Silverton is now wrestling with the proposition of granting a right of way through the city for the proposed Portland and Southeastern railway company. This is the company that has been securing rights of way as far south as Mehama. Two Portland attorneys representing the railroad were in conference with the Silverton councilman yesterday. The road wants a right of way coming in from the north end of the city past the old hop growers warehouse, then skirting east and out of the city on Third street. So far, it is understood the Silverton aldermen have not been able to find out what interests were back of the proposed road.

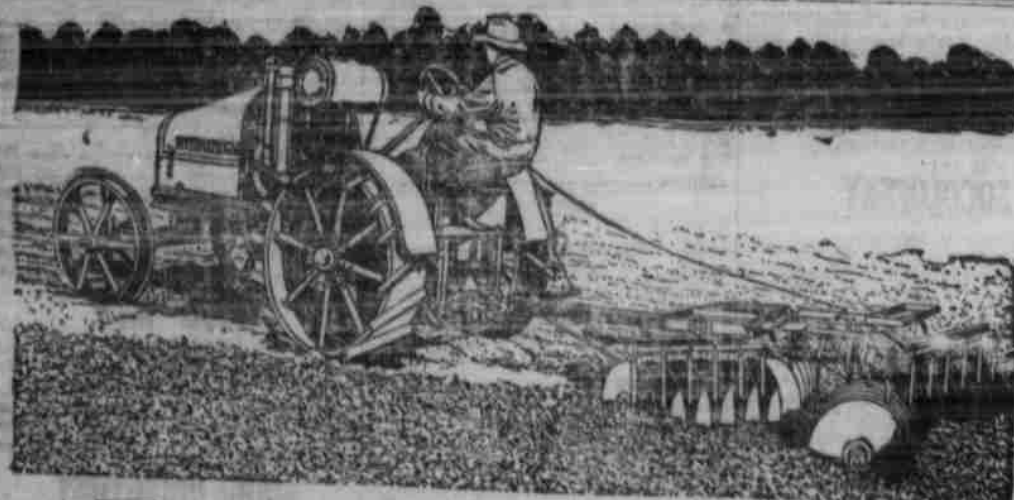

The Iowa folks will hold their annual picnic Wednesday at the fair grounds. Instead of having the basket dinner in the evening as first announced, Glenn Adams, president of the society, says the dinner is to be held at noon and then the afternoon given to the usual exercises, reminiscences and election of officers.

A marriage license was issued this morning to Howard J. Sautley, 19, of Salem rural route 2 and Flossie M. Travis, 18, also of Salem. As the prospective groom is not of legal age, the father accompanied him to the county clerk's office and gave his official sanction to the marriage.

Those who have mailed checks to the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company for the August account and are sending the rental charges at the old figure instead of the new one, are receiving their checks back. One person who is on a four party line, who sent in a check for $1.50 for August, while the bill rendered was for $2, received the following answer: "I presume that this enclosure is intended in payment of the bill attached. Please be advised that the rate approved by the postmaster general previous to June 6, 1919, and made effective by an act of congress on July 11, 1919, and orders in effect by the telephone administration July 29, 1919, provides that the four party rates for service at Salem on and after Aug. 1, 1919, shall be $2 a month. Kindly forward corrected check."

A proposal that exportation of sugar at a price of less than 6 1/2 cents a pound be prohibited by Cuba was made in the Cuban house of representatives but no action was taken.

The School of Experience

IT IS pretty generally accepted now that farm power is best generated by kerosene and other low-grade, low-priced fuels. A tractor that operates successfully on these fuels, insuring dependable power at drawbar and belt, is the tractor that will stay because it will pay.

We have a good tractor investment from every viewpoint. It is

International 8-16 Kerosene Tractor

This economy tractor has established its reputation for satisfactory performance in the school of experience. It has passed successfully through long and rigid tests under actual field conditions in all sections of the country. It insures, good, quick work, consistently, year in and year out.

Belt work on the average farm is becoming more and more important. The use of small threshers, ensilage cutters, huskers and shredders, etc., combined with a suitable tractor, is making the farmer more and more independent.

All of this emphasizes your need for an International 8-16 tractor that is designed to do tip-top belt work as well as taking care of field and road jobs.

We believe in the International 8-16 and thousands of farmers using it now are thoroughly satisfied they are well equipped. Let us show you why an International 8-16 will handle your work economically and well all the year 'round.

In the Mt. Angel section of the county, farm lands continue to change hands. Today there was filed a deed for record in which Jacob Warner and wife deeded to Anton Plummer and wife a farm of 66.81 acres in township 6 south of range 1 west of the Willamette meridian. The consideration was $10,500 and there was $10.50 in revenue stamps laced on the deed.

