

Hot Summer Sun Trying on the Complexion

How to Protect Your Skin and Bring Roses to Your Cheeks

A Free Oatmeal Prescription Does Its Work Overnight. You Can Prepare
It at Home

New York—Exposure to sun, dust and wind has a very bad effect upon the skin and complexion. There is a way to overcome this. "It is my own discovery and takes just one night to get such marvelous results," says Mae Edna Wilder, when her friends ask her about her wonderful complexion and the improved appearance of her hands and arms. "You can do the same thing if you follow my advice," she says. "I feel it my duty to tell every girl and woman what this wonderful prescription did for me. I never tire of telling others just what brought about such remarkable results. Here is the identical prescription that removed every defect from my face, neck, hands and arms. Until you try it you can form no idea of the marvelous change it will make in just one application. The prescription which you can prepare at your own home is as follows:

"Go to any grocery store and get ten cents worth of ordinary oatmeal, and from any drug store a bottle of Derswillo. Prepare the oatmeal as directed in every package of Derswillo and apply night and morning. The first application will astonish you. It makes the skin appear transparent, smooth and velvety. I especially recommend this method for a sallow skin, shiny nose, freckles, tan, sun spots, coarse pores, rough skin, ruddiness, wrinkles, and in fact every blemish of the face, hands and arms are heir to. If your neck or chest is discolored from exposure, apply this combination there and the objectionable defect will disappear. It is absolutely harmless and will not produce or stimulate a growth of hair. No matter how rough and uncleanly the hands and arms or what abrasions they have had through hard work and exposure to sun and wind, this oatmeal Derswillo combination will work a wonderful transformation in 12 hours at the most. Thousands who have used it report the same results I have had."

Miss O. C. says: "My complexion was poor and my skin rough. My neck, chest, hands and arms were dark from exposure. The very first application of this wonderful Derswillo Oatmeal combination convinced me that my poor complexion and skin blemishes would soon be a thing of the past. In a few weeks all these unsightly defects had entirely disappeared and I shall always use it to keep my complexion at its best all the time. I have recommended it to my girl friends and they are just as enthusiastic over it as I am. We all use it before going to the theater, dances or parties and it's wonderful what a difference it makes in our appearance."

Mrs. G. V. writes: "Oatmeal and Derswillo have worked miracles with my complexion. I had many deep wrinkles and a sallow, rough skin. My hands and arms were covered with freckles. After eight weeks use of Mae Edna Wilder's wonderful complexion prescription these objectionable defects have entirely vanished. I look ten years younger and advise every girl and woman to try it and feel confident after the first application they will use it continuously and be just as favorably impressed with it as I am. I recommend it to all of my friends."

NOTE—To get the very best effect be sure to follow the complete directions contained in every package of Derswillo. You have only to get Derswillo and oatmeal. You need nothing else, and it is so simple that any one can use it, and so inexpensive that any girl or woman can afford it. The manufacturers and druggists guarantee that there will be a noticeable improvement after the first application or they will refund the money. It is sold in this city under a money refund guarantee by department stores and all druggists, including the Fry and the Perry drug stores.

with those of these nations and peoples—most intimately of it with the nations and peoples upon whom the chief burden and confusion of the war fell and who are now most dependent upon the cooperative action of the world.

Foreign Trade Great.

We are just now shipping more goods out of our ports to foreign markets than we ever shipped before—not foodstuffs merely, but stuffs and materials of every sort; but this is no index of what our foreign sales will continue to be or of the effect the volume of our exports will have on supplies and prices. It is impossible yet to predict how far, or how long foreign purchases will be able to find the money or the credit to pay for or sustain such purchases on such a scale; how soon or to what extent foreign manufacturers can resume their former production, foreign farmers get their accustomed crops from their own fields, foreign mines resume their former output; foreign merchants to set up again their old machinery of trade with the ends of the earth. All these things must remain uncertain until peace is established and the nations of the world have concerted the methods by which normal life and industry are to be restored. All that we shall do, in the meantime, to restrain profiteering and put the life of our people upon a tolerable footing will be makeshift and provisional. There can be no settled condition here or elsewhere until the treaty of peace is out of the way and the work of liquidating the war has become the chief concern of our government and of the other governments of the world. Until then, there will inevitably remain speculative and away now this way and again that, with heavy losses or heavy gains as it may chance, and the consumer must take care of both the gains and the losses. There can be no price prices so long as our whole financial and economic system is on a war basis.

