

LUMBERMEN STILL SUFFER FROM CAR SHORTAGE, REPORT

The car shortage in Western Oregon and Western Washington has not improved in the last week and lumber manufacturers are unable to handle all their rail business. The situation is severe with little substantial relief in immediate prospect.

R. H. Ashton, regional director of the railroad administration has advised the West Coast Lumbermen's Association that the early part of September showed an actual loss in the number of closed and open cars moving into the West Coast territory, but gave assurances that efforts now being made to improve conditions.

As a result of the car shortage some mills are not accepting new orders at all but are continuing their operations with the view of replenishing their stocks which have become abnormally short on account of the continuous heavy demand for lumber.

Despite the unfavorable car situation, the total new business accepted by the mills during the week ended September 29 was 55,801,460 feet, of which 42,000,000 feet was for rail delivery.

The volume of new business offered is increasing every week. Demand is coming from domestic markets in the East and Middle West as well as from the export trade.

As a result of the constantly increasing demand the volume of orders, cut and shipments at west coast mills approximates that at the southern pine mills which always have been the heaviest producers. For the first 37 weeks of the year the west coast mills cut 2,390,151,814 feet compared to 2,618,410,517 feet for southern pine; the shipments in the same period were 2,479,034,808 feet and 2,657,754,822 feet. The west coast and southern pine respectively and the orders 2,522,444,967 feet and 2,589,002,858 feet respectively.

Since the end of the war the Douglas fir mills have been getting a lot of new business from the Atlantic seaboard and other eastern territory. As ships and cars become available this business is sure to increase.

Residents Along North Fourth Street To Meet

The people living on North Fourth street, who are asking for paving from the city council and who are developing a wonderful amount of civic pride, will meet Friday evening of this week to talk matters over and to adopt some kind of by-laws and constitution for the North Salem association.

However, it has been pointed out by a citizen who has just recently did considerable walking on North Fourth that before the people ask much of the city council, it might be a good idea for all to show their pride in improvement by doing a little work individually on the sidewalks. The citizen pointed out that sidewalks are pretty dilapidated on North Fourth street and that property owners have taken but little interest in walking conditions.

This question of each property owner doing some work on sidewalks for the winter will come up at the meeting to be held this week.

COURT RETURN LOTS TO ORIGINAL OWNER

By a decree of Judge George G. Bingham, Jennie Lick is once again the owner in fee simple of lots 22, 23 and 24 of Grubenhorst fruit farms, No. 3. In the suit of Jennie Lick against Cora Rickabaugh and others for title to the three lots, the plaintiff alleged that in 1911 she voluntarily agreed to deed to Cora Rickabaugh for her sole and separate use the three lots in question.

That a real estate broker drew up the deed and she signed it, supposing it conveyed to Cora Rickabaugh and to her children. As Mrs. Rickabaugh was married and divorced, the plaintiff alleged that she intended to give the land only for the support of Mrs. Rickabaugh during her lifetime and not the children.

After hearing of all evidence in the case, the court ordered that the deed given be cancelled and that Jennie Lick be decreed the owner in fee simple and all other parties debarred from any interest therein.

PRIZE PIG CLUB HOGS ARE RAPIDLY BOUGHT

Members of the U. S. National bank pig club who exhibited at the state fair found ready sale for their porkers. Ed Morgan, buyer for Swift & company, bought all the offerings at the fair made by pig club members, paying $14.35 per 100 pounds f. o. b. Salem. On the day the sale was made the Portland price was $17.50 per 100.

The U. S. National bank pig club, which stands as one of the most industrious as well as progressive pig clubs in the country, with 139 members, had on display more than half of the entire state exhibit from pig clubs. Of the 133 exhibits, the U. S. National pig club members furnished 76.

The prizes awarded to members of this club were as follows:

- 1st—Charles Russell, $10 in cash and a silver cup.
- 2nd—Otto Engdahl, cash $10.
- 3rd—Nicholas Brinkley, cash $8.
- 4th—Homer Bray, cash $7.
- 5th—Ternon Coates, cash $5.

Cost Of Service Basis Is Urged In Rate Case Brief

Portland, Or., Sept. 30.—Transportation based on the cost of service is urged in the Columbia basin case brief which has been filed with the interstate commerce commission by Former Governor Oswald West, representing the Inland Empire Shippers' League.

The brief maintains that the shipper's right to have his products carried to market at a reasonable rate is being violated in the Pacific northwest and contends it is up to the commerce commission to stop the violation and end the wrong.

The brief urges recognition of the Columbia river water grade in the grant of a rate which will be lower than that over the mountains to Puget Sound.

