CARNEGIE'S DEATH

The library board voted to give to the city the library and building site. The library by this time had grown to 8,000 volumes. With a guarantee of $2,000 for maintenance, the Carnegie Corporation looked with favor on Salem's application, and in 1912 it was announced that Mr. Carnegie had given $27,500 for the building of the Salem library.

Twenty-five cities in the state also have fine library buildings all due to the generosity of Mr. Carnegie. Several years ago, he provided a certain sum for the Carnegie Corporation and his death will not interfere with the great work of giving for what is best to educational institutions.

House Expected To Spurn Plumb's Request For Big Investigation Of Roads

Washington, Aug. 13.—Demand of Glenn E. Plumb, author of the nationalization of railroads plan for a congressional investigation of his charges that Wall Street has plundered the railways, today appeared likely to be refused by the house.

The belief of the majority of the members of the house interstate commerce committee is that such an investigation is being carried on now by the interstate commerce commission in its efforts to ascertain the actual physical valuation of the property.

Plumb's charges, which he promised would consist of "new and secret evidence" failed to measure up to the fore-east, several members thought today.

Chairman Eash mentioned that Plumb dealt only with generalities. The committee has completed its hearings of labor's plans for the operation of the roads. It is not probable that a bill will be reported until about October 1.

Why 1/2 Karo (Red Label!) and 1/2 Sugar is Better Than All Sugar for Preserving

Many more women would do home-preserving if they could be sure that their jellies wouldn't run to liquid or get "candied."

The way to be sure is to use only half as much sugar as the recipe calls for and fill up the measure with Karo (Red Label). Karo is a wonderful help in preserving—even to the most experienced housewife.

This fine, clear white syrup has a natural affinity for the fruit juices.

It blends the juice with the sugar—brings out the full "fruity" flavor.

It insures a rich, heavy syrup in canned and preserved fruits—and firm, mellow jams and jellies without the slightest tendency to grow tough or candy in the glass.

Karo assures even the beginner of producing rich, smooth jams, jellies and preserves that any woman may be proud to serve.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label!) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.