Europe will not, recoup her capital or put her restless distracted people to work until she knows exactly where she stands in respect of peace; and what we will do for her is the chief question upon which her quietude of mind and confidence and purpose stand.

While there is any possibility that the peace terms may be changed or may be held long in abeyance, or may not be enforced because of divisions of opinion among the powers associated against Germany, it is idle to look for permanent relief.

Immediate Action Urged.

But what we can do we should do, and should do at once. And there is a great deal that we can do, provisional thought it be. Wheat shipments and credits to facilitate the purchase of our wheat can and will be limited and controlled in such a way as not to raise but rather lower the price of flour here. The government has the power, within certain limits to regulate that. We cannot deny wheat to foreign peoples who are in dire need of it, and we do not wish to do so; but fortunately, though the wheat crop is not what we hoped it would be, it is abundant if handled with provident care. The price of wheat is lower in the United States than in Europe and can, with proper management, be kept so.

To Release Surplus.

By way of immediate relief, surplus stock of both food and clothing in the hands of the government will be sold, and, of course, sold at prices at which there is no profit. And, by way of a more permanent correction of prices, surplus stocks in private hands will be drawn out of storage and put upon the market. Fortunately, under the terms of the food control act, the hoarding of foodstuffs can be checked and prevented; and they will be, with the greatest energy. Foodstuffs can be drawn out of storage and sold by legal action, which the department of justice will institute wherever necessary; but so soon as the situation is systematically dealt with it is not likely that the courts will often have to be resorted to. Much of the accumulating of stocks has no doubt been due to the sort of speculation which always results from uncertainty. Great surpluses were accumulated because it was impossible to foresee what the market would disclose and dealers were determined to be ready for whatever might happen, as well as eager to reap the full advantage of rising prices. They will now see the disadvantage, as well as the danger, of holding off from the new process of distribution.

Food Reserves Large.

Some very interesting and significant facts with regard to stocks on hand and the rise of prices in the face of abundance have been disclosed by the inquiries of the department of agriculture, the department of labor and the federal trade commission. They seem to justify the statement that in the case of many necessary commodities of foodstuffs means have been found to prevent the normal operation of the law of supply and demand. Disregarding the surplus stock in the hands of the government, there was a greater supply of foodstuffs in this country on June 1 of this year than at the same date last year.

In the combined total of a number of the most important foods in dry and cold storage the excess is not quite 19 per cent. And yet prices have risen. The supply of fresh eggs on hand in June, this year, for example, was greater by nearly 19 per cent than the supply on hand at the same time last year and yet the wholesale price was 40 cents a dozen, as against 25 cents a year ago. The stock of frozen turkeys had increased more than two hundred and ninety-eight per cent and yet the price had risen also from 34 cents per pound to 27 1/2 cents. The supply of emergency butter had increased a 159 per cent and the price from 41 cents to 52 cents per pound. The supply of salt beef had been augmented 3 per cent and the price had gone up from $34 a barrel to $36 a barrel. Canned corn had increased in stock nearly 80 per cent and had remained substantially the same in price. In a few foodstuffs the prices also declined, but in

SUBSTITUTE FOR BITRO-PHOSPHATE LEADS TO ARREST

Pharmacist Sought to Make Fortune
By Trading Upon Reputation of Well Known Tonic, Strength, Tissue and Blood Builder—Imitation Did Not Contain Strength Giving Properties of Genuine Product

Phoenix, Ariz.—The arrest of a pharmacist of this city revealed a gigantic plot to violate the state and federal statutes by selling a cheap, inferior substance represented to be genuine bitro-phosphate.

