

How to be sure of rich, mellow Home-made Preserves

Experience has taught thousands of housewives that a preserving syrup made of $\frac{1}{4}$ Karo (Red Label) and $\frac{1}{4}$ sugar is the sure successful syrup for putting up fruit.

They get clear, firm jellies, preserves with a rich, heavy syrup, and delicious jams. Then, too, "candying" is avoided when they use this Karo method instead of all sugar alone.

This fine, clear Karo Syrup is a wonderful help in all kinds of preserving.

It blends the sugar with the fruits, brings out the rich, "fruity" flavor, and keeps your jams and jellies mellow in the glass.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

Use $\frac{1}{4}$ Karo (red label) and $\frac{1}{4}$ sugar

Makes perfect jams, jellies and preserves.

ROUND COAST LEAGUE BASES

(By United Press)

Yesterday's winners: Seattle, Vernon, Oakland, Portland, Sacramento 2, Los Angeles.

Home runs: Oldham, Beavers.

When Thomas' pitching helped Seattle down Vernon two to nothing, the Vernonites didn't holler, but when he violated pitchers' union rules and started flinging the second game also, the Tigers started a strike and batted him from the box in the third. The Tigers won the game too.

Red Oldham had to knock a homer himself to keep from being shut out in the early Portland game, which the Oaks took 6 to 1. Biff Schaller's single in the ninth scored two runs and gave the Beavers the second game 7-6.

The wild Yippers, who broke loose the middle of the week wound up unrestrained by taking both Sabbath games and the series five to two from the Seals. The Yippers are now 12 points from the Seals and the first division.

KIDNAPPING FLYERS

they started a border patrol flight August 10. It is supposed they mistook the flood waters of the Rio Concho for the Rio Grande and followed the stream into Mexico. According to information here the two descended near Presidio Paleros, forty miles southwest of Marfa.

Army officers here admitted they considered the situation serious. Preparations for prompt military action, if necessary, were completed.

PETERSON'S FATHER HAUNTS NEWS AND WIRE STATIONS

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 18.—Haunting telegraph and newspaper offices in the Twin Cities, Samuel G. Peterson, Hutchinson, Minn., father of Lieutenant H. G. Peterson, the American flyer held captive by Villa bandits, today eagerly awaited the word which will tell him if his efforts to have his son's life have been successful. The ransom price of $15,000, the senior Peterson has agreed to pay and so informed war department officials Sunday and added a request that the bandits be informed of his decision. At an early hour today, the father had received no additional news from the border concerning the plight of his son.

Since Sunday afternoon when he first learned of his son's predicament Peterson had kept telegraph wires hot with appeals to war department officials and congressmen to make every effort to save his son from death. To these messages the officials have replied announcing their willingness to do everything possible to secure the release of Lieutenant Peterson and his companion, Lieutenant Davis.

Back in Hutchinson, Mrs. Peterson, aged mother of the aviator, is within hearing distance of the telephone bell. She is being kept advised of developments by her husband here.

Samuel Peterson is a clothing merchant of Hutchinson. Besides the father and son a mother and two sisters compose the family.

FATHER OF CAPTURED BOY SATISFIED WITH PROGRESS

Strathmore, Cal., Aug. 18.—(United Press).—"Army officers at Fort Bliss wired us that the government would pay Paul's ransom if necessary, so we have felt that everything possible was being done for our boy and Lieutenant Peterson," said Dr. Waldron B. Davis today, when told by the United Press that both army officers and Texas cowboys had raised the $15,000 ransom Mexican bandits asked for Lieutenants Davis and Peterson.

We were notified Thursday by Paul's commanding officer, Major Walton of Fort Bliss, that the two men were missing," he said. "Yesterday Colonel Leachman telegraphed us from Marfa, Texas, telling of their plight. I wired the war department to learn what steps would be taken, and offering to raise the ransom demanded and also wired to President Wilson and Senator Johnson. "Major Walton wired me that the government would pay the ransom and take whatever steps were necessary to secure the safe return of the boys."

Davis was 23, and was a student at Stanford when he enlisted at the outbreak of the war. He was sent to Columbia University to specialize in radio and wireless telephony. After receiving a commission, he was stationed at Kelly Field as radio and wireless telephone instructor.

