girl is entitled to receive aid until she is 18 years of age.

Another matter cited by the commission is compensation for death of a son whose parents are divorced. It is held that in a case of this kind the parent to whom has been awarded the custody of the children is entitled to the compensation, since the parents who is separated by divorce or desertion is considered to have forfeited all claim to the children and their property.

H. A. Holley, mineral examiner for the land office, No definite word has been received concerning the exact status of the larger leases in the Thunder mountain district and on Johnson Creek. Few new fires are reported.

AIRPLANE FLIGHT ADDS NOVELTY TO OBSERVANCE OF GOLDEN WEDDING DAY

After celebrating her golden wedding Saturday, Mrs. Caroline Kugel decided that it was about time to take an airplane ride. Hence with her son, she went out to Olcott aviation field Sunday evening and at about 8:30 o'clock was taking a view of the city half a mile high from an airplane. When asked as to whether she preferred just plain riding or something extra, she replied that she wanted all the extras thrown in. Although 67 years old, she said the ride was perfectly wonderful and that she enjoyed every minute of the time in the air.

The airplane was busy yesterday with Pilot Elmer Cook, late of the American Expeditionary Forces in France. About 21 ambitious citizens were given rides. Late in the evening with approaching darkness, the flights were only 1000 feet high.

After tomorrow evening, the plan will fly to Eugene where arrangements have been made for several days of commercial flying. As soon as the Eugene engagement is ended, the plan will return to Salem for a few days before filling other engagements.

Saturday afternoon Aviator Cook demonstrated some fancy work for those attending the races. The stunts included the Immersman turn, vrille, falling leaf and others that have become known to the American public as part of the training before an aviator was allowed on the front lines in France. Lieutenant Cook was not only one of the fortunate ones to fly on the front, but to be one of the few aviators, who were with the army of occupation.

Members of Salem Lodge No. 336, B. P. O. E. who intend to go by train to the state convocation at Klamath Falls Aug. 13 are asked to notify either the local lodge secretary or August Huestein, as so many are taking the trip by automobile, no special coach will be secured for Salem and those going by train will be obliged to secure their accommodations within a week or so. From Portland the return rate including Pullman is $35. As Salem is in the field for the 1920 state convocation special efforts are being made to secure a large attendance from this lodge.
