Inate Husband Shoots Man He Alleges Stole Affections Of Spouse

San Francisco, July 28.—Declaring Joe Berone, whom he cared for when sick, reciprocated by placing a "love potion" in his host's wife's food, thereby stealing her affections, Phillip Bussalacchi, a teamster, shot and seriously wounded Berone today. The men, formerly friends, met today for the first time since Berone, recovering from illness under the nursing of Mr. and Mrs. Bussalacchi. The husband immediately accused Berone of sprinkling a white powder on Mrs. Bussalacchi's watermelon at his last meal with them. "You did that to turn her love from me—it has done so," Bussalacchi shouted, recalling the event in his talk with Berone. "You lie," Berone answered. They exchanged blows, then Bussalacchi stepped back and according to witnesses, drew a pistol and fired twice, both bullets striking Berone.

White Divorce Proceedings Settled Outside Of Court

The divorce proceedings in the suit of Edyth Eyre White against Dr. B. H. White have been settled out of court. Also the suit regarding the ownership of real estate in the city and elsewhere.

Papers in the case were filed late Saturday afternoon, wherein it was stipulated that the suit be dismissed without costs against either party. With the filing of papers showing the suits had been compromised, there was filed in the county recorder's office a deed to the home property in Salem from Dr. B. H. White to E. M. Page who transferred the property by quit claim deed to Mrs. White.

The original divorce proceedings were filed April 30 and on the same date a suit for the possession of property, wherein Mrs. White alleged that her husband had bought property with her own money, which included the Salem home, and instead of deeding it to her, it was deeded to them by fat equity, by which the husband had equal right.

The divorce proceedings were filed April 30 and on May 2 Dr. White was enjoined from removing the two children from the jurisdiction of the court. On May 3 Mrs. White was also enjoined from removing the children beyond the court's jurisdiction.

W. H. Pringle, a former manager of the American-Scandinavian bank at Tacoma, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $55,000 and assets $12,000.

Gladiolus in a bathing suit and an Indian blanket, a young lady was brought home yesterday evening from Silver Creek falls, along with a party of three other girls and a young man. According to the story, the four girls were in bathing Sunday afternoon at Silver Creek falls and while every body was having a good time, a stranger came along and helped himself to about all of the clothing belonging to this one girl. Every effort was made to find the missing garments, but according to report, they could not be found. Hence the return to the city in the bathing suit and the Indian blanket.

Although the county court has been willing to take up the matter of fighting thistles in Marion county, there has so far been only one district formed to legally go after the Canadian thistle. This district is in the Victor Point section. Reports from that part of the county indicate a number of farmers are doing their utmost to remove thistles on their own land, but in this one instance, it was found necessary to appeal to the county court.

Harley O. White is home from an auto trip to Mt. Rainier with his family. He reports camping amidst snowbanks last week when Salem was having a touch of real summer time. Business is so good for hotels and rooming houses along the way that if accommodations are wanted, it is necessary to engage them in advance. Mr. White says that so far this summer, 10,000 tourists have camped at Mt. Rainier and that the tourist traffic is by far the heaviest ever known. Crop conditions are just fair in western Washington, he said, and not to be compared with that of the Willamette valley. He also noted that all logging camps are busy.

John A. Evans of Seattle, a brother of Wm. D. Evans of this city, is here for a week's visit. About 16 years ago Mr. Evans was quite familiar with the country around the city in the way of fishing and hunting and this is his first visit since 1903.

Every household should have a jar of Resinol to heal skin troubles

Minor skin troubles—itching patches, bits of rash or redness—so easily develop into serious, stubborn afflictions, that every home-maker should have Resinol Ointment on hand to check them before they get the upper hand. We recommend Resinol for this with the utmost confidence because of its harmless ingredients and its success in healing eczema and similar serious skin diseases.

Resinol Ointment is an excellent healing dressing, too, for chafes, burns and sunburns. Little sores. Antiseptic, disinfectant, sold by all druggists.
