1600 REGULARS PATROL OMAHA STREETS TO PREVENT RIOTING

Mob Burns Courthouse, Hangs Negro and Beats Mayor Who Seeks to Keep Order

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 29.—Although 1,600 regular troops patrolled the streets and machine guns were placed at strategic points about the city, officials this morning are fearful that race rioting will break out afresh tonight.

A negro, Will Brown, identified by Miss Agnes Loebbeck, 19, as the man who had assaulted her Thursday night, was lynched and his body burned, Mayor Ed P. Smith was nearly hanged, the Douglas county courthouse was burned, one man, Francis Chaany, 19, was shot and killed and fifty-six other persons were wounded in a riot here Sunday night.

While thousands of men, women and children looked on and cheered, Brown was taken from the fourth floor of the burning courthouse after the smoke had all but overcome Sheriff Clark and his deputies, and taken to Eighteenth and Douglas street, a rope put around his neck and he was hanged from a telephone pole. The mob then riddled his body with bullets, cut it down and burned it.

Mayor Smith almost suffered the same fate when he defied the mob. His last words, mumbled while almost unconscious from the beating he had received, and with the rope around his neck, were:

"I'll give my life if necessary, but I'll not surrender the negro. I'm going to enforce the law."

A tall, well dressed man saved the mayor's life when he cut the rope just as the mayor was being lifted off the ground. Police reinforcements with drawn pistols beat back the mob and the mayor was rushed away in an automobile.

Mayor Smith regained consciousness this morning and was able to sit up.

WILSON SPENDS DAY RESTING IS OFFICIAL WORD

By Hugh Bailie
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Sept. 29.—President Wilson had a restless night but is sleeping this morning," a bulletin issued by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the president's physician said today.

Only members of the president's immediate family are permitted to see him. All appointments have been cancelled and no other will be made, according to Secretary Tamm.

Dr. Grayson said it is undecided whether the president will leave Washington to rest at some other place.

The round table industrial conference set for October 5 will meet despite the illness of President Wilson, it was said at the White House today. The president, however, will probably be unable to take any part in the session.

It was also definitely announced today that the king and queen of Belgium will tour the country before coming to Washington to be guests at the White House. Original plans were for the royal couple to come here first.

President Wilson, as soon as his health permits, is expected to issue a statement containing a number of arguments for ratification of the peace treaty, which his breakdown prevented him from making in speeches at Little Rock, Oklahoma City, Memphis and Louisville.

Before he became ill, it was learned that he had "something up his sleeve"—that he was saving ammunition for the concluding addresses of his trip. His idea apparently was to finish his drive for ratification in such a manner that world-wide attention would be riveted on it, returning to Washington primed for a "show down" on acceptance or rejection of the treaty. Illness prevented this climax. It was considered likely today he would take the first opportunity to make use of his arguments by the issuance of this statement.

Portland Man Named State Bank Examiner By Olcott

State Superintendent of Banks Will H. Bennett today announced the appointment of W. M. Adair of Portland as state bank examiner to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of E. F. Slade who left two weeks ago to accept a position with the federal reserve bank at San Francisco. Adair has been identified with the Security Saving & Trust company of Portland for several years past.

Coming Forty-Eight Hours Critical In Settlement of British Railroad Walk-Out

By Ed. L. Keen
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
London, Sept. 29.—Great Britain, a nation without transportation expected today that the next forty-eight hours would prove the most critical period of the railway strike. Today and tomorrow, it was believed would show whether the walkout would be broken soon or whether the nation would have to face a long siege.

While all the strikers readily accepted the opportunity for a week end holiday, it was believed today that many of them were becoming disheartened over the public's hostility and were likely to resume work.

The government's efforts to operate a skeleton service were partly successful today on both local and long distance lines. The trains were manned by volunteers and loyal employees who are not members of the union.

The boat train, running from London to Folkestone, departed on time.

The London Southwestern road is running electric trains to the suburban district south of the Thames, maintaining half hour service.

The trains are operated by union men who refused to strike.

The seamen's and firemen's union, voting against a strike, has declared it will remain loyal to the government and defeat the endeavors of the Bolsheviks and hot heads of the industrial world.

The traffic situation was unchanged today. Pending the government's attempt to operate train services, travel remained as difficult as when the strike began.

Arrangements for the distribution of food are proceeding smoothly, an official statement issued from Downing street declared. It was stated immediate use would be made of offers for service which were pouring in from all parts of the country.

