COUNCILMEN SCORE CHIEF OF POLICE

Varney Criticized For Not Acting On Council Order Regarding Plumbers.

With just one more than a quorum present last evening, the city council laid to rest the bill providing for a city purchasing agent, tackled the proposition as to whether the chief of police could disobey an order of the council and relieved John Marr, merchants' patrol, of the necessity of co-operating with the police force. It also held up for another session some little details that had been overlooked in preparing the five-year lighting contract with the Portland Railway Light & Power company.

Alderman Volk, who is chairman of the plumbing committee, arose to inquire as to whether the orders of the council had been obeyed in bringing proceedings against the plumbers who have not taken out licenses, as required by law. At a former session, the council had passed a motion that action be taken against those who refused to take out licenses. Four of the plumbing firms at once complied with the law, while four refused.

Alderman Volk inquired of City Attorney Macy what had been done. He was informed that warrants for the arrest of the four plumbers had been filed with Chief of Police Varney. Upon further inquiry it developed that Chief Varney had failed to swear out the warrants and as a result, no action had been taken against the plumbers, notwithstanding the orders of the city council.

"What I want to know is why the chief of police did not obey the orders of the council," declared Mr. Volk, "and whether there is any way to remove him, even if he was elected by the people." He was informed by City Attorney Macy the council could remove an official who did not obey its orders.

After several attempts to bring to a final reading the ordinance providing for a city purchasing agent at $50 a month and the appointment of City Recorder Earl Race to the office during the time he served as city recorder, the ordinance was finally called up last evening. It was dead, however, within a minute after the reading as Alderman Johnson moved that further action on the ordinance be indefinitely postponed and the only dissenting voice to killing the ordinance was that of Alderman Schunke.

John Marr, merchants' police, will be obliged to hand in reports only once a month instead of each morning. The police were endeavoring to co-operate with Patrolman Marr. Recently he was asked to comply with the ordinance requiring daily reports. To relieve him of working with the police, an ordinance was passed last evening repealing the former ordinance and requiring him to report only monthly. It was intimated that a number of business men felt that as long as they paid Mr. Marr, it was nobody's business, not even the council or police, as to what Mr. Marr did. The police were of the opinion that if Mr. Marr would co-operate and quickly inform the police station when things looked wrong, it would rid much in policing the city at night. As the matter now stands, should the merchants' patrolman see burglars at work, he would not be obliged to report to the police until the end of the month.

The Fourth street people came before the council with a petition for paving and same will be acted on by the street committee. Residents on Norway street between Summit and Capital will have the street graveled as they pay for the gravel and the city do the work. Fir street between Bush and Owen—just one block—was also before the council for some gravel and grading of the street, to make it passable this winter. The city will rent its roller and heating plant to L. O. Harrold for $10 a day. He petitioned the council and said the plant would be needed only about six weeks. He recently secured a contract of paving at Albany.

Due to the fact that there was some mix-up as to certain conditions under which the city is to contract for its lighting for five years beginning next June, no action was taken on the contract which came up for final reading. It was again referred to the committee on lights of which Paul V. Johnson is chairman.

wage scale in many industries is as much as 100 per cent and labor is only from 50 to 60 per cent as efficient as before, according to testimony before the committee. A tax of almost $5,000,000,000 a year has been passed on in the long run to the consumer. "Large increases in exports, amounting, in the case of foodstuffs, to six times the amount in 1914. INCONSISTENCIES OF POLICY ARE CHARGED

Sherman Says President And "Echoes" Frequently Have Changed Position.

Washington, Sept. 16—(United Press)—President Wilson and his "echoes" in the senate have repeatedly changed position on United States foreign policy, Senator Sherman, Illinois, declared today.

Sherman, speaking on the senate floor said that President Wilson and Senator Hitchcock were both strong advocates of neutrality in European quarrels and demanded that this country keep out of foreign quarrels about the time the Lusitania was sunk, while now, he said, they are seeking to commit the United States to an exactly opposite policy.

He quoted liberally from the president's pre-war speeches in attempting to prove his point.

Referring to the president's statement at St. Louis that the United States should advance four or five billions to rehabilitate Europe, Sherman said:

"Where are the four or five billions to come from? Taxes, more taxes, Europe's rehabilitation—taxes; the world's rehabilitation—taxes without end."

President Wilson's statement at Kansas City that the league of nations is a cause greater than the senate or the government drew from Sherman the charge that the president had adjured his oath of allegiance to the constitution, "and sworn anew allegiance to an alien government, created in Europe, whose capital is Geneva. We would rather desert our president than desert our country."

Lieutenant Batten, member of the government forest patrol crew, flew from Portland to Eugene Saturday in exactly 45 minutes, breaking all flight records between the two cities.

Tenderfoot Tire Buyers

WHEN you find a man who is still shopping around for tires you may be certain he is still a tenderfoot on the tire question. No matter how long he has owned a car he hasn't yet learned to profit by the experience of men who really know.

Let him ask for and abide by the experience of the men whose cars have Firestone Gray Sidewalls on every wheel, including the "spare." He will never change again.
