At the meeting of the city council this evening it is probable that the sanitary condition of the city will come up for discussion. Now that so many houses are being repaired, and changes made in business blocks, there is a feeling that the city should have some regulation sanitary inspection. The plumbers also favor the appointment of an inspector if they are to be compelled to obey the law and pay $20 a year license. Out of the six plumbing firms in the city, only three have complied with the recent request of the city council that plumbers pay in accordance with the city ordinance.

W. T. Eglon is home after an auto tour and says that in Sherman county and that part of the state he rode past wheat fields 20 miles at a time. He says in that section the farmer grows wheat on one half of his acreage, and alternates with his acreage, and alternates from year to year. Also that the Sherman county crop is big and it is of the grade that nets the farmer $2.12 a bushel.

A pocketbook with 85 cents in it and a piece of poetry was found in the armory on the evening that Lieut. Lamar Toose lectured here. The finder was Walter L. Toose. Just now the big proposition confronting Mr. Toose is how to find the owner of the pocketbook which is of bill book shape, if the owner cannot be found, what disposition to make of the poetry and small change.

A hog weighing 200 pounds is today worth just $8 less than it was one week ago. It was just a few days ago that the Chicago pork market dropped to 15 cents a pound, but no change was noted in Salem. Then a day or so later the Portland market began dropping and with it the Salem market. Today hogs on foot are quoted at 15 and 16 cents while a week or so ago the quotation was 19 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Smith will leave this evening for Los Angeles where they will make their home. For the past 11 years Mr. Smith has been in the office of Reuben R. Boise and about one year ago was admitted to what line of work he will take up in Los Angeles. Until a few months ago Mr. Smith was serving a term as alderman from the first ward, but resigned when he married and changed his residence into another ward.

The cost of living is coming down in the cost of telegrams. The Postal Union is announcing a reduced rate in cablegrams. You may now send your wires to China or Japan or the Philippine Islands for 20 cents a word less than a week ago. If you have a friend in China, it will now cost you only 95 cents a word, while last week it was $1.18. To the Philippine Islands the cost today is $1.54 a word if you cablegram to Manila. To other points in the Luzon islands it is $1.60 a word. To Honolulu, which is only about one third of the way across the Pacific, the charge now is 25 cents a word.

Officers will be installed at the meeting called for tonight at the Commercial club of Capital Post No. 9, American Legion. There will also be discussed plans for a special day at the state fair and there will also be the election of four delegates and four alternates to attend the state convention in Portland Sept. 18-19.

With a minimum temperature last night of 46, Salem is lining up with Calgary where it was 44, with Yakima 44, and Tatoosh Islands with 48. The maximum temperature for Sept. 1 was 74, just the same as Baker, Or., and Salt Lake city. Phoenix, Arizona, is still keeping up its high temperature record as the mercury there reached 98 yesterday, while in Medford it was 84.

The estate of Napoleon E. Brown who died August 18, is estimated at $500 in personal property and $1500 in real estate, according to the petition filed by the widow for the appointment of Oliver J. Myers as administrator. The appointment was made this morning by Judge Bushey and U. G. Holt, Chas. Moore and George Skeels named as appraisers.

Marriage licenses have been issued as follows: L. H. McMahon, an attorney of Salem and Bertha O. Byrd a teacher; William D. Evans, merchant of Salem and Sibel M. Harrington, a teacher of Salem; Richard V. Emery, a logger of Mill City and Minnie Maxwell of Mill City; William George Earl of Salem, a truck driver, and Hazel Miller, clerk; William O. Ohler, of route 1, Jefferson, a farmer, and Lucy M. Vitt, assistant Red Cross director of Jefferson.

Notwithstanding the attractions of the gansberry picking and other methods of making spare money, those who were looking for gophers, moles and graydiggers found time to bring to the county clerk's office enough scalps to claim a bounty of $320.70 during August. Graydigger scalps are figured at five cents while gopher and mole are worth twice as much. There is a county tax to care for this bounty, but so far this year, there has been paid out but only $1377.25 in bounties. The amount raised annually for this bounty in Marion county is $4200. Hence there is still $2822.75 on hand to pay for scalps and only four months of the year left.

The Salem lodge of Elks, which is the 356th Elks lodge installed, has been invited by the Chehalis, Wa., lodge of Elks No. 1374, to attend its opening evening, the lodge having just recently received its charter. The date of the opening is September 25 and the Salem members are invited to come and bring a band.

A. D. Thompson of the Remnant store is home from an extended tour in the east. He says that the farther one goes, the higher the prices are. However he comes home with the assurance that he has materially added to his stock of goods, anticipating a big business this fall.

Although there is a most unusual demand for houses to rent and to buy, there is very little building activity in Salem. During August, only six building permits were issued and these were mostly for repairs and the total amount for the month was only $2550. The permits issued were as follows: Ennis Wait $400, J. C. Dellaport $500, Perry Taylor $500, Jacob Tuleja $750, O. J. Schei $400 and Jane Tooker $1000.

While the post office here has received official orders that all shipments of surplus army food supplies may take the rate of five cents for the first pound, and one cent for each additional pound, no orders have been received other than to send them to Fort Mason, Calif. It is also stipulated in the instructions that all orders will be filled in the order in which they are received. Hence, those who ordered through the post office a few days ago, may not receive their supplies for some time.

There really has been a drop in prices on all kinds of pork products, due to the fact that pork on foot is now selling at about 4 cents a pound less than one week ago. The new prices went into effect in Salem this morning. You may now buy legs of pork at four cents a pound less than a few days ago. Loin chops are five cents a pound cheaper than last week and roast pork is five cents a pound off. Shoulder of pork is down seven cents and breakfast bacon five cents a pound cheaper. All hams are two cents a pound lower.

The low gas pressure in some parts of the city is due to the fact that the river is low, very little water is in the creeks and as a result the temperature of the water is higher than during other months of the year. The gas of the Portland Railway Light & Power company is cooled by river water, and when this water is not of a low temperature, the gas is not sufficiently cooled. Hence it goes into the mains at a temperature a little warmer than usual and this sometimes causes it to form into naphthaline, a form of crystal that interferes with the flow of gas. In order to remove this naphthaline, the company has found it necessary to open the mains at various places and blow out the crystals that have formed by air pressure.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Seven holdups and two store robberies within an hour early today netted the busy burglars $1425.37, police said. Its fair week and they are working fast.

Des Moines.—"Three bulls," said Nusskie Alber. "Full house," said Lovely Zelesker. "Two sixes," said the masked robber as he scooped up the $625 pot.
