ALICE PRICE MOORE
Portland singer who will sing at the state fair Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Moore is contralto soloist at the White Temple in Portland.

ALICE PRICE MOORE, contralto soloist of the White Temple, Portland, will be featured again at the state fair this year. Mrs. Moore will arrive in Salem Thursday, and will sing at the auditorium on that day Friday and Saturday. She has been an attraction at the fair for two previous years. Lowell Patton, a member of the Ellison White chautauqua service, will be Mrs. Moore's accompanist.

Mrs. Moore is a prominent member of the Portland McDowell club and is possessed of a contralto voice of rare quality.

Miss Esther Davies was charming hostess at a pretty dancing party Saturday night, honoring Miss Catherine Barhyte, Miss Leah Greenbaum and Carl Davies who are leaving to enter college. Miss Greenbaum and Miss Barhyte will attend the Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis, while Mr. Davies will go to Eugene to enter the University of Oregon. The rooms were lavishly decorated with autumnal flowers and light refreshments were served in the course of the evening. The guest list included Catherine Barhyte, Leah Greenbaum, Lillian Jaquet, Hester Welch, Florence Kaefe, Lolita Davis, Carl Davies, Garnet Harris, Paul Davies, Philip Jaskoski, Gay Taylor of Portland, E. Porter and Leonard Porter.

An attractive visitor in the city is Mrs. Raymond Walsh (Jane Fry) of Sacramento, California, who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Fry. She has with her, her infant daughter, Priscilla. Mrs. Walsh was accompanied north by her husband who returned to Sacramento Sunday. She will remain in Salem until after the fair, probably prolonging her stay for a fortnight.

Mrs. John Carson left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where she will represent Salem at the War Mothers convention October 1st. Mrs. Carson will return about the last week in October, coming by way of Canada.

Miss Lucile Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunn of Eugene, became the bride of Garson C. Dyott, son of the late Rev. Luther B. Dyott and Mrs. Dyott of this city, at a quiet ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Percival Wednesday evening. Rev. William T. Eliot officiated and only the immediate families were present. The bride, a University of Oregon girl, is prominent socially here and in Eugene. She devotes her time largely to philanthropic and social service work and during the war was active in war work. Mr. Dyott is also a University of Oregon graduate, later attending school in the east. Upon their return from their wedding trip Mr. Dyott and his bride will reside in Portland.—Evening Telegram.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McElvain entertained with a prettily appointed dinner party Sunday at their home on North Liberty street. The table was delightfully centered with a bowl of nasturtiums. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mishler, Mrs. Horn, Mrs. Emma C. Kline of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. George Dunsford, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Delano, Miss Cynthia Delano, Mrs. Margaret Cortew of Hutcheson, Kansas and Mr. and Mrs. Burton A. Myers.

Mrs. F. C. Sharp, who has been the guest of her cousin, C. B. Clancy, returned to Seattle last evening where she will assume charge of Clarke hall, the girls dormitory of the University of Washington. Her son Jack will remain as Mr. Clancy's guest for another week when he leaves for California to enter Stanford university.

One of the big events of the near future will be the bazaar given by the members of the Presbyterian church. A big feature of the affair will be the serving of one of their noted dinners. A number of prominent women have the bazaar in charge and there is no doubt of its ultimate success.

Honoring Dr. Olivia Edman of Marshfield, who is a Salem visitor this week, Mrs. Pearl Ling entertained with a delightfully informal dinner Sunday evening. The table was prettily centered with the season's blossoms and covers were laid for Dr. Edman, Mrs. A. G. Poor, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shelley and the hostess.

Miss Marian Abbey of Newark, New Jersey, is visiting at the home of Miss Cardelia Rager on Cottage street. Miss Abbey will remain in the city for several weeks when she will be joined by her parents, and with them will leave for California for an extended visit.

Miss Nana Putnam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Putnam of 698 North Liberty street, has gone to Corvallis to attend the Oregon Agricultural college during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Roy of Dinuba, California, arrived in Salem yesterday for an extended visit with the latter's mother, Mrs. N. J. Hinton, and other relatives. They were accompanied by their little grandson, Master Kenneth Roy.

C. B. Clancy is expecting as his guests his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Clancy of Tacoma, who will spend the remainder of fair week in the Capital city.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mishler are entertaining as their guest, Mrs. Emma C. Kline of Medford.

Dr. Olivia Edman of Marshfield is a guest in the city, attending the fair and visiting with friends. Before returning home she will spend a few days with friends in Portland.

H. A. Koef, representing the Eugene Fordson company, is in the city for the week. Mr. Whiteside, of Whiteside & Locke, Corvallis, is another Fordson representative at the fair.

