HOP PICKERS STRIKE FIZZLES OUT TODAY

Yards Resume Harvest This Morning Short Handed in Most Places.

With the advent of fine weather, and fine picking conditions, it is understood that part of the hop troubles in the valley have subsided. In all of the LIVESLEY yards, a number of pickers are at work, although many have quit and are returning home, just on general principles.

As far as can be learned, a number of agitators from the LIVESLEY yard at LIVESLEY station, went into the Lake Brook yards two days ago and when no picking was going on, made talks to the pickers, saying other yards were being paid higher prices. With nothing to do and after waiting for favorable weather several days, it is understood these agitators found many willing hearers.

At the LIVESLEY office this morning, those who wanted their pay were being quickly cared for. With the picking season barely commenced, no fear is expressed by hop men as to the outcome of the strikes as there is time to find plenty of pickers.

One Portland man who was in the Lake Brook yards, said several agitators had made talks a few days ago, and this caused a number to quit work.

John Charleski, a Pole, was arrested yesterday and brought to town, charged with interfering with the work of pickers. He was bound over and released on payment of $20 bail. It is understood he is from Portland and was active in urging pickers to strike.

At the Wolf yards in the north mission bottoms, about two-thirds of the pickers were reported at work today. There was also reported a little trouble at the Bishop yard yesterday, as the strike news had spread.

FIRST OF UNIVERSITY STUDENTS COMING IN

Many Returned Soldiers On Willamette List; Registration On Monday.

The vanguard of students for Willamette University are now arriving on every train and the old campus has taken on a semblance of its former life. A committee from the University Y. M. C. A., headed by Ralph Barnes, are meeting in the new coliseum, assisting in finding rooms and in locating possible positions where they can work a few hours a day to help along their expense account. A large number of young ladies will be looking for places where they can pay a part or all of their board expense by work in the households. In order to help in the matter of finding employment the Y. M. C. A. members have opened a room at the university where they will conduct an impromptu employment bureau. A large number of calls have come in from about the city offering students odd jobs.

Among the familiar faces on the campus today are Bryan McKittick, Merrill Ohlberg, Philip Bartholomew, Paul Brown, Victor Collins, Bryan Conley, R. E. Jackson, Robert Storey, Ralph Thomas and Wapato.

Registration will begin Monday and the registrar, Miss Benedict, suggests that all local students register on that day, leaving Tuesday and Wednesday for the late comers.

Following is an approved list of the returned soldiers who have applied for admission to the university under the soldiers' aid provisions: Harold W. Emmel, Sherwood; Leland A. Austin, Woodburn; Henry R. Spiess, Canby; Bryan McKittick, Salem; Glen W. Campbell, Emmett, Ida.; W. W. Borah World Wreck Instead Of Amend League Covenant

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 13.—Wrecking, not mere amendment of the league of nations covenant, is the proposal of Senator Borah.

Borah left today to follow the trail of President Wilson still further. He referred to the president last night as "dodger and tool, to whom England need only make suggestions to secure compliance. He addressed a large crowd.

Wm. Schiltz, a member of the Southern Pacific construction gang that has been at work in Salem during the past week, had a bad fall from a scaffold upon the pavement at Trade and Commercial streets this forenoon, landing in such a manner that both ankles were broken. He was taken to the Salem hospital for attention and Dr. Byrd states that it will require an X-ray examination to determine just how badly the bones are fractured.

The Liberty section as far south from the city as the F. L. Scott farm is now receiving electric service. Several prosperous fruit men have put in electric pumps and not to be behind in the latest ideas of doing things, a number of housekeepers have installed electric ranges. Although nothing is now being done to extend the line beyond half a mile south of Liberty, it is understood the residents as far south as Rosedale are looking with covetous eyes on those with electric service around Liberty and that efforts will soon be made to have the line extended to the south as far as Rosedale.

And now comes the sad news from a prominent dry goods merchant that silk hosiery for women are almost out of the market. That is, after the present stocks are exhausted, many dealers will find it difficult to place orders. One big manufacturing concern of a well known brand has withdrawn all its silk hose from the market.

The No-Vary grocery on Court street opposite the Linn department store, has found business conditions in the city such that it has been obliged to do considerable expanding, until now the floor space is almost double that occupied when the store opened for business last May. They have included a basement under the entire building in the expanding, for carrying reserve stock. The firm is composed of Remple & Working. Mr. Remple came to Salem direct from Saskatoon, Canada, and is interested in shipping fresh fruit to that part of Canada.

Will S. Walton, cashier of the Ladd & Bush bank, and August Auckelstein, postmaster, have received invitations from C. S. Jackson of Portland to meet the president and Mrs. Wilson and to attend the dinner to be given them at the rortland hotel Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The invitations are engraved, simply stating that an invitation is extended to meet the president and his wife at the dinner, and there is the customary R. S. V. P.

Miss Mady Talmadge left for Portland Friday morning to begin rehearsals with the concert company with which she will open a season October 1 under the Ellison-White management. She will be musical director of the company. Miss Talmadge has been spending a vacation of several weeks in Salem at the home of her parents.

A peculiar and very painful accident befell John Albrich and Fred Armstrong, two of the workmen in the Barr plumbing shop, yesterday afternoon. They were repairing an empty gasoline tank, which proved to have just enough of the liquid left in it to form an explosive. The heat of the soldering torches set it off and both ends of the tank were blown out by the force of the explosion, severely burning both men about the face. Fortunately their eyes escaped. Armistead came back to the shop this morning and offered to go to work but the doctor advised against it.

Floyd Volk, an assistant pressman in the Capital Journal office, suffered a painful injury yesterday afternoon while running the regular edition of the paper. In working about the heavy steel rollers that make the final fold of the paper the fingers of his right hand were caught between the rollers and his hand was drawn into the machine several inches, stripping the flesh from the bones. The physicians who attended him state that it may be a day or two before the extent of the injury can be ascertained, but it is believed there is no damage to the bones.

Wm. Schiltz, a member of the Southern Pacific construction gang that has been at work in Salem during the past week, had a bad fall from a scaffold upon the pavement at Trade and Commercial streets this forenoon, landing in such a manner that both ankles were broken. Private Spruce Producers Could Have Saved Country $50,000,000 Is Assertion Portland, Or., Sept. 13.—Had the government bought airplane spruce and cedar from private operators rather than permit the $50,000,000 investment of the spruce production division, it would have saved from $25,755,666.50 to $35,796,322.70 for the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy.

That is the substance of testimony submitted to the congressional subcommittee at its Friday afternoon hearing by Guy George Gabrielson, investigator for the committee.

The estimated $35,796,322.70 loss was computed on a salvage basis of ten per cent and the smaller estimated loss was determined on a basis of 40 per cent.

"The congressional committee complete its hearings in Portland this morning and will leave for California tonight."

Telephone Company Files Protest To Suspension Of Burleson Scale of Rates

Vigorous protest against the suspension of the Burleson made telephone rates at this time, is made in a brief submitted to the state public service commission this morning by Carey & Kerr, Portland attorneys, representing the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company. The pre-war rates could not and ought not to be restored, the brief contends. An order suspending the present rates would practically curtail activities an demoralize service, it adds. To obey such an order would mean an immediate reduction of wages followed by strikes and a paralysis of the business of the state, the brief declares. The attorneys for the telephone firm, in making the inquiry that the company is collecting more than the rates ultimately determined upon them, under the stipulation entered into with the commission on the hearing, it will also refund for such excess from and after August 1, 1919.
