It is just four weeks from yesterday when the hands of the clock may be turned back one hour. When the day light law was passed for this year, Oct. 26, Sunday, was the day specified when the six months period should expire. As the day light saving law has been repealed, time will then run along as it did before the war.

The first touch of winter weather came last Saturday when the maximum temperature reached only 60 and the night minimum down to 44. And then Sunday it climbed up to 64, while last night the mercury dropped to the low point of 39 degrees above, with a pretty heavy frost. In fact, last night was the coldest in this part of the valley since April 23, when the minimum was also 39.

The sugar situation is getting just a little strained in the city and there is no assurance that the lid will be lifted for several weeks. Several stores are holding their customers down to purchases of 50 cents each while others are still allowing the limit of $1. One dealer said there was some satisfaction in the situation and that was, that conditions were not as bad here as in Portland where several of the big stores are entirely out of sugar.

Dispatches stating that Frank Wagner had been arrested in St. Joseph, Missouri, charged with safe blowing in Astoria, and that he would be brought back to Astoria, were of special interest to officers in Salem. It was this same Frank Wagner, traveling under various names, that served time in the state penitentiary here, and who was accused of being one of the men who robbed the Julius Alm store at Silverton. Shortly after the Silverton robbery, Wagner and two Silverton have been established for the general distribution of army food. Those who paid in advance for supplies at the Salem post office about eight weeks ago are still waiting, as instructions at the time were to send all orders to Fort Mason, Calif., where they would be given attention in order received. As none of the orders have arrived so far after waiting eight weeks, the supposition is that a few thousand orders got in ahead of those from Salem.

J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools is occasionally obliged to pay one cent for a letter that was intended for him, but where it was improperly addressed to Salem, Oregon. When a letter is not called for and is advertised it costs the sum of one cent to get it and this often happens when the postal authorities of Salem, Ohio, notify the postal authorities of Salem, Oregon, that a letter addressed to J. A. Churchill had not been claimed. It just happens that there are 28 other towns named Salem in the United States and a few named Salem Chapel, Saleville, Salem Depot and Even Salemburg. The postmaster of Salem, Ohio, and the postmaster of Salem, Oregon, exchange weekly a list of un-called for letters addressed to Salem, but the wrong state named.

Vocational Agriculture In Eight Schools Authorized

The teaching of vocational agriculture in eight high schools over the state was authorized by the state board for vocational education at a meeting in the office of J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of instruction, Saturday. The schools in which the work was authorized to be carried on were those at Hood River, Gresham, Milton-Freewater, McMinnville, Newberg, Enterprise, Elsie and Woodburn. Investigations are being conducted relative to the introduction of this work into other schools in the state and it is expected that from 12 to 15 schools will be offering courses in vocational agriculture this year as against a total of four last year. Work in home economics was authorized by the board in the Ashland and Salem high schools, this being an increase of one over last year when the Salem school was the only one in the state offering this course.

School Shoes

TRAIN YOUR CHILD'S FEET PROPERLY

Boys and girls require different shoes from men and women. Their tender little feet can easily be ruined by badly shaped shoes. Scientifically designed shoes will help the growing feet to develop properly—by always keeping each pliable bone and delicate muscle in its correct position.

BUSTER BROWN SHOES

For Girls and Boys of 2 to 16

are made upon the scientifically designed Brown Shaping Last—that accurately provide for every gradual change in the growth of the feet, and make the shoes support and strengthen the feet at every point.

The Brown Shaping Lasts may vary at any given point only one hundredth part of an inch from one size to the next—but these slight changes are necessary to develop perfect feet, and to keep them perfect.

Buster Brown Shoes are consequently so shaped that they train the feet as they should grow—and positively prevent weak ankles, broken arches, tortured toes, corns, bunions, etc.

Bring in your boys and girls and have them fitted with Buster Brown Shoes—and watch their feet develop sturdily and gracefully.
