

COMING TO YE LIBERTY NEXT WEEK

NAZIMOVA in "THE BRAT"

The phrase "all star cast" has been so overworked that it has come to be "the bunk" with a good share of the public. The term, however, will take on a measure of reality when Mack Sennett's latest and largest farce production, "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," is spread out for the public gaze on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday at the Liberty theater.

In this film, which is said to set the high mark for the comedy king of the screen, will be found five reels of mirth sustained at a high pitch instead of the customary two from Sennett, and all the Sennett farces assembled in one array for a broadside of ridicule at German bluff and bluster. Charlie Murray plays an Irish soldier; Ford Sterling enacts the kaiser; Chester Conklin and Ben Turpin, Marie Prevost and Eva Thatcher are ideal cast, the Sennett Bathing Beauties splash their way into consistent scenes and Bothwell Browne, the noted male for what may be considered the pivotal actor of feminine roles, was engaged part—that of an American aviator who in disguise, as a gay "vamp," worms his way into the imperial household and learns both state and domestic secrets of value to the U. S. government.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezome on an aching corn, instantly the corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out! Yes, magel! A tiny bottle of Freezome costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezome is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.
