LIBRARIANS RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Miss Marvin And Miss Case Back From Association Meeting In North.

Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, and Miss Flora Case, of the Salem public library, returned yesterday from attending the annual meeting of the Northwest Library Association, which met in Vancouver, B. C. They report an exceedingly interesting trip. The attendance covered the state of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah and British Columbia, and some of the most prominent educators and library heads of the northwest were on the program. Among the outstanding addresses was that of the association president, Prof. John Riddington, of the University of British Columbia. Miss Marvin had an address on the collection of war data from our states and colonies and both ladies took part in discussions.

Among other matters of importance was the problem of salaries for librarians, which was shown to be too low for the guarantee of efficient employees, and the association went on record as favoring the most efficient service, even at higher cost. Along this line was an inspiration address by Dr. Garnett, of the University of British Columbia, who urged higher qualifications for both teachers and librarians, holding that those who occupy positions of influence should be so keen mentally and strong morally that their personality would count for even more than their work.

Among resolutions passed was one in appreciation of the late Andrew Carnegie for his promotion of the public library movement, and the meeting endorsed the suggestion that memorial tablets be placed in the buildings erected by his funds.

Asia led all other divisions in the total of goods sold to this country, her sales being valued at $104,001,217. Imports from Japan are said to be the cause.

BURGLARY CASES TO KEEP COURT AT WORK

Docket For September Term Of Grand Jury To Convene Monday, Well Filled.

When the Marion county grand jury tured, but the last legislature made it a felony by bringing it up for its consideration, mostly burglaries. No publicity has been given to a number of cases to be considered, but those of record are as follows:

State versus J. R. Watson, charged with a felony in escaping from the penitentiary about June 18. He was captured, but the legislature made it a felony for any inmate of the penitentiary to escape or even to attempt to escape.

State of Oregon versus R. C. Krissel. He is charged with committing a burglary in the house of A. E. Underwood, Salem. He is now out on bail.

State of Oregon versus Charles Kavanaugh and Kenneth Kavanaugh, charged with burglary. These are the young men who entered the jewelry store of Hartman Bros. and carried away property to the value of about $300. They are both in the county jail.

State of Oregon versus Frank Solentino, charged with burglary. He is understood to be one of the young men who robbed the R. C. Bishop store of about $900 worth of goods. His accomplice was captured and returned to the reform school. Solentino is still at large.

State of Oregon versus Arnold Selim of Mt. Angel. He is charged with aiding a prisoner to escape.

State of Oregon versus Alphonse Simpfel of Mt. Angel. He is charged with assaulting an officer.

There are also the four automobile thieves who are charged with grand larceny, committed at Woodburn. They are charged with stealing a Studebaker auto. All are young men. They are in the county jail.

"The United States should not ask 'one inch of territory,' he declared. 'This fact should be made clear to the Mexican people.'"

But Governor Hobby emphasized his wishes intervention, if taken, to be on a sufficient scale to restore order completely in Mexico and educate the country to such a degree that order can be maintained by the Mexican when American forces are withdrawn.

This might take ten years, or fifty, the Texas executive said, "but no matter how long it would take, our purpose would be protection and education, not aggression or conquest."

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 3.—Immediate armed intervention in Mexico "to cure the worst political sore spot on this continent," was advocated by Governor W. P. Hobby of Texas in an exclusive interview here today.

known as the Home service is now being every day serving for soldiers who have become stranded, others who need work, others who are considering the special offer of the state and federal government in the way of special schooling, and others who failed to get their five cents a mile railroad return fare. And then others who need advice in regard to keeping up insurance. Yesterday 17 former soldiers came to the office with their troubles and all were given the best of home service of the department of the Red Cross can give.

At McMinnville yesterday a Ford car was stolen with a license number of 23,726. And there was also a burglary, a gold watch and chain and a gold locket and chain were stolen. They are marked with the initials W. M. S.

E. H. Drager of the registry department of the post office and U. S. Rider, the "mixie" man of the post office are out deer hunting this week.

The sales of army supplies have finally reached within hailing distance of Oregon. This time the war department offers for sale at Vancouver barracks a fine supply of tents which will be sold at the rate of 100 a day until all are disposed of. The sale begins Sept. 8 and you can buy a pyramid tent 16 by 16 or a fly tent 21 by 15 or if this is too large there are army tents 9 by 14, which will be offered.

In regard to the serious accident to three men while driving a Ford on Capitol street near Market, and the report that the Ford was run into by a Buick owned by J. Wesley Smith of Falls City, all of which happened a few evenings ago, Mr. Smith says it was his son, Charles Smith, who was driving the Buick and that the accident was caused by the driver of the Ford and not the Buick. Mr. Smith also claims that instead of the Buick passing on and refusing to assist the three injured men, that it was the Buick that took the three men to the hospital.

The report at the police station as given by three witnesses, was that the Buick drove on highway no attention to the injured men. Mr. Smith also says that the accident was caused by the Ford passing and getting caught in the bumper on the Buick.

These examinations are for the benefit of those students who feel they are entitled to enter the high schools this fall, but cannot enter until they have passed a satisfactory examination.