Four months ago, Davis was qualified as an aviator and assigned to the first flying group at Fort Bliss. His parents expected him home within a few weeks to re-enter Stanford University.

DOCTOR ADVISED HIM TO TAKE IT

A. F. Roberts, Successful Cattle Dealer Gains 16 Pounds In 60 Days Taking Tanlac

"One of the best doctors in Colorado advised me to take Tanlac, and it has not only overcome my troubles but I have gained sixteen pounds since I began taking it sixty days ago," said A. F. Roberts, who lives at Rocky Ford, Alberta, Canada, a few days ago.

Mr. Roberts is one of the largest cattle dealers in his section of the country, and before moving to Canada a short time ago, he had spent most of his life in Colorado, U. S. A.

"I can now understand why Tanlac enjoys such wide popularity both in Canada and the United States," continued Mr. Roberts, "and since it has done me so much good, I know that it is a very dependable medicine and deserves all the praise that is being given it. For the past two years I have suffered from stomach trouble, and when I commenced taking this Tanlac, it was almost impossible for me to retain anything I ate, I was very nervous and never got a good night's sleep, and finally got so weak and run down that I was hardly able to get about. I often had dizzy spells, and was bothered a great deal with constipation."

"My physician certainly knew what he was doing when he prescribed Tanlac for me, for it has done the work for me, as I am as healthy and strong now as I ever was in my life. In fact it has done much more for me than I expected it would do. I have a fine appetite and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly, and I never have the slightest sign of stomach trouble of any kind. I am no longer bothered with constipation, and never have those dizzy spells any more. I have regained all my strength, too, and that nervousness has left me, and I sleep like a log every night. In fact, I am simply enjoying perfect health again, and I give Tanlac credit for it all."

Tanlac is sold in Salem by Dr. S. C. Stone, in Hubbard by Hubbard Drug Co., in Mt. Angel by Ben Gooch, in Gervais by John Kelly, in Turner by H. P. Cornelius, in Woodburn by Lyman H. was an almost unparalleled altruistic adventure that had its root in a faith and a religious enthusiasm that was little short of fanaticism. The marvel is not that the adventure did not wholly succeed, but that it did not wholly fail."

The speaker noted that one member of the first board of trustees—George Abernethy—was elected the first provisional governor of Oregon, and that six of them took part in the famous meeting at Champoeg. He noted also that it was largely through the efforts of the pioneer students and their children scattered over the state, that Salem was later made the capital and the political center of Oregon.

Following after Emily J. Yoke Moore, the first graduate in 1889, scores and hundreds have gone out from the institution, and the growth and influence of the school have already far exceeded the rosiest dreams of the earlier builders.

"Jason Lee and his compeers were prophets," said the speaker, "and the Lausanne was freighted with dreamers having a vision. The prophecies of Lee are in process of development; the faith of his co-workers has been justified by the achievement of 75 years, and by the concrete promise of the year ahead. The real and greater history of Willamette is still in the making, and will be written by historians yet unborn. Already rich in her traditions, she is vastly richer in her potentialities."

E. F. Carleton is the manager of the industrial department and all exhibits should be shipped to him at the fair grounds not later than September 20th. No fee is charged for these entries, and in addition the fair officials will issue a free ticket for one day to each entrant. Any boy or girl between the ages of 9 and 19 is entitled to membership in any industrial club, and may undertake any club project, but must first be enrolled as a club worker with the leader of club work at the Oregon Agricultural college and with the county school superintendent.

The first prize in all the club projects is the coveted visit of two weeks at the agricultural college, provided by business and professional men of Portland. In addition to this the fair board has provided $1000 to be distributed in lesser prizes.

Last year there were about 25 boys and girls, mostly from the Willamette valley, who secured the trip to Corvallis, and have related enthusiastic accounts of the benefits and enjoyment of their visit. It is expected that there will be a much wider interest in the fair exhibits this year, as there has been a large increase in the club membership. Letters have been coming to the dean of Manager E. F. Carleton from about twenty county superintendents telling of the value of club in arousing the interest of young people in the work and the business end of farming.

Los Angeles will have Monday baseball as a result of the car strike which necessitated postponement of Sunday's afternoon game. The morning game went to the Angels, Salt Lake losing 2 to 1, in a game featured by Grandall's and Levere's pitching.
