Council Orders Miles Of New Sidewalks Built

Dallas, Or., Aug. 20.—At a meeting of the Dallas city council Monday evening that body heard the final reading of an ordinance which places the entire city in a cement sidewalk district and immediately after the ordinance had been voted on and passed ordered the construction of several miles of new walks in addition to the walks that are now under construction.

Bids will be called for on the new improvements at an early date and eight o'clock on the meeting night of September has been set as the time for hearing all objections against the construction of the same.

The council also passed at this meeting an ordinance forbidding the driving of motor cars by children under the age of 16 years unless accompanied by an older person who is familiar with the operation of a machine. Marshal Chase was given instructions to see that this ordinance was observed to a letter as the practice of children of tender years operating cars on the city streets is becoming a dangerous
