FORGERS CLEAN UP ON SALEM STORES

No Trace Found Of Two Men Who Passed Bad Checks Here Saturday.

Salem came in for its annual cleaning up at the hands of bad check artist Saturday afternoon, following banking hours.

After everybody had reported, it was found that bad checks had been passed on the following firms: Kafoury Bros., one check for $49.29 and another for $48; G. W. Johnson & Co., one for $51; Salem Woolen Mills store, one for $54 and another for $55; People's cash store one for $54; O. J. Schei, one for $53.75 and another for $48.

The checks were presented by two young men who in their forgery used the names of Dr. E. E. Fisher, R. J. McCandless, Ray Schaub and Mayer Silverstein. At the Gals & Co. store and at the Arnold cigar store checks were tendered, but refused.

Max Solof, of the Peoples Cash Store, became suspicious of his check and went out to find the man who had passed it and found him at the Oregon Electric depot. Although denying that the check was not good, the man returned with Solof to the store and made good the amount. An officer was at the Solof store, but when the affair had been settled and Mr. Solof had received his money and did not want to prosecute the man, no arrest was made.

While the writing on all of the forged checks was the same, appearing like the work of amateurs, their method of buying in Salem and those eligible for membership, to begin the preliminary work towards the national meeting of Shriners to be held in Portland next week. Also to make arrangements to meet the Shriners from Portland who will make a pilgrimage to Marshfield stopping off in Salem about noon of October 3. It is understood that the special train from Portland with the famous Al Kader patrol, will stop off an hour in the city October 3, and for this reason, the Arabian Knights of Salem will meet to prepare a proper reception.

Miss Grace E. Smith has returned to her desk in the attorney general's office after a vacation of several weeks. The greater part of the period she spent at Seaside, Washington, in attendance upon the annual conference of the Y. W. C. A., which she found a most interesting and inspiring gathering. Delegates were present from a number of the northwest states, and addresses were made by association workers of national reputation. One of the most important matters under discussion was the proposed organization of business and professional women's clubs in connection with each local association, these to be federated with the national organization. It is expected that steps will be taken for the organizing of such a club in Salem within the next few weeks.

Sergt. Major Harry Gale, who recently received his discharge from the service at Camp Lewis, arrived in the city this morning for a brief visit with his cousin, Lawrence Gale. The young officer has been in the army for about two years, culminating with the field artillery. For a large part of the term he has been stationed at Camp Taylor, at Louisville, Kentucky. He states that he was very pleasantly situated in the land of blue grass, fast horses and romance, having opportunity to see much of the country. Among other points of interest he visited the Mammoth cave which he considers to be one of the most wonderful sights in the world. He also visited some of the scenes made famous in the novels of James Lane Allen.

Rain Damages Prune Crop Where Foliage Is Light

After investigating prune orchards yesterday and today, Robert C. Paulus is of the opinion that the present rains are doing considerable damage to those orchards of light foliage, causing prunes to crack.

Where there is considerable foliage, the damage is not so great, estimated at about 10 to 15 per cent. But the possible big damage running 50 per cent or more is on the trees with the light foliage.

Before the rains, the prune crop in this part of the valley was estimated at 50 percent of a normal crop. In many of the young orchards there was prospect of 100 per cent crop. However, if the rains do not continue more than a day or so, Mr. Paulus thinks no real serious damage will be done.

DIED AT SILVERTON

Death called another resident of Silverton Thursday when Mrs. Peter Nelson passed to the great beyond.

Mrs. Nelson had been ailing for some time having suffered with diabetes but her condition was not considered serious until Tuesday when she was suddenly taken very ill. The ultimate cause of death was said to be a blood clot on the brain. Mrs. Nelson was 56 years of age.

Mr. Nelson is one of the yard bosses at the Silver Falls Timber company mill and her son Siguid is a well known singer of this city. Another son is employed at the same mill and a daughter, Louise, lives at home. Other children are expected here for the funeral.

The Nelson family had recently purchased the C. C. Amos home on Mill street and had just moved into the same. —Appeal.