London is like a city in a state of siege—besieged by a section of its own population. The full extent of the strike is gradually sinking into the minds of the people and affecting every person in one way or another.

FAIR THIS YEAR RECORD BREAKER IN EVERY LINE

With the close of the 58th annual state fair of Oregon the state treasurer's coffers will be enriched by approximately $80,000; Salem has been made acquainted with more than 150,000 visiting guests, and the banner event of its kind ever held in the state has been successfully concluded.

The above estimates were made Saturday night, the closing day of the fair, by A. H. Lea, secretary of the state fair board. He was unexpectedly called to Portland Monday morning, so whether these figures will be exceeded will not be known until Mr. Lea's return Monday evening.

Attendance at the fair this year is said to have exceeded by one-third that of any previous year. Saturday's attendance broke all records for the closing day. Gate receipts Saturday night totalled $4050—$2190 more than the last day's receipts in 1918.

Monday the work of dismantling the exhibition pavilions and sales stands was in full swing. All exhibits, except 33 head of prize-winning cattle from the Gene-Duluth Farms of Minnesota, and three carloads of banner-carrying horses from the Merritt-Bowers Farm, Tulare, Cal., have left the fair grounds. These cattle and horses will be permitted to rest a few days before undertaking the return journey to their homes.

Figures, at 4 o'clock Saturday, showed that $75,471.26 had been netted through the big fair. Several thousands of dollars are yet to be received from non-resident exhibitors, according to Miss Wilson, secretary to Mr. Lea, and with the receipt of this total clearance from the show is expected to reach $80,000.

Promise of a substantial balance in funds, although the expense of this year's fair was greater than any previous ones, is made by Mr. Lea. Final figures revealing the amount of this balance may not be known for 30 days or more, when clerks working on the books of the fair have completed their task.

The law requires that this report be in the hands of Governor Olcott and State Treasurer Hoff by December 1.

The thousands of visitors to the fair departed with best of impressions of Oregon's productive and industrial capabilities. Many persons and families who remained in Salem or at the fair grounds during the entire week of merriment and show apparently enjoyed the occasion to the utmost. Several families are yet camped at the fair grounds or in the vicinity and will remain to avail themselves of the outdoor life in the prevailing good weather.

One of the greatest features of this year's fair was the auto races. The success of this part of the entertainment wins for its permanency in future program of events. Horse races were equally successfully staged. No accidents to mar the entertainment of the thousands who thronged the tracks were reported.

Final adjustments and claims of exhibitors will be considered by the state fair board at a meeting scheduled for October 16.

CHARLES ARNOLD, OLD RESIDENT, DIES HERE

At the age of 90 years, Charles Arnold died September 28, 1919, at his home, 1145 North Liberty street, having been a resident of Howell Prairie and Salem for the past 67 years.

He was born in Alsace-Lorraine in 1829, coming ten years later to this country and locating in Missouri. In 1852 he crossed the plains coming direct to Oregon. In 1862 he was married to Miss Elizabeth Morris. He lived on Howell Prairie 37 years.

Of the nine children born, six are living: Elvira Arnold, August Arnold and Ira Arnold, all of Portland; Mrs. Nettie Thompson, Mrs. Ida Thompson and Charles Arnold of Los Angeles.

All six of the children will arrive in Salem in time to attend the funeral services to be held Thursday, October 2, at the home in Salem. Burial will be in the City View cemetery.

Mrs. Catherine Foley Dies In Oregon City On Sunday

According to word received in Salem Monday, Mrs. Catherine Foley, wife of Patrick Foley, formerly of this city, died at their new home in Clatskanie, Oregon, Sunday. Funeral services will be held at the Catholic church at Clatskanie Wednesday.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Foley is survived by two sons and two daughters: George R. Foley of Clatskanie, Owen J. Foley of San Francisco, Mrs. George F. Clem of Portland and Mrs. W. P. Richmond of Detroit, Mich.

Negro Convict Escapes From Flax Field Today

George Smith, a negro, 24 years old, sentenced from Umatilla county last April to a term of from one to seven years for larceny from a dwelling, escaped from the flax patch at the state prison this morning. Smith's record includes a term in the Walla Walla, Wn., and Deer Lodge, Mont., penitentiaries and in the Washington state reform school.

HUBBARD MAN HURT

Last Friday afternoon N. Watkins fell from a barn loft while helping Andy Strubahr and broke his collar bone and one rib on the left side.

