

Men's Modern Shoes at Extra Value Prices

There are no better shoes sold than the "Brennan" (Union Label) Shoes for Men at even $2 to $3 higher Price. Compare these Prices:

- Men's Brown Cordovan Plain Toe, Officers' last $12.50
- Men's Brown Calf English Last, Oak Soles..... $8.75
- Men's Brown Calf English Last, Neolin Soles... $8.00
- Men's Brown Calf Pug Last, Oak soles..... $10.00
- Men's Mahogany Calf, extra wide, ball room... $8.00
- Men's Gun Metal English Last, Oak soles... $9 and $8
- Men's gun metal wide Comfy last, Oak soles... $9.75
- Men's gun metal, round toes, Goodyear welted soles $6.25
- Men's brown army style, heavy welted soles... $9, $8
- Men's good heavy brown or black, double soles at $6.50 and $6.00

"SHOETERIA PRICES"

- Brown calf English heavy welted soles $6.45
- Gun metal English heavy welted soles..... $4.95
- Gun metal round toes, heavy welted soles..... $5.25
- Gun metal, English, Neolin soles..... $3.65
- Tan calf army shoe, welt soles $5.95
- Tan calf army shoe, Neolin soles..... $4.95
- Black heavy grain double soles..... $3.95
- Kid comfort broad toe, welt soles..... $5.65
- Elk outing bals, Elk soles $2.59

This Small Price List Will Only Give

YOU AN "INKLING" OF THE MANY GOOD VALUES TO BE FOUND

SHOES OF SATISFACTORY SERVICE

At the Electric Sign "SHOES"

Littler & Upmeyer Sole Owners

Teams Wanted

Hauling lumber. All winter job. $8.00 per day. GAMBLE BOYD LUMBER CO. LYONS, OREGON.

WANTED

We need more women in our Preparatory Department. This is an excellent opportunity for elderly women to get steady employment. The work is light, no heavy lifting. Good wages. Apply

SALEM KING'S PRODUCTS CO.

Front and Market Streets

There Is A Store In Salem For Your Every Need.

SAVE MAIL ORDER POSTAGE--BUYING AT HOME You See What You Buy Before Paying--Buying At Home

BEEMAN GARDEN TRACTOR

It Plows. It Harrows. It Drills. It Cultivates. It Hauls Mowing Machines, Lawn Mowers and Loads of all kinds. It does the farm work ordinarily done by one horse. It will cultivate onions, carrots and other vegetables grown in rows as narrow as 12 inches—3 rows at a time, if desired. It's a portable Gasoline Engine that will trot from job to job under its own power; runs the pump, saw, washing machine, feed grinder and any other machine capable of being operated by a four horse power engine. Are you interested? Full information cheerfully given on request.

ON DISPLAY AT LIBERTY GARAGE 444 FERRY STREET

For Sale By MARSHALL N. ROACH

Distributor for Marion and Polk Counties Salem, Or. 444 Ferry Street

OBITUARY

Miss Paulina Frank was born in Russia, April 9, 1866. She resided there with her parents until her marriage on January 13, 1887. She was united in marriage to Leslie Hahn. In 1907 they left for Canada and resided there for one year, then moved to Minnesota. Eight years later they came to their present home near Quincy, Oregon, where they have resided for 19 years. To this union were born nine children—seven daughters and two sons. Mrs. Hahn died Saturday night, Aug. 23. She is survived by her husband and nine children.

Mrs. Hahn was converted at the age of 20 years and lived a devoted Christian life up to the time of her death. She was a devoted wife and loving mother; a kind neighbor and a true friend to all she came in contact with. She is missed by her family and all her friends. Although we miss her, our loss is her gain.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was conducted by Rev. Mr. Gillespie of Salem. Interment was in Hayesville cemetery.

PEACE OR WAR SINGLE ISSUE STATES WILSON

He met many interesting characters, including Red Tomahawk, who killed Sitting Bull, according to local authorities. A number of other Indian fighters greeted him. Westward of here the president goes through the drought stricken territory. He also passes the bad lands where Roosevelt hunted big game many times. Some people who greeted Wilson at Bismarck and Mandan came as far as a hundred miles. "Terrible Jack," as friends at Bismarck called him, rode forty miles horseback—a real cowboy—to greet Wilson.

TRAPPED!

Get there in the wide-open West! Alone, penniless—a victim of a treacherous "ad" in a Matrimonial Newspaper.

What happened to Madge Nelson forms one of the season's most brilliant dramatic successes.

Samuel Goldwyn Presents Pauline Frederick And Corinne Riley Barker A Former Salem Girl In

"The Peace Of Roaring River" By Geo. Van Selsick Directed By Hobart Hailey Starts Tomorrow

YE LIBERTY

BITTER ATTACK MADE ON WILSON IN LONG REPORT

(Continued on page three)

Shantung to China instead of Japan and to hasten American participation in various commissions set up in the treaty.

League reservations on the right of withdrawal, article 10, the Monroe doctrine and domestic questions are now taken up and the report concludes:

"When we are once caught in the meshes of a treaty of alliance or a league of nations, composed of twenty-six other powers, our freedom of action is gone. To preserve American independence and American sovereignty and thereby best serve the welfare of mankind, the committee proposed these amendments and reservations."

The report follows in part:

"The treaty of peace with Germany was laid before the senate by the president on July 10, 1919. Three days were consumed in printing the treaty, which was in two languages and filled 537 quarto pages. The treaty, therefore, was not in the possession of the committee for action until July 14, 1919. The report upon the treaty was ordered by the committee on September 4. Deducting Sundays and holidays, the treaty has been before the committee on foreign relations for 45 days. The committee met on 37 of these working days, sitting whenever possible, both in the morning and afternoon. The eight working days upon which the committee did not sit were lost, owing to unavoidable delays in securing the presence of witnesses summoned by the committee.

