

COUNTY IS SUED FOR INJURY TO MAN UPON ROAD

Alleging that Marion county was negligent in the care of a public road near Gervais in September of 1917, Harry Jenkins has brought suit against the county for personal injury, placing his claim for damages at $2000.

In stating his complaint Mr. Jenkins alleges as follows: That there is a public road between Oregon City and Salem known as the old stage road or territorial road and that it is a lawful and regularly established county road 60 feet wide.

That the county was guilty of carelessness and neglect in reducing the width of the road and not placing any barrier or rail on the sides, nor in placing a notice informing the traveling public of conditions.

Mr. Jenkins further alleges that on September 27, 1917, at 8 o'clock in the evening, while traveling with Harry West in an auto at the rate of 12 miles an hour, he was injured by the overturning of the auto at the narrow point, in attempting to pass another car.

That the car in which he was traveling was overturned into the gulch and that he sustained a break of the right leg and a compound fracture, a severe injury to his right ankle and that his body and back was generally wrenched and that his nervous system was shattered.

It is also alleged that the plaintiff had made demands on the county court for damages of $2000 in the way of compensation.

Harry West who was in the car at the time of the accident, sued the county in February of 1918 for $1400 and $50 doctor's bills. A change of venue to Clatsop county was granted and he was allowed by a jury damages of a little more than half the amount he asked.

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE INVOLVES 26 PEOPLE

To quiet title to a piece of land, it is sometimes necessary to include in the suit everyone who may have any right, title or claim to the particular piece of land involved. Where there is any doubt as to the title to land, it is customary to bring suit, and require every one with any interest whatever, to appear and make good the claim, or to be forever barred from any right, title or interest.

For instance, Lee Tate owns 21 acres of land in section 10, township 9 south of range 1 west, a few miles southwest of Aumsville. In order to do the thing in a legal manner and include all those who may have any interest in this special 21 acres, he has been obliged to bring suit against the following persons:

Marsha A. Decker, widow; Melvin Dripps and Jane Doe Dripps his wife; Joseph Dripps and Elias Dripps, minors; Minnie Dripps, a widow; James Dripps unmarried; Archie E. Millard, widower; Adolphus Hoff, widower; Fred Hoff and Ida S. Hoff his wife; Earl G. Hoff, unmarried; Orilla Dripps widow; T. Jefferson Dripps, a minor; Lillian Dripps, unmarried; Allen Dripps, a minor; Ray Oppel and George Oppel her husband; Samuel Jenkins, widower; Juliet M. Lord, widow; Joseph Kearns and O. R. Kearns; the unknown heirs of John Greer, deceased; the unknown heirs of Dorcas Dripps, deceased; the unknown heirs of Allen Dripps, deceased. Also all other persons or parties unknown claiming any interest, lien or estate in the land described in the complaint.

4-YEAR OFFICE TERM PETITION NOW READY

The ballot title on the proposed constitutional amendment making the terms of all county officers four years, has been prepared by Attorney General Brown and is now ready to receive signatures in order to be placed before the voters of the state at the regular November, 1920, election. The verified signatures of 9940 registered voters will be necessary in order to secure for the proposed amendment a place on the ballot. The amendment is initiated by Herbert B. Dewart of Portland and R. J. Green of La Grande.

According to the ballot title the amendment proposes "to provide for the election of a county clerk, treasurer, sheriff, coroner and surveyor who shall severally hold their offices for the term of four years instead of two, as now provided by law. Wednesday of this week is October 1 and that means the first day of the great annual pheasant hunting season. Hunting will be good this year, sportsmen say, as there are plenty of birds, all in pretty good condition, although not especially large.

The open season for Chinese pheasants in this part of the valley is from October 1 to October 31. There is no open season in Coos, Curry and Josephine counties. Sporting houses report an unusual interest being taken in the opening of the season this year especially for Chinese pheasant. The bag limit is five in any one day and not to exceed ten in any seven consecutive days, with not more than three female pheasants in any bag of ten.

In this part of the valley the open season for ducks, geese, and other migratory game begins October 16 and closes December 31. Attorney General Brown has given an opinion that in Multnomah, Clatsop, Columbia and Tillamook counties, the season for migratory birds is from October 1 to December 31. The bag limit for ducks, geese and migratory birds is 25 in any one day, and not to exceed 30 in any seven consecutive days.

For hunters, the following information has been compiled giving the open hunting season in district No. 1, comprising all counties west of the Cascade mountains. The dates are inclusive:

RAILROAD MAN GAINS 19 POUNDS. Engelmanna is in Falling Health for a Year—Is Weak and Strong Now. "Yes, sir, I certainly can recommend Tanlac, for it set me right several months ago and I've enjoyed the best of health ever since," said Dominick Engelmanna, a car repairer for the Salt

Lake railroad, living at 3815 South Woodlawn street, Los Angeles, Cal., in a statement at the Owl drug store, recently. "About a year ago," he continued, "I began suffering from indigestion and going down hill rapidly. I could not eat anything but what would bloat me all up with gas and there was the worst kind of a pain in my stomach all the time. I finally got to where about all I dared to eat was malted milk and crackers and even this caused me pain. I was badly constipated, lost weight all the time and got so weak that I could hardly keep up with my work. "You may know there was something radically wrong with me when I fell you I had dropped down in weight from one hundred and fifty eight pounds to one hundred and thirty nine. I just tried everything I could hear of but got no relief until one day I read a Tanlac testimonial that described my case to a T. So I at once got a bottle of this medicine and the third day there was a remarkable change in my feelings. Then, of course, I kept on taking it and after using five bottles I had picked up nineteen pounds and balanced the scales at my old weight, one hundred and fifty eight pounds. That was four months ago and I have been eating just anything I want ever since and have never had the least trouble with my stomach. In fact, I never have an ache or a pain of any kind and am feeling as strong and well as I ever did. I believe Tanlac is the best medicine ever sold in a drug store for any sort of stomach trouble." Tanlac is sold in Salem by Dr. S. C. Stone, in Hubbard by Hubbard Drug Co., in Mt. Angel by Ben Gooch, in Gervais by John Kelly, in Turner by H. P. Cornelius, in Woodburn by Lyman H.