Judge George G. Bingham, who returned from Neskowin to hear a few motions and demurrers, says that all of the Loganberry cases will be heard sometime in September, during the fall term of Judge Kelly's court, which will begin September 15. In all of the cases between the Phoebe company and the Salem Fruit Union, and the troubles of the Kings Products company with its grocers, both circuit judges will sit in court. On account of the number of witnesses to be called in the several cases, it is probable the trials will extend from a week to ten days.

Cooperation is the watchword among the dairy and cheese men in the Tillamook section, according to a traveler who has just returned from the coast. At a time when the traveler was about 30 miles from nowhere, up in the mountains, he stopped at a farm house to buy some cheese. The farmer had made. When asked the price, the farmer said he wasn't sure what cheese was worth that day, but he would telephone the association at Tillamook. He did and he announced the price at exactly what it was that day in Tillamook.

In answer to the question of how much rainfall there has been in Salem for the past year, the records of the weather bureau office in the city show that for the year beginning August 1, 1918, and ending July 31, 1919, the total rainfall was 36.96 inches. The heaviest rains were last January when there was 8.68 inches of precipitation and in February when the rainfall was 8.10 inches. Along the coast not so very far from Marshfield and also up in the Tillamook country, the rainfall averages more than 100 inches a year.

The food situation is also troubling one of the leading produce commission houses in Portland. In quoting prices to the trade yesterday the company stated that the food price situation was acute and gave the following suggestions: "Agitation against extreme high prices is having some effect upon values. At this time it is difficult to tell from day to day what prices will rule. It is quite possible that yet further declines will be shown, but no one is in a position to tell definitely."

To the public in general, it may look like a genuine outpouring of the spirit when 75 to 100 or more automobiles are offered to entertain visitors, as they were Sunday evening when the editors were here. But J. F. Hutchason, the insurance man knows better. Upon him devolved the assignment of securing enough autos for the occasion. With so many hundreds of cars owned by the business and professional men of the city, the assignment looked easy. But after working almost all of Saturday on the phone and calling up hundreds of auto owners, only to receive excuses, Mr. Hutchason is now of the opinion that it is a man's job to assemble sufficient cars to entertain two or three hundred visitors. However, by keeping at it, Mr. Hutchason finally rounded up enough auto owners to give the editors a fine ride around Salem and vicinity.

There will be no big band concert tomorrow noon when the Portland Elks and their band of 40 pieces pass thru Salem. When arrangements were under way for a special to Klamath Falls, it was thought there would be only one train. But so many Elks and their friends decided to go to Klamath Falls that it has been found necessary to run two specials. Now it just happens that the Portland band will travel on special No. 1 and the Salem band on special No. 2. According to present arrangements, the Salem special will arrive in the city at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and there will be no delay in getting out. On the way the train will pick up one Pullman at Albany, two at Eugene and the Marshfield delegation of two coaches also at Eugene.

Judge George G. Bingham, who is building a cottage at Neskowin is in the city for a day or so. The judge has discovered that along the coast in the heart of the timber section, lumber was gone up considerably since he did any building. While a few years ago it was worth $18, the judge says he is now paying $56. And while four carpenters are on the job of building, he says he just helps all he can by looking and carrying for the carpenters and occasionally doing some hauling. Farmers over in that section are getting $1 an hour for hauling lumber and a man and team at a steady work draw $9 a day.

DIED

SPENCER—In Portland, August 11, 1919, Mrs. B. G. Spencer, at the age of 22 years.
She is survived by her husband, one sister, Mrs. G. T. Spencer of 935 North 21st street, Salem, and a father and two brothers living in Alberta.
The body arrived this evening in care of the Terwilliger Home. No funeral arrangements will be made until the father arrives.

DARNEY—At a local city hospital, Aug. 11, 1919, Mrs. Kate C. Darney, at the age of 35 years.

With her husband she came from Nebraska a few weeks ago for her health. They had been living in Salem only two weeks.

The body is now at the undertaking parlors of Webb & Clough. As yet no funeral arrangements have been made.
Walt S. Low, street commissioner, is home from his annual fishing trip and may now be seen riding around the city in his red Ford inspecting streets and bridges. Just at present with his crew, he is finishing up the work of the North Winter street bridge. Later in the month curbs will be put in where there is to be paving late this fall or next spring. There may possibly be a little paving done this fall, but not unless there can be found the laborers, who are pretty scarce at present.

Conference Of Longshoremen And Shippers On In Seattle

Portland, Or., Aug. 12.—En route to Seattle today are representatives of Portland's shipping, civic and commercial interests and leaders of the longshoremen's union.

They will attend a conference on the longshoremen's wage issue in Seattle. The meeting is the second of its kind to develop some definite proposals regarding the demands of the longshoremen for changes in working conditions and increases in wages. These unionists demand $1 an hour straight time and $1.50 for overtime.

The Seattle conference will be of vital interest to all Pacific coast.
