A. H. LEA, Secretary, Salem.

By June 1 it had reached 61 cents. Then the price dropped to 53 cents on July 1 and by August 1 had started upward, reaching 62 cents a pound.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the commercial club held last evening, there was a general rating of those who should become members of the club and a re-rating as to memberships of those big firms and corporations who are already taking memberships. In order that the campaign for members may extend over just two or three days, two opposing teams will be organized, with a captain for each team. At the close of the campaign, there will be a general get together meeting at the auditorium of the club. The campaign starts next Tuesday morning.

The second is dated Aug. 2, 1917, and is a discharge from the 5th company of the Oregon coast artillery and is dated at Ft. Stevens. The third discharge was received at the naval training camp at Charleston, S. C., and is dated March 13, 1919. His last service was as machinist mate, 2d class.

Members of the Elks lodge who have been initiated this year are requested to be present at the meeting called for this evening at 8 o'clock. This special meeting is to be held at the state fair Thursday Sept. 25. Already plans are under way for some big business to be put on by the Elks and the intimation is given that it will be well for the new members of the lodge to attend the meeting tonight and get in on the doings for Elks day.

A letter has been received at the postoffice addressed as follows: "To the nearest relative or friend of William A. Williams." The letter is in an envelope with the return markings of "Headquarters, society of the 1st Division." It is suggested that information as to the disposition of this letter by a friend or relative of Mr. Williams would be acceptable. There is also a letter, not called for, addressed to Private Barney Leighty, Company F, 8th Infantry, Brest, France. This letter was mailed from Salem July 28, but the only memoranda on the upper left hand corner is "return to Salem, Oregon."

Residents of North Salem who believe in better roads and better living conditions are to meet this evening at the Highland school and not at the high school as formerly announced. The meeting is called for 7:30 o'clock and all who are interested in improving the north part of the city are invited. E. L. Tillinghast, superintendent of the state school for the deaf, will preside. H. W. Macy, city attorney, and T. E. McCroskey, manager of the Commercial club are also on the program for short talks. It is thought that the meeting will be a lively one as already certain residents are registering objections to certain paving, especially on Hickory street.

The hop situation is in somewhat of a muddled condition and reports radically differ. In the Lavesley yards, it is claimed there is no general picking, especially in the yard at Lavesley station where the strike first started. It is known that efforts were made by the strikers to involve other yards, and it is also known that Mr. Lavesley feels that after the pickers had contracted for 60 cents a box, that they should live up to their contracts. There was a rumor that the strikers had involved the Bishop yards north of Salem. According to the best of information there was no general basis for complaints; and that the strikes were inaugurated in the hope of securing a higher price per box than contracted for.

Remove blackheads, soften rough skin, clear the blood, brighten the eyes, sweeten the whole system. Nothing helps make a pretty face, winsome smile, as Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Try it tonight. 35c. D. J. Fry.

Salem Hog Market Strong And Steady At 17.5 Cents. Salem continues to be one of the best hog markets in the country and while Chicago is buying at about 14 1/2 cents and the figure for tops in Portland is about 19 cents, the Salem market is strong at 17 1/2 cents, according to Fred W. Stenshoff. This price for hogs is just a matter of demand and supply and during the last few days when farmers were not bringing in their hogs the demand was greater than the supply. Mr. Stenshoff predicts the present price will be maintained throughout the packing season, which extends into the month of May.

Catarrh Of The Stomach Is Dangerous.

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion--How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furled, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bismarated Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucous from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the bismarated magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucous and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover, it is a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bismarated Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bismarated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc., but get it in the pure bismarated form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for the purpose.

MEET ME AT "MEYERS"

DEPENDABILITY

Independence is the underlying principle of Americanism. We are proud of ourselves as a nation, and glory in the respect and confidence in which we are held by all nations of the earth.

We earned this enviable position through "Dependability."

As with nations, so with institutions, households and individuals.

To succeed and grow, policies and lives must be based on that impregnable rock, in accord with the immutable law of Confidence, the result being Dependability. Time and time alone confers this.

D. S. M.—"Dependability." It is a title earned only by hard efforts, honesty of purpose and application of those principles which rest on the Golden Rule.

When a firm is in business in the same town forty consecutive years and the public voluntarily speaks of them as "absolutely dependable," it spells success for the forty years efforts.

One of our contemporaries in a recent ad paid us the highest compliment on "Dependability," and we feel repaid and justly proud of the compliment. Look up their Ad.

Monmouth Normal School To Open Next Month

The doors of the Oregon Normal school will open next Monday morning, September 15th, for the work of the ensuing year. The registrar reports that there will be a greatly increased attendance over that of last year. The buildings and equipment have been put in first class condition.

The new members of the faculty, namely, Miss Edna Minges, head of the English department; Miss Alabama Breton, head of the art department; Miss Edna Mills, head of the domestic science and art department; Miss Nellie Senska, fifth and sixth grade critic; Miss Florence Hill, assistant rural supervisor; Miss Laura Holliday assistant in music and drawing, and Miss Virginia Hales, assistant in physical education, have all arrived and are familiarizing themselves with the work of their respective departments.

The normal faculty is being called upon for much institute work. Last week President Ackerman and Mrs. Curran were at Klamath Falls; this week Prof. Osteln is at Bend, Mrs. Curran and Miss Smith are at Ashland. All are reporting a great interest in the work of the normal.

President Ackerman reports that there is a scarcity of places for students to board. The dormitory rooms were all engaged some time ago. There are plenty of furnished homekeeping rooms offered but students seem to prefer board and room.

CHEERING CROWDS CALL WELCOME TO PRESIDENT WHEN HE HITS SPOKANE

By Hugh Bailie (United Press Staff Correspondent.) Army, Spokane, Wash., Sept. 12.—Packed streets, vociferous cheering, marked President Wilson's arrival in Spokane this afternoon.

The demonstration kept Wilson on his feet bowing and waving his hat most of the time. There was a wild outburst of applause as the president entered the army. Seats in the hall were distributed in a lottery. The place, which holds 2500, was packed.

Y.M.C.A. Girl's Divisional Show Rivals Joseph's Celebrated Coat

Joseph never prized his coat in many colors more highly than Miss Helen Colley values the knitted shawl embellished with the insignia of the forty divisions she helped to entertain during her six months' service on the other side with the Overseas Theatre League of the Y. M. C. A. The insignia were presented her by the doughboys and were sewed in place one by one as she made her way from the busy ports of France clear into the most advanced areas held by the American Army of Occupation. Miss Colley, whose home is in Bryn Athyn, Pa., was formerly a music teacher in the Bryn Academy. Later she served as accompanist to the baritone Henry Scott, and still more recently acted as secretary to Oscar Scagie at New York.