"In view of the fact that six months were consumed by the peace conference in making the treaty, in addition to a month of work by the various delegations before the assembling of the conference, the period of six weeks consumed by the committee in considering it does not seem excessive.

"These facts are mentioned because there has been more or less clamor about delay in the committee. This demand for speed in the consideration of the most important subject which ever came before the senate of the United States, involving as it does fundamental changes in the character of the government and the future of our country for an unlimited period, was largely the work of the administration and its newspaper organs and was so far woefully artificial. Artificial also was the demand for haste disseminated by certain great banking firms which had a direct pecuniary interest in securing an early opportunity to reap the harvest which they expected from the adjustment of the financial obligations of the countries which had been engaged in the war.

The third element in the agitation for haste was furnished by the outcry of many excellent people who desired early action and who for the most part had never read the treaty or never got beyond the words 'League of nations' which they believed to be the establishment of eternal peace. To yield helplessly to this clamor was impossible to those to whom was entrusted the performance of a solemn public duty.

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

"The responsibility of the senate in regard to this treaty is equal to that of the executive, who although aided by a force of thirteen hundred assistants, experts and otherwise, consumed six months in making it and the senate and its committee on foreign relations cannot dispose of this momentous document with the light hearted indifference desired by those who were pressing for hasty and thoughtless action upon it. The committee was also hampered by the impossibility of securing the full information to which they were entitled from those who had conducted the negotiations. The committee was compelled to get such imperfect information as they secured from press reports by summoning before them some of the accessible experts who had helped to frame the complicated financial clauses and certain outside witnesses. As an illustration in a small way of the difficulties in securing information, it may be stated that no provision had been made to supply the senate with the maps accompanying the treaty, and it was necessary to send to Paris for them. The only documents of the many asked for by the committee which were furnished by the executive were the American draft of the league of nations, submitted to the commission on the league covenant and the composite draft made by experts of that commission."

CAMELS meet your fondest cigarette fancies in so many new ways—they are so unusual in flavor, so refreshing, so mellow-mild, yet so full-bodied—that you quickly realize their superior quality, and, become a Camel enthusiast!

Camels are unlike any other cigarette you ever smoked. Their expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos gives you so many delights. It not only assures that wonderful smoothness and refreshing taste but it eliminates bite and harshness! And, you smoke Camels without any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor!

No matter how fond you become of Camels! Smoke them liberally! They never will tire your taste! The blend takes care of that!

Compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, N. C.

18c a package

increase put into force by the Home Telephone company under authority of Postmaster General Burleson. Considerable interest was manifested in the hearing, according to Chairman Buchtel patrons of the company attending from miles around. According to press reports out of Medford the patrons of the company insist that the rate increase was authorized by Burleson under a misapprehension of the true valuation of the company's property. Buchtel was not in a position this morning to comment on any of the points brought out at the hearing.

* ROUND COAST *
* LEAGUE BASES *

(By United Press.)

Yesterday's winners: Oakland, Los Angeles, Sacramento 2, Salt Lake. Home runs: Ellis, Los Angeles, Kam, San Francisco; Swooley, Salt Lake.

Taking the doubleheader from Seattle, Sacramento again reached the tail end of the first division, tied with the Seals.

After winning the morning game from the Angels, the Oaks were unable to repeat and fell four to one in the second.

Hunter's errors gave the Bees two runs in their six-four win from the Seals.

George Uber, 51 years of age, took "French leave" of his job as a member of the state hospital wood cutting crew at the cottage farm, southeast of town, Tuesday evening, and had not been located up to this morning. Uber was committed to the state hospital from Linn county in May, 1916. He walked away once before during last June but was returned to the hospital within a few days.

Striking Choir Boys Find Selves Locked Out Today

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—Choir boys of Grace Cathedral who struck, demanding they be allowed to sing anthems rather than canticles and magnificats,

Public Service Commissioner Back From Rate Hearing

Fred G. Buchtel, chairman of the public service commission is back in his office this morning after attending a hearing at Medford relative to the reasonableness of the recent rate

AMERICA'S SHINOLA Home Shoe Polish

TO OPEN TURN KEY

Makes Shoes Last Longer And Look Better.

SHINOLA

AMERICA'S HOME SHOE POLISH

Black Tan White OxBlood Brown

found themselves locked out today. The lockout will continue three months, according to Dean Cushman, while the cathedral gives men and women singers a tryout.

Meanwhile the lads are firm in their demands, which also include shorter hours, more pay and fewer fines. Their ultimatum specified that fines might be imposed as follows: Misbehavior, not over five cents; absence, not over 10 cents; tardiness, not over five cents.

The First National bank at Redmond is constructing a new building, and much other industrial progress is noted.

AUDITING FINANCIAL STATEMENTS SYSTEMATIZING

Is Your ACCOUNTING SYSTEM on a FEDERAL TAX BASIS. If not, let me help you.

ORVILLE C. HENDERSON PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT INCOME TAX SPECIALIST Hotel Marion, Salem, Ore. 447 Morgan Bldg., Portland, Ore.

Mr. Barnes, U. S. Wheat Director Says:

"EAT MORE BREAD"

And reduce the high cost of living"

Holsum Bread

IS THE CHEAPEST AS WELL AS THE MOST WHOLESOME FOOD ON THE MARKET TODAY.

BUY THAT EXTRA LOAF

Your Grocer Has It CHERRY CITY BAKING COMPANY