Oh, Boy—

Bishop's Suits Are Here

And they cost real money today; therefore, you should use good judgment in the choice of the store that you do your purchasing from.

You get the best, and only the best, at Bishop's; they are made to his order and ideas.

The famous Bishop's Fabrics are made for wear and service; they are of "Fleeced Wool" the wool having never been used before, having all the vitality left in it, thus assuring long wear, the growing boy.

They come in the waist line models, and the Belted effect's---just like the Young Men's suits, being tailored with the same careful thoroughness.

These suits come in ages from 6 to 18 years and are the finest of workmanship.

Price from $8.75 to $15.00

Boys Army Shoes—Munson Last

Made from the same common sense last that the Government patterned its army shoe.

This shape gives the growing boys feet a chance to spread and grow naturally so his feet will be perfect.

Priced from $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00

This should not be neglected, for our stocks are now complete and prices are still advancing steadily in many lines.

Prices will not be advanced on our present stock while they last ---so take advantage of this opportunity---NOW.

WAR ON PRICES

and other cities. The association will "police the food trade," according to Palmer, who today emphasized the need for haste by saying unless conditions are bettered suffering will result this winter in many cities.

"This is a war against hunger and starvation," he said. Palmer, at a conference with Chairman Smith, Georgia, Senator Kenyon and other members of the senate agricultural sub-committee, today declared legislation to penalize food profiteers is essential. Palmer made it clear that the department of justice does not intend to prosecute any one who stays within the figures laid down by local fair price committees. This was in answer to objections by Senator Smith against making profiteering a crime without defining reasonable profits.

AMERICA FEELING

district consequently at its minimum. New movements are chiefly directed to preparations for moving the crops and handling the autumn trade. Both of these divisions of industry are expected to be particularly active. The harvest is now well under way, and wheat rapidly coming into the market. Corn and cotton will soon follow. The yield in many cases will fall below early expectations; but in the aggregate the quantity will be considerably above the average. Prices are high, and the amount of money required to carry or market the crops will be unprecedented. This fact, however, will be well distributed, because the farmers, aided by rising land values, are more prosperous and better able to carry their crops than ever before. Bank deposits in the farming districts have risen largely, and the west will loan very lightly, if at all, upon the east for the financial aid that formerly was the controlling influence upon the banks here at this season. This does not mean that the western flow of money will not have some effect, even in this market. The great activity of trade in the west and south resulting from the profitable harvest must have stimulate business here; increasing the demand for credit and currency, also serving to keep up rates of interest. But eastern bankers for some time to come will be much occupied with government finance and the arrangement of credits for our foreign trade, leaving interior banks to take care of their own. Fortunately, our banking system is in sound condition, working smoothly and quite capable of bearing the strain of the times.

The Money Market

The outlook for the money market is not unfavorable. Interest rates will be high, since in these times capital as well as labor must insist upon good returns. No satisfactory plan has yet been announced for financing foreign credits, which is a matter of great importance and urgency. Meanwhile the exchange markets are weak, and their declining tendency discourages exports. Our supply of currency is abundant, but there is little or no inflation in this respect; the increase in the supply of money not being excessive considering the greater demand, the volume of business and the advance in prices. In Europe, especially in Germany, there has been dangerous currency inflation; but in the United States inflation has been relatively moderate and confined chiefly to credit and to merchandise values. Stock market requirements for money have been materially diminished by the heavy shrinkage in security values during the last few weeks.

A Trading Market

Recent liquidation checked activity on the stock exchange, and the bull movement which began with the making of peace seems to have run its course. The turn was, of course, precipitated by the outbreak of industrial unrest and strikes, incited by the high cost of living. The technical position of this market may have been strengthened by liquidation; and, while there is nothing in sight on which to base hopes of a vigorous renewal of the rise, there is also little on which to predicate a further decline, for the reason that business at present is active and many industries are still enjoying a wide margin, if lessened, of prosperity. As already said, the agricultural districts are extraordinarily prosperous and western merchants report a much larger distribution of goods than a year ago. Some improvement can be noted in the labor situation; the more moderate attitude of the railway unions in this country and collapse of the great coal strike in England, which threatened ruin to the coal trade, being hopeful indications. As long as such conditions last, we may have a good trading market, but no continued movement in either direction until new features of importance develop.

MARTIAL LAW GOVERNS IN WISCONSIN PACKING TOWN FOLLOWING RIOTS

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 20.—The packing town of Cudahy, near here, was declared under martial law at 8 o'clock this morning by Colonel P. C. Westphal, who was designated as military governor until the trouble resulting from yesterday's strike rioting has passed. Early today a special train from Camp Douglas rolled into the yards and 426 state guards and 16 officers took charge of the situation. Cordons of soldiers were immediately spread over the Cudahy property, comprising 100 acres, and every entrance and exit closed. Access to the plant is now possible only with military passes. Twenty-five young women members of the office force remained quarantined in the office all night. They dared not run the gauntlet of flying bullets and bricks last evening and decided to remain until the troops arrived. The first military orders were closing off all saloons.

If your skin itches and burns just use

Resinol

If you are suffering from eczema, ringworm or similar itching, burning, unsightly skin affection, bathe the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, then gently apply a little Resinol Ointment. You will probably be astonished how instantly the itching stops and healing begins. In most cases the sick skin quickly becomes clear and healthy again, at very little cost.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap also clear away pimples, redness, roughness and dandruff. Sold by all druggists.
