To Our Customers

Advance in prices is the rule today. Withdrawal of prices by many mills is common, and other mills quote prices prevailing only at the time of shipment.

This Condition

Is due to the scarcity of materials, higher manufacturing costs, incidental to higher wages and decreased production. This condition affects every line and your "Home Merchant" has very little latitude in the matter.

Our prediction is, that prices prevailing today will appear cheap compared to prices within the

We hope we are mistaken but cannot see what will cause a decline.

The demand from the world is decreasing our supplies and the result is necessarily high prices.
