

VOLSTEAD SAYS RETAIN DRY LAW DURING STRIKES

Washington, Oct. 1.—(United Press.)—The war time prohibition ban should not be lifted by the president until after the settlement of the steel strike, Representative Volstead, Minnesota, chairman of the house judiciary committee, said today. He asserted that the ban was largely responsible for the small amount of violence in the steel districts.

"What do you suppose would have happened in the big steel districts had liquor been sold with thousands of men idle?" Volstead asked. "The president, I am sure, has taken that matter into consideration before committing himself to any movement looking toward the lifting of the ban. He has the discretion to continue prohibition even after the peace treaty has been ratified and the army demobilized, should the steel situation demand it."

Volstead predicted that complete agreement on the prohibition enforcement legislation will be reported by senate and house conferees before the end of the week. The war time prohibition act provides there shall be no liquor sold until the proclamation of peace and the end of demobilization. President Wilson has indicated there can be no state of peace until the treaty is ratified.

Attorney General Palmer has said that demobilization is complete when the army is down to authorized peace strength. Figures given out yesterday showed the army in still about 50,000 above peace strength.

INCORPORATIONS.

The Portland Labor News Co-operative association, capitalized at $2000 and organized for the purpose of publishing a newspaper in Portland, has filed articles of incorporation with Corporation Commissioner Schulerman. The incorporators are O. A. Westerbeck, H. S. Warren, W. E. Neef, C. W. Hurst, Charles Saunders, Floyd Hyde and A. Miller.

Articles were also filed by the O'Brien-Shald Barbers Supply company, of Portland, capitalized at $25,000. The incorporators are Frank E. O'Brien, Mame C. O'Brien and Gust A. Shold.

NORTHWEST PLANS TO BRING TOURISTS WEST

The third annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest Tourist association will soon be held to prepare for the big automobile season of next summer when traveling conditions will be about 100 per cent better in certain portions of the great northwest. Oregon, Washington and British Columbia have each contributed liberally to the advertising of the northwest as a fine country for automobiles.

The question of making things pleasant for auto tourists will come up this winter before the Commercial club. Mr. Schuneman, who has just returned from the east, reports that many towns are preparing electric and gas kitchens, sheds, shower baths and all sorts of accommodation for this great traveling public.

It is generally conceded that the state fair grounds are just a little too near from the business district to make desirable camping grounds for tourists. It has been suggested that Albert park, formerly used as a children's playground, might make a desirable site as the park is close in and everything that could be desired.

Among those who have taken note of the immense tourist traffic by car each year, and its gradual increase, it is felt that something should be done to provide a most desirable camping ground here, equal to anything in the northwest.

Astoria Paper Published Under New Editors Today

Pendleton, Or., Oct. 1.—Purchase of the Astoria Evening Budget by four Pendleton newspaper men was completed Tuesday, and the first edition will appear under the new management today. The new owners are E. B. Aldrich, L. D. Drake and E. W. Lampkin, all of the East Oregonian Publishing company, and Merle K. Chessman, formerly city editor of the East Oregonian. Aldrich is president of the new corporation and Chessman is editor and manager. Chessman has sold his interest in the William Roesech Bottling Works to Roesech, and will move to Astoria this week.

The first issue of the Barometer, the official publication of the student body of A. A. C., made its appearance Wednesday morning.

The fourth carload of apples this season was shipped by the Eugene Fruit-growers' association Tuesday to London, England.

Angels And Tigers Start Crucial Series In South

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1.—The Angels and Tigers start with a double header today, the "crucialist" of all the "crucial series" of the Pacific Coast league season. If the Tigers can win five out of the seven games they'll get the pennant, for which the Angels now lead.

The series is running the Cincinnati show a close race for public interest here. Last night every box and reserved seat had been sold for today.

Curly Brown and Vic Aldridge are the two pitchers the Angels have chosen for today's games. Fromme and either Dawson or Houck are the Tigers entries.

Round-The-Rim Flyers To Reach Sound Cities Today

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 1.—The rim-trip flyers in the Martin bombing plane, leave Spokane at 11 a. m. today for Seattle.

Lack of high grade gas held up the party yesterday. A stop will be made at Waterville for lunch.

DOCTORS MUST HOLD STANDARD DIPLOMAS

The only diploma requirement for the admission of a physician to the practice of medicine in Oregon is that the medical college from which the diploma is obtained shall be one which requires four terms of instruction of eight months each. This is the interpretation of the state law governing the admittance of physicians from other states into Oregon as given by Attorney General Brown in reply to a request from Dr. Frank W. Wood of Portland, secretary of the board of medical examiners. Dr. Wood is also informed in the same opinion that the medical board has no authority to change the application fees which are fixed by state law.

In an opinion prepared by the attorney general for the guidance of Will H. Bennett, state superintendent of banks, it is held that the Washington Mutual Savings bank of Seattle, an institution without any capital stock, cannot be admitted into the state of Oregon under the state banking laws which do not recognize an uncapitalized institution as a bank.

Speedy ratification of the peace treaty, including the League of Nations, is petitioned for in a set of resolutions adopted by members of the faculty of the University of Oregon.

MARION'S QUOTA FOR ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL TOLD

The work of enlisting funds for the Roosevelt Memorial is in full swing in Marion today. A local branch of the Roosevelt Memorial association, formed at a meeting of prominent citizens Monday night, is bending every effort to raise Marion county's quota of $1,750.

No drive for the funds will be conducted. It is to be raised entirely thru voluntary subscription, and it is expected, that when the people are acquainted with the aims of the association, the quota will be raised speedily. A campaign of education will be conducted in all the schools in the county. Teachers will be asked to convey to their pupils interesting details of the great statesman's life, and impress upon them the need for a fitting memorial to his loyalty to the United States.

The committee that will represent the association in Salem is composed of Dr. Carlton Smith, chairman; Mrs. William Hamilton, Mrs. E. E. Fisher, August Hackett, John Carson, James Linn, Prof. John Todd, Paul B. Wallace and D. W. Eyre will act as treasurer.

Headquarters for the local branch of the association is at Dr. Smith's office.

There will be a sub-committee in every school district in the county. The subscriptions close October 27.

The mill of St. Helens Lumber company has been enlarged, new machinery placed, and in a short time will be running to full capacity.

With the opening of the Smith mill at Marshfield, scheduled for October 10, 350 men will be added to the company's payroll. There are now employed in the nine camps of the company more than 750 men.

As the result of the accidental explosion of his gun, Marvin Alstott of Cottage Grove is suffering from a severe wound in the left leg.
