BOLSHEVISM

bolshevism to be found in the book stores were the bible and the constitution of the United States. Yet in one of these stores at least fifty books and pamphlets were purchased all advocating bolshevism and urging, without mincing of words, resort to force to overthrow the existing order.

"The fact that conditions are so acute on the Pacific coast apparently grows out of the extraordinary wages paid by the government to shipyard workers and others employed in producing war necessities.

"It is the same disease that affects our industries throughout the nation. Under the spur of producing great quantities of war materials, it was easy for wage adjustment boards to find a motive to order increases in wages.

"Manufacturers, knowing they could add the wage increases to their cost of production, readily paid the advance. Ordinary domestic business in competition with war industries and war activities paying excessive wage scales were forced to follow suit.

"The cumulative effect was the stepping up of labor costs, production costs and selling prices in all lines—much successive wage increases resulting in a corresponding rise in the cost of living.

"Huge mass meetings are being held at which laborers are being told that they are entitled as a matter of right to their abnormal wages—and very much more. Ordinary laborers in many cases are receiving more wages than firemen, policemen, many clergymen and college educators. We are told of some cases where professional men left their ordinary work in order to earn the wages of a shipyard laborer.

"While these conditions were most acute on the Pacific coast the infection is spreading. In a few cases, business men, aroused by the danger, are taking action. Spokane has started a campaign of education. In Minneapolis business men have organized. Whenever there is a socialist or revolutionary meeting, arrangements are made for a meeting at the nearest neighborhood point at which the conservative side is presented.

"There are but sporadic attempts. Yet one cannot travel over this country today, or realize conditions even in New York itself without seeing that there is a shrewdly conducted, amply financed bolshevik campaign, aimed at the destruction of our whole order of civilization, while at the moment practically nothing is being done by sound and experienced elements of the country, to present the simply economic truths involved.

"In most of the cities visited the people generally seemed concerned almost exclusively with their daily local affairs and were giving little thought or care to the fundamental national or international problems which we must face and settle if civilization is to be preserved.

"The situation calls for action. Not since the free silver campaign has there been such a definite need for the same inculcation of some economic thinking in this country. American people are fair and if the facts are presented to them there can be no doubt of the result.

"It must be made clear that there is an unescapable relationship between wages and the cost of production and that only through increased effort can enough commodities be produced to establish an equilibrium between a world supply and world demand and thus bring about lower prices.

"Until Europe gets back to something like normal farm and factory output nothing but increased production on our parts as well as on Europe's part can make up this world shortage and bring about reduction in our cost of living.

"And the vitally important fact to bring home to the mind of every working man is that the effort to increase production is not to take cur of his increased effort an increased profit for the business man or banker, but that this increased effort will yield and is yielding to the working man in wages a fair share of the selling price of his product.

"It is of vital importance to the prosperity of this nation that the business men of the whole country should be aroused to the nature of the crisis which confronts the country. An organized effort which should be made to meet this crisis an effort should be made to enlist the patriotic service of every good American. Such an organization should be in its makeup what it must be in result, and that is, something in the success of which every laboring man and every farmer has just as much interest as any employer."

Cure for Dysentery

"While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overhauled me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitelaw, of Des Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."

San Francisco.—Excited when Sammy Bohne by a high leap in the ninth speared what looked like a sure hit and doubled the Seals out of their chance to win, John L. Baker suffered a stroke of paralysis in the grandstand at Recreation park yesterday.

A Bilious Attack

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter.
