Several months ago a delegation of prominent Japanese flax growers visited Salem to look into the industry here. This city was one of the few localities visited by the wealthy Japanese manufacturers. They were taken in charge by T. E. McCroskey, manager of the Commercial club, and shown the plant at Turner, N. Hinantuka, one of the visitors and owner of five flax mills in Japan, expressed his appreciation of the courtesies extended his party, in a letter to Mr. McCroskey as follows: "Very many thanks for your kindness during my stay in your country. I have safely arrived to my home on the 3d inst. after having very instructive and enjoyable tour through all the way. Our flax crop will be pulled from the end of this month and is expected on the whole those of a normal year." The letter is dated July 23 and is written on the letter head of the fibre department of the Teihoku Seimui Kaisha, Ltd. with head offices at Tokyo, Japan.

STOCKHOLDER IN CRANE COMPANY SAYS DEMANDS OF STRIKERS ARE JUST

Chicago, Aug. 14.—(United Press.)—"Radically socialistic and harmful to labor" were characterizations given here today by Charles R. Crane, Jr., of statements made by his cousin, Mrs. Frances R. Lillie, in upholding actions of the 7000 employees of the Crane company in striking for higher wages. The moral support given by Mrs. Lillie, who holds a large block of stock in the iron company, was contained in a letter received by John Kikubiki, a labor organizer. Mrs. Lillie, known as a sympathizer of organized labor, wrote from her Massachusetts home: "I cannot hide the fact that the Crane family is getting every year enormous sums of money from the labors of others without anything like commensurate returns to society for it. There is no good act or generous deed of any member of the Crane family that at all will or should invalidate this conviction."

The sooner the money is taken out of the family, the better it will be, Mrs. Lillie said, for "those of the family who have done little but injure themselves and others by the use of this unearned money."

Crane, who is a cousin of Richard T. Crane, Jr., president of the company, said "she read it all in a book."

"She does not know it, but her expression of views is most harmful now, not only to industrial corporations but to labor as well," said Crane. "Unions now are trying to keep away from radical methods in vogue in foreign countries."

Richard T. Crane, Jr., was not in the city, company officials said.

LAMAR TOOZE VISITS DALLAS

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Dallas, Or., Aug. 14.—Lieutenant Lamar Tooze, brother of Walter L. Tooze, Jr., of this city, is a guest at the home of his brother here this week. Lieutenant Tooze arrived in this country from France but a few weeks ago and after a short visit with different members of the family will tour the state giving lectures on the war in Europe in the interest of the woman's building at the University of Oregon at Eugene. Lieutenant's brother, Leslie, was killed on the battlefields of France during one of the big drives during the later days of the war.
