

SOX ARRIVE IN CLEVELAND FOR OPENING GAME

By Henry L. Farrell
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Chicago's White Sox invaded Redland today. Led by Kid Gleason, the American League champions unloaded themselves in this baseball crazy town shortly after the sun peeped over the Ohio hills this morning. They were bundled into a waiting fleet of taxis and taken to their hotel quarters for a short rest before going to Redland field for a morning workout.

Hundreds of fans waited an hour or more in the station to get their first glimpse of the Chicagoans, who stand in the way of Cincinnati's dream of 50 years—a world's championship team. Small boys flocked around under the feet of Gleason and his aggregation of stars. Many of the youngsters showing the effects of the baseball rabies which has seized the city grabbed perilous perches on the backs of the Sox taxis and rode proudly to the hotel through streets covered with banners and pictures proclaiming the greatness of Pat Moran and his team of champion Red Legs.

All the enthusiasm stored up in the 50 years that Cincinnati has floundered around in baseball darkness, hoping and wishing for a championship team has burst forth here in wild jubilation. The sheer joy of a championship and the winning spirit envelops Cincinnati. Not a fan believes the Reds can lose.

Betting here has been very light. Fans from the Windy City who came on ahead of the American leaguers with large rolls to place on their favorites found their offers of 6 to 5 going begging. The Red backers want a better price. It was the belief that offers of 7 to 5 or 8 to 5 would be made after the start of the series. Red backers in refusing short odds, refer the Chicago backers to the assertion by Kid Gleason that his horse should be 2 to 1 favorite for the series.

Added stands on Redland field have increased the capacity of the park to 30,000, including the provision of stanchion room for several thousand. A crowded yard for the opening game is assured; every ticket has been sold. World series tradition was shattered yesterday when general admission tickets for standing room were sold. With all of the pastboards disposed of, the old familiar sigh of long lines of fans on all night vigil around the gates before the opening game will be a missing feature of this year's series.

The depth of the playing field has been cut down a little to make additional room for spectators, but it has not been sufficient to necessitate ground rules.

Weather always is accorded an important role in matters pertaining to world series, and Pat Moran, as well as every ticket holder, had an eye on weather indications today. Yesterday the mercury went on an October jag and showed itself at the 86 notch on the government official thermometer. A slightly overcast sky today seemed to strengthen a forecast of showers, but the day was warm and there was a good chance that regular mid-summer baseball weather will prevail tomorrow.

SEPTEMBER RAINFALL WELL ABOVE AVERAGE

Although the first half of September started in to break the monthly record for rainfall, after the 12th, the weather man gave it up and now the total for the entire month is 2.42 inches. Up to the 12th of the month, the precipitation was 2.36 inches. Even this is above the general rainfall for the month notwithstanding the belief in Oregon that it rains always on state fair week and the belief down south that it always rains on Emancipation day.

The September precipitation since the year 1911, according to the official records has been as follows:
1911—4.56 inches.
1912—1.42 inches
1913—2.57 inches
1914—4.51 inches
1915—4.1 inch
1916—1.17 inches
1917—1.32 inches
1918—1.7 inch
1919—2.42 inches

Ford Runs Amuck On Street In Siverton; Banker Hurt

While rounding the corner at the intersection of Main and Water streets about 5:30 Tuesday evening, W. H. Egans had a mishap with his Ford car which might have terminated fatally. In rounding the corner the radius rod broke and at the same time the wheels locked and would not straighten. The car made straight for the side of the First National bank. J. W. Hyett and G. W. Hubbs were standing on the curb when the car mounted the curb. Hyett was knocked down and one of the little trees that grace the sidewalk was crowded against the building.—Appeal.

As this special delegation of Shriners will be the largest that has ever visited the city, and as they will be accompanied by the Al Kader Patrol band, special efforts are to be made to get out all Shriners in the city, to not only greet the visitors when the special arrives, but to participate in the parade. All local members as well as the visitors will wear the customary red fez of the Shriner.

The special will stop at 12th street on the Southern Pacific. Led by the Al Kader Patrol band the Shriners will march on State street to Commercial, thence north on Commercial to Cheekets, south on Commercial to Court east on Court to the Court House square where the Patrol will give a short concert. The special train is scheduled for one hour's stop in the city.

To notify Shriners to attend, and to officially receive the visitors Friday at about 12:30 or 1 o'clock, Lot L. Pearce president of the Arabian Knights appointed as committee the following: Hal D. Patton, chairman; Fred A. Erickson, Joseph Adolph, A. L. Fraser, George G. Brown, D. W. Eyre, Lee L. Gilbert, O. P. Hoff, T. B. Kay and adjutant general, Conrad Staffin.

T. Wrightman, chairman; W. H. Leveshen, W. W. Moore, O. A. Olson, Z. J. Egger, George A. Ramp, D. A. Shaver, L. K. Siegmund, George H. Dunsford and W. V. Fuller.

SCHOOL RUSH SWAMPS TEXT BOOK DEALERS

The rush at the Salem School Book company, branch firm of the J. K. Gill company of Portland, on Chemekeka street, continued Tuesday morning, with the staff of able clerks striving to meet all comers in due time. The branch, house is in charge of J. B. Beddingfield, who, himself, labors diligently and pleasantly among the people attending to their needs.

Dissatisfaction has been expressed by patrons at the long time they are required to wait before succeeding in exchanging their books. This can not be helped, according to clerks and Mr. Beddingfield, who claims too many from one family come. They ask, in the interest of the persons desirous of exchanging books, that one from each family get all the books required for that family. This will eliminate more than half of the rush, they say.

Another shipment of books came to the store Tuesday afternoon.

A statement issued by publishers says that the increased school attendance throughout the United States forms a handicap for them in the issuance of enough text books to go around. It has been said that the book firm here has been paying too little for the books taken in exchange. It is pointed out that prices paid for such books are governed by law, and that these figures necessarily are complied with.

OLCOTT AUTHORIZED TO USE STATE TROOPS

Governor Olcott received a telegram from Secretary of War Baker last evening telling how federal troops could be obtained in case they should be needed to protect life and property should domestic disorders occur in Oregon.

Baker says that in case of outbreak on a scale large enough to warrant the use of regular army troops, appeal should be made directly to Major General Liggitt, commander of the western department, and the inference is that soldiers would be supplied at once. The message reads as follows: "In case of necessity for use of federal troops in your state as protection against domestic violence, under article 4, section 4, of the constitution of the United States, you are requested to communicate directly with General Liggitt, commanding the western department, San Francisco, who has full authority to take the necessary action."

GOVERNMENT WAGE IS TOO LOW MEN DECLARE

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Unless the United States Shipping Board revokes its order preventing increased wages on government work, the walkout of all steel shipbuilders on the coast will occur tonight at midnight.

The strike, it is claimed, will affect 50,000 men here and close all the shipyards foundries and metal trades plants of the bay district.

Reports from Los Angeles, Portland, Tacoma and Seattle and other points indicate the strike will be effective everywhere.

Coast metal trades workers had reached an agreement with the employers allowing an eight cent an hour increase in wages effective October 1. The shipping board then stepped in with its order preventing increases until after October 6 when the president's industrial congress meets.

In view of the fact that the congress may be indefinitely postponed because of the president's illness, some action is expected from the shipping board today.