Albany's public schools opened this week with an enrollment of 995, an increase of 14 per cent over last year.

STEEL WORKERS PLAN TO EXTEND STRIKE FIZZLES

Few Employes of Bethlehem Company Respond to Call to Leave Jobs.

The steel workers attempt to extend the nation-wide strike to the Bethlehem Steel company apparently failed today. Reports indicated that in most of the Bethlehem mills the response was so limited that production will be but little affected.

FIVE ROBBERIES SET NEW RECORD FOR ONE NIGHT

Portland Or., Sept. 29.—Two holdups the burglary of a downtown jewelry store, the robbery of a clothing establishment, and the daring theft of a safe from the Casino theatre, in Burdette street, were reported to the police this morning. Three men drove up to the theatre in an automobile, at an early hour. They jimmied the door of the cashier's cage in the front of the show house placed the safe, with an unknown amount of money, into their car and drove away leisurely.

By-standers watched them in their theft, but thought the robbers were the proprietors of the place, so bold was their work.

The safe contained the receipts of Saturday night and Sunday.

The front window of a Third street jewelry store was smashed early this morning by an unknown thief, who made away with jewelry worth $250.

A lone highwayman held up the Standard Oil company's filling station at Williams avenue and Sacramento street at mid-night, taking $150 away from the clerk.

Two Chinese bandits held up a fan tan game last night and ran away with $700. Chin Hin, proprietor of the game, which being conducted within 100 feet of the police station, ran screaming into the street as the robbers left. The police took up the chase, arresting Kim Wong as an alleged robber.

Burglars (with a fancy for high priced shirts) cleaned out the show cases in the entrances to Ben Salling's clothing store early this morning. Other costly haberdashery was stolen, the loot being valued at hundreds of dollars.

WILSON SENTENCED TO YEAR IN STATE PRISON

One year in the state penitentiary, without limitation of time, was the sentence imposed this morning on Wilbur Wilson, one of the four young men who stole a new Studebaker automobile and a $500 worth of supplies from a garage in Woodburn a month or so ago. With this sentence, he may ask to come before the parole board within three months.

The other three young men who took part in stealing about $2500 worth of property out of an engine, as they pleaded guilty. Staben is now serving a sentence of three months in the county jail. Forstner was given a one year sentence in the state penitentiary, but never got there as he was paroled. Merchant, who claimed to be only 16 years old and no record could be had to learn his exact age, was turned over to the Marion county juvenile court.

Auto Thief Will Fight Extradition To Oregon

L. P. Aldrich of the Ladd & Bush bank, who went to Los Angeles as a deputy sheriff to bring back the thieves who stole his Dodge car, did not return today as expected. The delay is due to the fact that the young thief who confessed to the robbery, has secured an attorney who has brought habeas corpus proceedings to prevent the return to Oregon.

The hearing was first set for last Saturday and then postponed until Tuesday of this week. Extradition papers for the young thief had been issued here and had been honored by the governor of California. It is understood that one of the thieves who confessed, feigned sickness and was taken to a hospital from which he escaped.

VICTIMS OF WRECK TAKEN TO 'FRISCO

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—(United Press.)—The Southern Pacific Shoreline Limited, which was wrecked last night north of King City, with two dead and 39 injured pulled out of San Luis Obispo "like a streak of greased lightning," 39 minutes later," according to a statement made today by Daniel Tatchan.

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—The special train, bringing the injured from the wreck of the Southern Pacific shoreline limited arrived here at 8 a. m. today. The injured were taken at once to the Southern Pacific general hospital and to the Mount Zion hospital.

The train, northbound, left the track at Rock Point, a dangerous curve 8 miles north of King City.

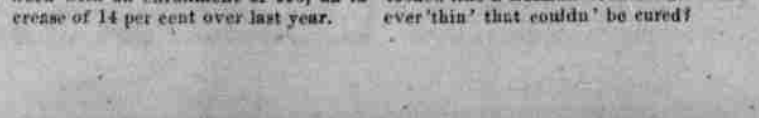

The engineer, Walter Patrick, and the fireman G. Reinhardt, both of San Luis Obispo, were killed.

The Southern Pacific gave out a list of 39 injured, which includes:

Mrs. E. T. Ridgeman, 1856 Shelly street, Seattle, bruised.

T. D. Starke, and wife, 1835 Barclay street, Vancouver, legs bruised.

Total registration at the opening of school in Albany Monday reached 995, the largest ever recorded on the first day of school.