CRAWFORD SEEKS DISTRICT AIDES ON CENSUS WORK

H. R. Crawford, census supervisor of the first congressional district in Oregon, is not only willing that people from all parts of the district should make application for appointment as enumerators, but is really anxious that such applications be made. For cities of more than 5000, the enumeration will be made in the first two weeks of January, and in the rural districts in about 30 days. But what Mr. Crawford wants, is applications from people living in all parts of the state, west of the mountains, excepting Multnomah county. The instructions issued to district supervisors is that so far as practical, enumerators shall be actual residents of the sub-division assigned to them, and this is especially true of those to enumerate in the rural districts. Hence Mr. Crawford wants applications from the following counties: Benton, Clackamas, Clatsop, Columbia, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Jackson, Josephine, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Marion, Polk, Tillamook, Washington and Yamhill. In this district in 1910, the enumerators found 303,634 people. Now as to the qualifications of an enumerator who is willing to give some time to the work early in January, Mr. Crawford has the following instructions: "Enumerators should be active, energetic and of good address. They must have at least an ordinary education and be able to write plainly, with reasonable rapidity." Anyone with an average education will have a chance of an appointment, with the preference being given to those who can serve in their own immediate locality. On this point the instructions read: "The supervisor will provide for a test examination. This will be of a practical character, consisting chiefly of filling out from a sample schedule of population from data furnished, and in the case of enumerators who work in rural districts, the filling out of sample schedules of agriculture."

Those interested should place their applications on file addressing H. R. Crawford, census supervisor, Salem, Oregon.

NO FARM LAND READY FOR VETERANS OF WAR

In answer to the inquiry as to whether the soldier has anything waiting for him in the way of land from the state of Oregon, it may be said that the veterans of the state turned down at the special election the bill to appropriate money to be used in buying farms for soldiers. There was appropriated $50,000 for the Oregon Land Settlement commission, but which is not available for the man just home from the service. In reply to a recent inquiry addressed to the Oregon Land Settlement commission, a letter was received as follows: "We are completing one farm near Independence which will be sold as soon as possible and our work will proceed with the limited funds available." In another letter it is stated that with the $50,000, an effort is being made to establish four or five farms which will put into practice farm management on the plans of the Oregon Agricultural college, in order to determine the size of unit necessary for one man to operate to support himself and family in a going business. As far as can be learned, the soldier has nothing to look forward to from the Oregon Land Settlement commission.

HARVEST SEASON IN COUNTY NEARLY OVER

S. H. Van Trump, county fruit inspector, sizes up the general situation in the county as follows:

"The average farmer is beginning to say, 'Yes, I've about caught up with my work.' Threshing is about over and the clover hulling will be about completed the latter part of this week. Farmers this week are not doing much plowing, but what is being done is by tractor. Horses are rarely seen hitched to a plow.

Prune harvest has just fairly started and driers are beginning to start in the low grounds. In the hills, driers were operating a week ago. The prune crop can be estimated at about 50 per cent. Where foliage was light, the rains did considerable damage.

The apple crops looks bigger and better each day. They are now taking on a wonderful color, due to the favorable weather. Apple growers will reap a harvest this year due to the heavy demand and high prices.

English walnuts never looked better. The Franzettes are especially fine, especially young trees. The early Mayette varieties are already beginning to show signs of opening.

Mr. Van Trump regards the past season as ideal, with the exception of the few days rains that did some damage to vines and peaches.

The home of Mr. Van Trump, near Mt. Angel, was burned to the ground a few months ago, with very little of his household effects saved. Until he decides to re-build, he will make his home in Salem on Market and Fourth streets.

Officers of the Hood River County Pioneer association re-elected M. D. O'Neil president and Henry L. Howe secretary and named Mrs. Mary Frazer historian.

The United Brethren conference at The Dalles unanimously adopted a resolution supporting an initiative petition against cigarettes recently filed for a vote at the next state election.

Constipation

THERE IS NOTHING equal to Chamberlain's Tablets for constipation. When the proper dose is taken their action is so agreeable and so natural that you do not realize that it is the effect of a medicine. These tablets possess tonic properties that aid in establishing a natural and regular action of the bowels. Chamberlain's Tablets have cured many cases of chronic constipation.

Making a purely vegetable Medicine 1875—1919

In 1875, Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., gathered and dried the roots and herbs which she used in the now famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, from the fields and forests.—then steeped them on her kitchen stove and filled a few bottles at a time, to alleviate the suffering of her women friends, neighbors and acquaintances, and the success of this medicine was unparalleled.

After 44 Years
These illustrations show the present method by which vast quantities of this well-known remedy are produced and from exactly the same kind of roots and herbs used by Mrs. Pinkham in the beginning.

- First—The various herbs used are of the finest quality, and gathered at the time their medicinal strength is the highest.
- Second—After the herbs are properly ground and mixed, the medicinal properties are extracted by soaking in large stone jars, covered.
- Third—Then the extract is drained through percolators, acting somewhat like a coffee percolator.
- Fourth—To insure a thoroughly pure medicine, it is carefully pasteurized by heat in special apparatus, and bottled hot.

Throughout the entire process, from the crude herb to the finished medicine in bottle, cleanliness and exactness are the watch-words.

The Reliability of Testimonials Guaranteed
The testimonials published by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company come to them unsolicited. Never knowingly have they published an untruthful letter, never is a letter published without the written consent of the writer. The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and illness. It is easy to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; and their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.
