BANDIT HUNT

dred tanks of the one man type and three thousand rifles have been shipped from the army reserve depot here to forts on or near the Mexican border within the past week, it was learned today.

The consignment was divided between San Antonio and Fort Bliss.

Officers at the reserve depot declared the tense Mexican situation had nothing to do with the recent shipments and that orders to transfer the equipment had been received weeks ago.

PLANE RIDDLED BY BULLETS WHILE HUNTING OUT BANDITS

Washington, Aug. 20.—The war department received confirmation today of press dispatches which said an observation plane returning to Marfa, Texas, had been fired on by bandits.

This, it was stated, was the only border communication received by the department today.

Three bandits were seen about ten miles west of Candelaria. They fired on the plane. The fire was returned. One horse and one bandit are believed by the aviators to have been killed. Another bandit escaped to a nearby canyon with his horse going in another direction. Both wings of the airplane show bullet holes, it was reported.

CARRANZA SAYS RELATIONS GROWING BETTER EACH DAY

New York, Aug. 20.—(United Press).—Our relations with the United States are better each day," President Carranza of Mexico, is quoted as saying in an authorized interview, published in the Nation today.

"Having passed through the period of the war," Carranza said, "the American people are now convinced that we remained actually neutral during an epoch when it would have been to Mexico's advantage to enter the world war."

Carranza said the best proof of friendship the United States could give would be to establish freedom of commerce and communication with Mexico, follow a policy of nonintervention and exercise greater caution in making claims on behalf of foreign citizens in Mexico.

If his administration could obtain arms freely from the United States, Carranza said, Mexico would be pacified by the end of the next year, with no help from the United States beyond vigilance on the border.

"But to achieve this," he said, "maintenance of an army will be required at the approximate expense of 150,000,000 pesos."

FIRE SITUATION

dreeds of head of stock have been destroyed and several ranches burned north of Missoula by forest fires. The flames are beyond control.

The town of Monarch, in the mountains, was surrounded by flames yesterday evening, with the entire population forming a living barrier against the fire.

It is feared that several lives have been lost.

The Couer D'Alenes are smoke palled. The Placer creek fire, near Wallace is spreading rapidly. Nez Perce, Selway and Clearwater fires are out of control. Jacob Curry, an aged rancher, is believed to have been burned to death. William Johnson of Great Falls, fighting the flames in the Sun river district, was killed by a falling tree.

Many narrow escapes are reported. Ten men fighting the flames near Missoula were cut off by the flames, but escaped.

No towns appear to be in immediate danger of destruction by the forest fires according to latest reports. The village of Monarch in the Little Belt mountains, threatened last night, is reported out of danger today.

A big forest fire is burning fiercely at Dry creek gulch, three miles from Heles and in the lower Rattlesnake valley, five miles from Missoula, four big ranches are in ashes. The flames there are sweeping on, fanned by a strong wind. Three small fires near Bozeman caused alarm, but are now under control.

France went on record at the plenary session at which the league covenant was adopted with the expression of her belief that an international army should be maintained on the Rhine, but such an army will not be maintained.

European diplomats look upon the Washington fight on the treaty as entirely an internal political affair, and while any interpretation of vital articles that may be made by the senate will carry a certain amount of weight, it is hard for a European to understand the division of treaty making powers under the American constitution. Until there is some tangible case in which the American interpretation is enforced, it is not likely that a separate senate resolution would be interpreted as changing the sense of the treaty in any way.

Information available to the senators yesterday stopped at about the same point that information from the conference ended in Paris.

FORMER DALLAS MAN IS ACCIDENTALLY KILLED BY SHOT FROM PISTOL

Dallas, Or., Aug. 20.—Information received in Dallas late Sunday afternoon stated that F. E. Davis, a former prominent Dallas business and city councilman, had been killed accidentally by the discharge of a revolver at his home in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. Davis left Dallas a few months ago for the Arizona city in hopes that the climate would be of benefit to the health of Mrs. Davis but she gradually grew worse and passed away several weeks ago. Mr. Davis was packing the household goods for shipment to Portland where he intended to take up his residence and where he had accepted a position as a salesman when the deplorable accident occurred.

The deceased who was prominent in Dallas business circles was for a number of years proprietor of the Davis Furniture company, the largest establishment of its kind in the county. Shortly after the war with Germany began he disposed of his furniture business and entered the U. S. C. A. service as a war worker and was sent to San Diego, where he received a discharge last spring, when he sold his residence and other real estate holdings here and moved to Phoenix.

Mr. Davis leaves two children, a boy and a girl to mourn his death. The remains will in all probability be laid to rest beside those of Mrs. Davis in the Phoenix cemetery.

Polk County Evergreen Crop Largest Yet Known

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Dallas, Ore., Aug. 20.—The crop of evergreen blackberries in Polk county this year is bigger than in many years past and women and children who live near the canneries near Falls City and Salem are reaping quite a harvest of coin in gathering this fruit that in fermer years was considered worthless. The burned over areas in the timber in the western part of the county is literally alive with the berries which thrive on the mountain sides and near springs in the foothills and the Falls City cannery sends out a truck each morning to gather up the fruit gathered by the pickers.

Numbers of people from Salem and other valley cities have been making Sunday trips into the hills west of Dallas and gathering the berries which are found in large numbers there. Many of the housewives take cans along with them and can the fruit while other members of the family gather them in.

The large amount of berries have brought out the bears from the denser woods and during the past week several parties have been frightened by the appearance of a bear on the other end of a log from which they were gathering fruit.

Portland Streetcar Men Reject War Board Award

Portland, Or., Aug. 20.—The war labor board's recently announced wage schedule was rejected by the Portland street car men's union following a referendum vote, officials announced today.

The vote was 921 to 291. The carmen, however, voted to work under the schedule until the peace treaty shall have been ratified.

How Much More Tobacco Will My Heart Stand?

A Vital Question for Every Man Who Smokes or Chews to Answer.

May Cost a Life to Find Out By Experiment

The heart of every user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights nicotine for supremacy. As long as the heart wins he lives; when it loses he dies, but before the final victory of nicotine you pass through many stages of decline and decay and suffer many pangs. Hearts are like human beings—some are stronger than others, therefore some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on his heart a dozen times a day by smoking cigarettes, a pipe or cigars—or chewing tobacco—is taking a madman's chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the chance that he may lose them. He is indulging in a costly habit at the expense of precious health. Ask any doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find out how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results.

But the thought of quitting is unpleasant to most men—even to those who know that tobacco injures them—and to really quit takes more will power than they have and causes more suffering than they can voluntarily endure. To quit the habit, make it easy for yourself by getting Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed. The habit really quits you and its departure is a pleasure equal to its indulgence. If you want to know how much easier it is to quit the habit with Nicotol than without it, go twenty four hours without tobacco and note what an effort it costs you, then begin using it as usual and take Nicotol tablets. At the end of a week discontinue smoking or chewing for a day and it is probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure to quit.

Manufacturers' Note: Nicotol is sold under the positive guarantee that it is not injurious; that it contains no habit-forming drugs; that it will help any man to throw off the tobacco habit, and that any druggist will refund the entire purchase price if it fails. It is dispensed in Salem under this guarantee by D. J. Fry and other good druggists.