The authorities found thousands of counterfeit labels and materials indicating elaborate plans for the nation wide exploitation of the spurious tonic. The case is unique in the criminal records of Arizona and serves as a warning to the public against worthless imitations designed to sell upon the reputation of high grade, efficacious preparations.

For many years Bitro-Phosphate has enjoyed the confidence of its millions of users and the fact that reputable physicians prescribe and recommend it in cases of nervousness, excessive thinness and general weakness makes it the natural target for the unscrupulous substitute.

Frederick Kolle, M. D., emfwpp
Frederick Kolle, M. D., editor of
New York "Physicians Who's Who" says Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every physician and used in every hospital to increase the strength and enrich the blood of weak, thin, nervous or anemic people.

The genuine bitro-phosphate is sold by all first class druggists under a definite guarantee of satisfaction or money back and cases of attempted substitution or the sale of an imitation should be reported to Arrow Chemical Co., sole manufacturers, 31 Union Square, New York City.

Nothing like the proportion in which the supply had increased. For example, the stock of canned tomatoes had increased 192 per cent and yet the price had declined only 25 cents per dozen cans. In some cases there has been the usual result of an increase of price following a decrease of supply, but in almost every instance the increase of price has been disproportionate to the decrease in stock.

The attorney general has been making a careful study of the situation as a whole and of the laws that can be applied to better it, and is convinced that under the stimulation and temptation of exceptional cases combinations of producers and combinations of traders have been formed for the control of supplies and prices which are clearly in restraint of trade and against these prosecutions will be promptly instituted and actively pushed, which will in all likelihood have a prompt corrective effect. There is reason to believe that the prices of leather, of coal, of lumber and of textiles have been materially affected by forms of concert and cooperation among the producers and marketers of these and other universally necessary commodities which it will be possible to redress. No watchful or energetic effort will be spared to accomplish this necessary result. I trust that here will not be many cases in which prosecution will be necessary. Public action will no-doubt cause many who have, perhaps unwittingly, adopted illegal methods to abandon them promptly and of their own motion.

And publicity can accomplish a great deal. The purchaser can often take care of himself if he knows the facts and influences he is dealing with; and purchasers are not disinclined to do anything, either singly or collectively, that may be necessary for their self protection. The department of commerce, the department of agriculture, the department of labor and the federal trade commission can do a great deal toward supplying the public, systematically and at short intervals, with information regarding the actual supply of particular commodities that is in existence and available, with regard to supplies which are in existence but not available because of hoarding and with regard to the methods of price fixing which are being used by dealers in certain foodstuffs and other necessities. There can be little doubt that retailers are in part—sometimes in large part—responsible for exorbitant prices; and it is quite practicable for the government, through the agencies I have mentioned, to supply the public with full information as to the prices at which retailers buy and as to the costs of transportation they paid, in order that it may be known just what margin of profit they are demanding. Opinion and concerted action on the part of purchasers can probably do the rest.

That is, those agencies may perform this indispensable service, provided the congress will supply them with the necessary funds to prosecute their inquiries and keep their price lists up to date. Hereto the appropriations committee of the house have not always, I fear, seen the full value of these inquiries and the departments and committees have been very much straitened for means to render this service. That adequate funds be provided by appropriation for this purpose and provided as promptly as possible is one of the means of greatly ameliorating the recent distressing conditions of livelihood that I have come to urge, in this attempt to concert with you the best ways to serve the country in this emergency. Tobacco Habit Dangerous says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health today were it not for the deadly drug Nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up to date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets; take them as directed and lo! the pernicious habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refund the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Doctor Connor soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it.