A single auto truck load of prunes from the Emery ranch, delivered at the packing plant in Roseburg, Thursday, brought the owner $1000.

'FRISCO STEVEDORES MOB STRIKEBREAKERS

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—(United Press.)—Ugly glances and muttered threats were more frequent along the waterfront today following the first real fight of the stevedores' strike, which occurred at 9:15 last night.

For a few minutes strikers and strike breakers mixed in a ferocious battle. They fled as police arrived, leaving many wounded men on the pavement. These men, too weak to flee, were taken to a hospital and treated for wounds ranging from deep stab wounds to battered faces.

Clubs and knives were used freely. Joseph Henderson, negro strikebreaker, who is accused of wielding a knife, fled from the hospital after receiving treatment and has not been found.

Two stevedores were arrested charged with battery. Added precautions were taken today to prevent trouble.

Five Applications Filed Asking For Water Permits

F. G. Chapin of Grants Pass has filed with the state engineer's office an application for permission to appropriate 12 second-feet of water from Horse creek, a tributary of Jack's creek, for mining purposes. Other applications for water rights have been filed as follows:

E. C. Underwood and August Bowen of Grants Pass, water from Centennial creek for the irrigation of a small tract.

Harold Wilson of Westfall for water from Malheur river for the irrigation of a small tract.

Nettie Blake of Fongollano for the irrigation of a small tract.

Cornucopia Mines company of Cornucopia for the use of water for domestic purposes in connection with their mines.

John Barleycorn Missed, But Not Mourned at Fair

Of all the guests at the fair last week, you were conspicuously absent, John. Many were the eyes (and noses) that strained for a sight (or smell) of you; but, somehow, you didn't manage to make good connections with the big show. Where were you, John Barleycorn?

The police watched for you. Even in Salem you kept from sight of public gaze and taste. It was not like the olden days; you were here then, but not this time!

On the fair grounds agents of the department of justice and our friends from the United States marshal's office in Portland were there to greet you. But no. Only your weaker brother—Augustus Moonshine—was there. And, it might be added, John, that he seemed weaker then in the days of highbinder betting and non-select nickering ponies.

Betting went on just the same, John. Probably it would have been better—more frantic, as newspapers speak of mobs—had you been there to inspire it. Gains were calculated through sober eyes of delight this time; and not through your burnished periscope of drink.

The fair was a success without you, Barleycorn. Even greater and livelier than when you were with us. So, you see, our visitors couldn't have missed you much—your gorging, reckless laughter and careless gait. So take the hint, John, take the hint; and remain forever conspicuously absent from our fields of merriment!

Senator Johnson To Open Speaking Tour In Frisco

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Senator Johnson of California will arrive here late today to speak against the treaty and the league of nations in answer to speeches made here by President Wilson. No comparison of his crowd with the great throng that greeted the president will be possible, because the immense auditorium in which Wilson spoke cannot be obtained by Johnson.

COURT ORDERS 40,000 POUNDS OF HOPS SOLD

The sale of 40,000 pounds of hops, grown on the old Van Dondaique yard, at a figure not less than 35 cents a pound, was authorized Tuesday by an order from the circuit bench. The order was made necessary for the fact that legal litigation over the yard is pending, and, under the law, the receiver of property in such a case, can take no action without consent of the court. The authorization was given to Maybelle Jette, named receiver in the case. The suit, made by the firm of S. & F. Uhlmann, is to recover funds said to have been loaned to Kin Daw, Chinaman, and C. W. A. Jette, operators of the yard.

The order of the court, stipulating a minimum sales figure of 35 cents a pound is interesting when the fact is considered that the average sales price of hops at the present time is 70 cents.

Chinaman Run Down By Auto In Portland Is Near Death

Portland, Or., Sept. 30.—Leong Dan, an aged Chinaman lies in the hospital at the point of death today.

Gatana Buzzelli, 19, his brother Peter, 17, and P. Friede, 18, are in jail being held by the police pending the outcome of the Chinaman's injuries.

It is alleged that Gatana Buzzelli, who was driving an automobile with his brother and Friede as companions, failed to stop to allow passengers to alight from a streetcar, and knocked down and ran over Leong Dan.

Portland Milk Dealers To Raise Prices October 1

Portland, Or., Sept. 30.—Dealers announced today that the price of milk will be advanced one cent per quart to 15 cents for cash and 14 cents on deferred payments October 1.

Producers will advance the price to dealers five cents a hundred pounds the first of the month.

There are approximately $240,000 in outstanding taxes in Douglas county to be collected by October 5.
